

Golden Wedding is Celebrated at Manley Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mockenhaupt Observe Anniversary Surrounded by Children and Families

From Friday's Daily
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mockenhaupt, well known and prominent couple of Manley, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday their home and had the pleasure of having all their children and families present at a sumptuous dinner of four courses.

A number of other relatives were also present and the day was one of much pleasure and Mr. and Mrs. Mockenhaupt were showered with many good wishes and hearty congratulations.

The dinner was prepared by their two daughters, Mrs. Roman Maier, of Louisville, and Miss Sue Mockenhaupt, of Chicago, who has been making an extended visit with her parents and family.

The house was attractively decorated in white and gold, vases of white lilies, yellow tea roses and yellow tulips being used.

Father P. Harte, of St. Patrick's church in Manley, preached a sermon Sunday morning, weaving into his talk something of the life of Mr. and Mrs. Mockenhaupt during their pioneer days and they were present at the services.

Mrs. Mockenhaupt was formerly Miss Mary Stander, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stander, of southwest of Louisville. The wedding of this popular young couple took place at her home, Rev. Father Lynch officiating. Her bridesmaid was Louise Erhart, now of California, who could not be present. August Stander was best man. They were married on May 14, 1883.

They spent their married life in this community and were loved and respected by all who knew them. By industry and frugality they prospered and their later years have been spent in comfort in the house they built when they retired from active farm life in 1920.

Mr. Mockenhaupt is 77 years old and his wife is 69. Both enjoy fairly good health, Mrs. Mockenhaupt being much improved in later months.

Their children are Peter and family, of Greenwood; Walter and family, of Manley; Valentine A. and family of Alvo; John and family, of Manley; Mrs. Roman Maier, of Louisville, and Miss Sue, of Chicago. There are eleven grandchildren.

Others present upon this happy occasion were Rev. Father P. Harte, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Stander, of Omaha; August Stander, of Elmwood; Mrs. Catherine Erhart, of Manley; Mr. and Mrs. John Arres and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hite, of Lincoln, and Miss Mamie Maher, also of Manley.—Louisville Courier.

State Land Rents May be Cut Soon

State Land Commissioner Conklin Soon to Reappraise Two Million Acres.

State Land Commissioner Conklin and Deputy Commissioner Wehn are launching into the reappraisal of two million acres of state school lands, an undertaking that usually costs $50,000 to $60,000, with a legislative appropriation of only $10,000. With a great increase in office work necessary to revalue lands there is also a great increase of office labor due to a new law declaring a moratorium on payment of land lease rental to the state, an extension of time until Dec. 31, 1934. Yet the legislature cut the state land commissioner's office maintenance fund from $17,000 to $13,000.

The lease moratorium and the reappraisal were ordered by the legislature primarily to give relief to persons holding state land leases and who are unable to pay and who might otherwise lose their leases.

Every county in the state except Cuming, Dodge, Fillmore, Nance, Thurston and Wayne, contain school lands.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING

At a suitable hour dainty and delicious refreshments were served to add to the enjoyment of all of the members of the party.

GOOD MORNING

At the first break of day In this month the queen of May,
I hear the robin trilling her note
As through the zephyrus it seems to float.

The sun's rays on the wings of the wind,
Brightens the corners that have just been trimmed,
And the dainty white tulip keeps nodding her head,
For the bountiful breakfast that has just been spread.

The bobwhite in the grove and the lark's sweet voice,
Adds to the zest of making a choice
Of hunting blue-bells in the dewey grass,
Or fishing for trout down by the pass.

The oxen are fed and the cows are palled,
And the Dolphin Yacht has not yet sailed,
And the morning beams the streaming afar,
And nothing has happened the day to mar.

This morning is good, there is not a blot
On the face of the sky to change it a lot,
There is good in all things that rightly transpire
If your philosophy can spiritualize your thoughts and desire.

The rain drops fall and bathe the face
Of the rose in the garden that frolics apace,
From the gate on the hinges that stand ajar
While the nectar of the rose is wafted afar.

Good-morning to all, dispells the gloom,
And opens the door where there is plenty of room,
For goodness and mercy to take its place,
Where sentiment lodged instead of grace.

The mocking bird on the branch of the tree,
Sings his sweet chords with reverere,
The branch in the breeze bows him around,
But the birdie has no fear of tumbling down.

Nearly 11,000 in Nebraska 4-H Clubs This Year

"Fix It" Club, Is New Type of Work and Is Attracting Great Interest Over the State.

The enrollment in Nebraska 4-H clubs is near the 11,000 mark. It is expected that the 1932 mark will be surpassed by the latter part of May.

L. I. Frisbie, state club leader at the Nebraska college of agriculture, is quite optimistic over the 1933 club prospects. Enrollment in home economics clubs has been increasing rapidly in recent weeks. Girls now are busy organizing sewing, cooking, girls' room and health organizations. A great interest has also been manifested in "fix-it" clubs, a new type of project for Nebraska.

An actual check on enrollment figures indicated that 10,637 boys and girls are taking up some project work now. Baby beef enrollment is larger than a year ago and Nebraska clubbers are expected to show more calves this fall in expositions than during previous years.

Lancaster county has the most club members to date with 658 boys and girls taking up the work. Douglas county and 458 members ranks second and Otoe county with 373 is third. Other leading counties in the early enrollments include Fillmore, Cass, Buffalo, Holt, Scottsbluff, Madison, Dodge, Frontier, Gage and Hamilton.

FREIGHT BUSINESS IMPROVES

The Burlington railroad has with in the last few weeks showed a decided gain in their car loadings, local representatives state, citing that many additional freight trains are now moving. The result has been that many of the men in the train service who have been laid off, are being able to find work. The trainmen were badly shot in the depression months and only those with a great deal of seniority were able to remain in the service as train after train was discontinued.

With the improving conditions and the movement of much grain and live stock to the large markets, the railroads are having their share of the price gains in hauling the products of the western farms.
