ENJOY PICNIC PARTY

A group of Plattsmouth ladies comprising the "Death a Deck" club, who have in the winter season enjoyed many a delightful time in the fascinations of bridge, on Wednesday evening staged a pleasant picnic party at Omaha. The ladies motored to Omaha where they held the picnic party at Elmwood park. They enjoyed a number of games and contests and in which Mrs. S. J. W. Bell and Mrs. F. R. Gobelmann proved the winners. A fine picnic supper was served in the cool and inviting shade of the park to complete a most pleasant time. Those who attended the picnic were Mesdames F. R. Gobelmann, S. W. Bell, Louis Ward Egenberger, Rea McMaken, Harry Platt, W. G. Kieck, H. C. McMaken, J. B. Livingston, Misses Margaret Scotten, Mathilde Soennichsen, Amelia Martens, Laura Meisinger.

MYNARD COMMUNITY CLUB

The Mynard community club will meet on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. There will be a presentation of "A Womanless Wedding," in which the men of the community will take part. All are invited to be present and have a good time.

George Trunkenbolz and Mrs. Gus Sorman were also guests.

Plenty of Ice Now

With the cold weather there is no need for ice, but a great demand for coal and something with which to keep warm, but when the temperature rises, then the cooling materials are brought to the fore. Just now Greenwood has two ice dealers, W. S. Karns, who was engaged in that line last year, getting his supply from Lincoln, and Will Buck, a new man in the business, who gets his supply from Ashland. Both are hustlers for business and will go out of their way to accommodate you.

Seth Parker Here

Seth Parker, not the Phillip Lord of radio fame, but some one impersonating the pleasant singer, organized a local chorus which gave a very pleasing imitation of the Jonesport folks that provided much enjoyment for those attending as well as bringing in the nickles and dimes for the church.

Masons Install Officers

The Masonic lodge of Greenwood, at their last regular meeting on last Tuesday, following the regular order of business, proceeded to install the officers who had previously been elected, together with the appointive officers named by the new Worshipful Master. The roster of new officers is as follows: C. W. Martz, W. M.; Earnest Feuscher, S. W.; Ira Snyder, J. W.; Ben Howard, secretary; C. D. Fulmer, treasurer; J. E. Lambert, S. D.; E. E. Lesley, J. D.; Elmer Mathis, S. S.; John E. Skeuding, J. S.; Nelson McDowell, Tyler. There was no appointment made for chaplain.

PREDICT DAIRY DICTATOR

Omaha.—Two high officials of the Nebraska-Iowa Co-operative Milk association predicted here Wednesday that federal dictatorship in the dairy marketing field will be approved by farmers from three states at a regional meeting in Des Moines Thursday. They were Otto Pfeiffer and A. N. Heggen, president and manager respectively. All dairy co-operative groups of Nebraska and Iowa and South Dakota have been invited to send their executive boards to the Des Moines meeting where articles of incorporation will be presented and officers elected for the regional producers group, Midwest Co-operative dairies. The executive board of the Lincoln Co-operative Milk association is expected to attend. Under the plan there would be three dovetailing organizations: Federal Milk Control board; Regional Distributors and Producers groups. The most drastic step is expected to be the federal licensing of milk distributors.

HOLD FINE MEETING

The Social Workers Flower club met at the home of Mrs. George Mumm on Thursday afternoon.

The spacious lawn was prepared with seats where all enjoyed the meeting. The ladies were entertained at a very delightful program.

Remove Danger of Any Collapse of Conference

Americans Win Out in Setting Aside Stabilization Dispute—Tariff Question Next Up.

London.—Efforts of the world economic conference to improve the status of peoples of the world were said by important leaders to have been saved from collapse by clarification of the American plans regarding the dollar thru an official statement announcing that currency stabilization cannot be realized at present. At the same time James M. Cox and James P. Warburg, of the American group, succeeded in convincing the French and their allies of the European gold bloc that this policy would not lead to an orgy of currency inflation.

Expressing satisfaction with this assurance, Georges Bonnet, French finance minister and spokesman for the gold standard countries, agreed to the indefinite postponement of the problem of fixing the relative value of the dollar and the pound sterling. While representatives of the gold bloc could not conceal their disappointment that fluctuations of the American and British currencies were not to be definitely limited by an immediate agreement, their talk of adjourning the conference quickly subsided. The French, indeed, said that the American statement was a welcome contribution to clarifying the monetary situation.

British officials, who had been more sympathetic with the American position from the beginning, also anxious to see stabilizing proposals put under the dollar, said the American declaration was "reasonable."

Stabilization Set Aside. Discussions of the contentious issue of stabilization appeared therefore to have been barred temporarily from conference discussions as a result of the dramatic meeting between Mr. Cox and Mr. Warburg with M. Bonnet, and the skillful maneuvering of the conference chairman, Prime Minister MacDonald.

Commissions and committees turned their attention at once to other problems on which they hope to make immediate progress, namely conditions of a permanent monetary standard, reduction of trade barriers, discriminatory restrictions on imports, international indebtedness and control of production.

Having clarified the American stand on stabilization, Cordell Hull, secretary of state, tossed in the resolution calling for reduction of customs duties and excessive barriers to international trade.

TRY AT ABDUCTION FAILS

St. Paul.—Police were told that an attempt was made to kidnap a child from the home of Mrs. George Carter of St. Paul. The intended victim apparently was one of Mrs. Carter's grandchildren, Robert Carter, 9, and John Carter, 6. A maid at the home said she saw a man cutting away a screen and attempting to climb thru a window. She screamed and the man fled.

MUST WIPE OUT RACKETEER

Washington.—Attorney General Cummings said a steady but undramatic campaign against racketeers would be maintained by the justice department. He called the slaying of a justice department agent and four other officers at Kansas City last week a challenge to American civilization. "We've got to win this war," he said.

Priority Granted to Public Works Ready to Start

Cabinet Board Gives Its Policy on New Projects—Will Increase Employment.

Washington, June 22.—A broad beamed policy aimed at spreading work as quickly as possible was set forth today by President Roosevelt's cabinet board in charge of public works.

In its third long afternoon conference, the cabinet board headed by Secretary Ickes discussed ways of pushing out over the country the $3,200,000,000 construction fund and set forth basic requisites that projects must have in order to be considered.

Priority was asked for projects on which work can be started at once and completed with reasonable speed over those that would be spread over a relatively long period.

"Socially Desirable."

Next it ranked: Projects in or near centers of unemployment as more desirable than ones "in areas where the problem of unemployment is less acute."

Projects "which are integrated with other projects into a significant plan is against those which "are isolated and unrelated."

Two prime requisites written by the board were:

"The project should be socially desirable in the sense of contributing something of value to the equipment of the community and should not be a mere makeshift to supply work."

Want Work Quickly. "No work should be constructed which would require for its maintenance or operation an additional outlay by the federal government."

Coupled with this declaration of building policy was a labor program designed to get as many to work as possible, with the proviso that all contracts must meet the requirements of the national industrial recovery law for short working hours and fair wage scales.

To states, cities and counties eager to share in the work billions, the board said:

"Application for federal financing or other aid for proposed projects should not be rushed to Washington. They should be withheld until an organization is in existence and functioning which can handle them in an orderly and effective manner."

Avoid Capital Jam.

To prevent a "hopeless jam" in Washington, the board said there must be wide decentralization, which it proposed to bring about by state administrators to recommend to Washington all nonfederal projects. Units will be set up in Washington to consider the state projects. All projects and expenditures will be passed upon by the cabinet board, subject to the approval of President Roosevelt.

State administrators' names, the board expects to have ready for submission to the chief executive upon his return to the capital.—World-Herald.

IRRIGATORS RESENT DELAY

Kearney, Neb.—Irrigators in the central Platte valley, from Grand Island west to North Platte, are expressing resentment over delays in promotion of the Sutherland reservoir proposal.

In North Platte, proponents of the project said more than 700 laborers have signed petitions, addressed to Governor Bryan, urging his intervention to insure speedy action on the application for federal aid.

Similar action, they said, is being taken in other sections of the valley. The irrigators fear, Sutherland backers say, that the project is being involved in an entanglement with others of a similar nature, in the making or contemplated.

CALLED BACK TO WORK

Everett Noble, formerly engaged as a switchman for the Burlington here, who has been in the "pool" during the shrinkage of railroad work, has received the call to go back to work. Mr. Noble will resume his activities at the Omaha yards of the Burlington.

The renewed activity of the railroads is reflected in all lines of their operations and the increasing traffic has made necessary the placing back in service of a switch engine at Pacific Junction, where the freight trains passing through that point has made the additional engine necessary.
