CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Friday was the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kaufmann, and in honor of the happy occasion Mr. and Mrs. Mike Duda entertained a large group of the friends.
The wedding of Miss Julia Wurga and Henry Kaufmann occurred on June 30, 1908, at Council Bluffs, Iowa, where they were married by the Rev. Henry DeLong, who held the record of marriage services in the middlewest.
Since their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Kaufmann have made their home here and it was a pleasure for the many friends to join in this happy anniversary.
The evening was spent in dancing to the music of Louie Kostka and this proved a most popular diversion while others of the party spent the evening in visiting and a general good time.
In honor of the event Mr. and Mrs. Kaufmann received a number of handsome and attractive presents to remind them of the happy anniversary that they have passed.
At the close of the evening a luncheon was served by Mrs. Duda to add to the pleasures of the occasion and to bring to the close a very happy event.
A number of guests were present from Wymore, Omaha and Lincoln to join in the event.

SUFFERS BROKEN WRIST

Kenneth Wohlfarth, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wohlfarth, is suffering from the effects of a double fracture of the left wrist sustained on Wednesday when he fell from a tree while playing. The young man has stood the ordeal in fine shape and is now carrying on his usual activities despite the bandaged arm. He is busy making boat models at his home and shows the real spirit in carrying on the work with one hand.

From Friday's Daily
Attorney Lloyd E. Peterson of Nebraska City was here today to look after some business affairs in the county court and meeting his many friends here.

Alvo News

Ellis Mickel was shelling and delivering corn to the Rehmeier elevator on Wednesday of last week.
Harry Sloan, of Egra, Kansas, an operator of the Rock Island, has been sent here as the operator for the office at Alvo.

Mr. and Mrs. George Braun, of South Bend, were visiting for the day last Wednesday at the home of the parents of Mrs. Braun, Mr. and Mrs. William Yeager.

L. M. Scott is still employed with the Rock Island and is working as extra man at the Albright office, at which place his services are giving excellent satisfaction.

Chris Eikerman was a visitor in Ashland on last Wednesday morning, where he was called to look after some business matters. He reports a good rain there on last Tuesday night.

Lloyd Fifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fifer, went over to Ft. Crook, to take the examination and tests for admission to the reforestation service. He will make an excellent man for the work.

Word was received by Mrs. Eugene Barkhurst, telling of her sister, Mrs. Mary Anderson, of Kimball, Neb., having suffered a stroke of paralysis. She is slowly recovering from the effects of the stroke.

Turner McKinnon was called to Lincoln on last Wednesday morning to look after some business matters and reports that while it rained very heavy in Cass county, Lincoln did not get any rain to speak of.

The approach of the harvest season has brought a lot of added business to the Alvo Hardware and Implement company, who have been kept busy procuring supplies and repairs for their customers.

Mrs. Lizzie Lewis, living northeast of Alvo, suffered the loss of nearly 150 young chickens, some of them almost old enough for fries, when they were caught in the sudden and severe storm last Tuesday afternoon.

William Yeager, who has been kept to his bed for some time on account of serious illness, is reported as being slightly improved at this time. Every effort is being put forth to the end that he may recover rapidly and be able to be up and about again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rueter and the family were over to Murdock last Wednesday afternoon, where they were attending the wedding of Miss Esther Haertel and Mr. Carl Meyerjurgan. The young couple will drive to the west coast on their wedding trip.

The vicinity of Alvo was blessed with a bountiful rain on Tuesday of last week, which was accompanied by some wind and hail. Some damage was done by the hail. The rain extended only as far west as the county line, but there was plenty of it in Cass county.

W. H. Warner and nephew, Roy, of Lincoln, drove over to Plattsmouth last Wednesday night, where they spent the time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Warner, going especially to see Mr. Warner, who has been very ill at his home there.

There was joy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted McCartney when there was delivered at their home by that old good natured bird, the stork, a very fine young man tipping the beam at eleven pounds. The mother and son are getting along nicely and Ted is wearing a smile that won't rub off.

Mr. and Mrs. John Banning and a sister of Mrs. Banning, Miss Marie O'Donnell, who is staying with the Bannings, were over to Omaha last Monday, where they were attending the show put on at the Ak-Sar-Bend, it being southeastern Nebraska night and a large number of Cass county folks were present to enjoy the show.

B. L. Appelman suffered the loss of a very fine cow Tuesday and on the same day Dan Rueter lost one of his best horses. The animal became sick as he was driving along the road, and although they stopped immediately and unhitched the ailing horse, it was dead within a few moments and before they were able to get it entirely unharnessed.

Simon Rehmeier had an experience when the rain came Tuesday, as he had a large number of young chickens that did not know enough to get in out of the rain, and so Simon and his wife had to go out and round them up. They got wet, as did also the chicks, and when they had gotten them all in they had the bathroom well filled.

Miss Ruth Breehm, of Syracuse, was over to give the High school band their regular weekly period of instruction. The band is furnishing the free concerts which are being put on by the business men of Alvo and all the members are taking interest in the work and striving to perfect themselves along this line. Their concerts are enjoyed by all.

Operator Davis has accepted a position with a grain firm in Omaha, where he is using his knowledge of telegraphy, and is well pleased with the work. Being a capable operator, he is expecting soon to be asked to take charge of an office in some town out of Omaha. At present he is able to do the work and reside at home, as he can easily drive over to Omaha in the morning before the opening of the grain trade and return home after the closing of the markets in the afternoon.

Building Fine Chicken House

Dan Reuter, believing in giving the chickens a fair show to pay their own way and to make the keeping of a flock of domestic fowls a real business proposition, is having a new chicken house built, 24x40 feet in size. The building is being provided with an abundance of windows so that even on cloudy days there will be plenty of light.

Violent Death of the Widow of Slain Gangster

Mrs. Jack Diamond Found Shot to Death in Her Brooklyn Apartment.

New York.—The widow of the notorious Jack Diamond was found shot to death in her Brooklyn apartment Friday night, a year and a half after her gangster husband was slain in an Albany hotel. The body of the 30-year old woman, whose maiden name was Alice K. Schiffer, was discovered on the living room floor by Charles Hunter, superintendent of the building, to whom neighbors expressed the belief something was wrong. The medical examiner found a bullet wound in her right temple and determined she had been dead since early Wednesday.

Mrs. Diamond's dress was torn up the back and chairs in the living room were overturned. On a table in the kitchenette were three coffee cups, leading police to believe two persons were with her at the time of the shooting. Two or three bullet holes were found in the walls of the apartment, which is in a substantial residential district. Questioning of other occupants of the building by police failed to bring out any information about the shots or a quarrel that officers said apparently preceded the shooting.

Neighbors said the last they had seen of Mrs. Diamond was Tuesday night, when she was out playing bridge with friends. She left the party, they said, a few minutes after midnight. Mrs. Diamond, who occupied the apartment under the name of Alice Nenny, had lived alone there since last August. Her name seldom had been connected with her husband's gang activities. Diamond was more frequently accompanied in public by Marian Kiki Roberts, a show-girl.

Diamond was shot to death Dec. 18, 1931, in an Albany hotel during the waning hours of a party celebrating his acquittal the night before on a kidnaping charge. Mrs. Diamond went to Albany, returned to New York with the body, arranged the funeral and then vanished again from the public eye.

OLD TIMER HERE

George L. Berger, one of the Nebraska pioneers, was in the city today for a short visit at the court house, coming over from near Murdock where he has been visiting with a daughter. Mr. Berger has been making his home at Orange, California, for the past several years but is now back in the old home where for so many years he was a prominent resident. He is making his headquarters at Elmwood and with visits at Omaha and other points where members of his family reside. Mr. Berger states that he will be 85 in September and for his age is very active and takes a keen interest in the affairs of the world.

TO GO TO WASHINGTON

From Friday's Daily
Rev. O. G. Wichmann, pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical church, has just returned home from Denver, accompanying his daughter, Miss Theodora Wichmann, from that city. Rev. Wichmann made the trip to Denver by bus and drove back with the daughter in her car. Miss Wichmann, with her sister, Miss Eva, and their aunt, Mrs. Martha Zimmerman, are to leave soon for Washington, D. C., where they will visit with Mrs. A. N. Day, a daughter of Rev. Wichmann for a short time. They will make the trip by auto.

Damage was reported from hail on last Tuesday on the farms of Albert Straich, August Hempke, Dan Schlaphoff and John J. Gustin.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. August Kupke was made happy on last Sunday by the arrival of a boy who came to reside with this excellent couple.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scheel were in Plattsmouth last Tuesday, where they were called to look after some business, they driving over in their car.

Mrs. Watson Long, of west of Mynard, was a visitor for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Long, Mrs. Long being an aunt of Mr. Long.

Miss Eleanor Hartung, of Kansas City, arrived in Murdock last Friday and will visit for the summer at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Neitzel.

Messrs. William Mann and Martin Sjogren, both of Louisville, were visiting with friends in Murdock on last Wednesday afternoon, they driving over from the cement city in their car.

O. J. Hitchcock and the family, of Havelock, were callers last Saturday night, they coming to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Neitzel and were also enjoying supper at this hospitable home.

George L. Berger, of Santa Ana, California, was a visitor in Murdock for the greater part of last week and on Friday, with Guy Clements, went to Plattsmouth to look after some matters of business at the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Craig were guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Friend, at Alvo, where they were celebrating the passing of the birthday of Mrs. Craig on last Sunday and where all enjoyed a very fine time. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Skinner, Lloyd Fifer and wife and Donald Sheldon.

Visited Father Here

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conley, of Sacramento, California, who have been visiting the World's Fair in Chicago, on their return stopped in Murdock to visit with the father of Mrs. Conley, A. C. Depned. A most enjoyable visit was had by the father and daughter.

The Storm of Tuesday

For some time nearly everybody has been wishing that it might rain, and so with the multitude of wishes came an abundance of rain, for in some instances there was as much as six and some even claimed eight inches of rain. At the home of Fred Stock, Sr., there was a water tank in the yard that was empty before it started to rain and when the rain was over the tank had six and a half inches of water in it. In some instances hail cut the corn quite badly. Two bridges were washed out near Murdock and traffic was interfered with considerably on these roads.

Suffers Fractured Rib

While Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schmidt accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Winkler and little daughter were driving in Lincoln, a parked auto obscured the stop sign and the car driven by Mrs. Winkler ran into a restricted intersection at 33rd and A streets with the result that all in the Winkler car were more or less injured. The cars were very badly damaged, they running through a fence into a potato patch. Mrs. H. R. Schmidt had a rib fractured and was taken to a hospital, but later sent home to Murdock, where she is getting along nicely.

Cross Breeding of Poultry is Advocated

Kansas Says That It Improves the Eggs, Their Hatchability, and Growth.

Experimental work at the Kansas State college shows that cross-breeding of poultry develops an improvement in hatchability, chick mortality, rate of growth and egg production. Prof. D. C. Warren of that institution told Nebraska people gathered at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture for their thirteenth annual poultry field day.

"Crossbred or hybrid poultry will appeal exclusively to the poultrymen whose only source of income from poultry is meat and eggs," Warren declared. "It will not fit well into the program of a poultryman who derives income from the breeding stock and hatching eggs. Cross breeding has special advantages for the production of broilers.

"It has been for several years known among animal breeders that vigor and sturdiness are obtained from the crossing of distantly related forms. The mule is the best known example of this practice.

"In England the crossbreeding of poultry has been practiced on a large scale for many years. Some poultrymen have the impression that the production of hybrids is only a reversion to mongrel breeding but the hybrid is the result of as definite a system of breeding as the purebred. Recent experimental work has indicated the best crossbreds will be obtained only from good purebreds."

From Saturday's Daily

Bert Philpot of Weeping Water, was in the city for a short time today looking after some matters of business and visiting with his many friends for a few hours.

Report Com-promise Plan of Boosting Wages

Textile Group Said to Favor Keeping 40-Hour Week—Some Opposition is Voiced.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—A basis of agreement between manufacturers and labor for inclusion in the textile industry's code of fair competition was being sought tonight by the national recovery administration. With the first hearing under the attempt of the government to regulate labor conditions virtually at an end, reports circulated freely of hidden moves to compromise and put the code into effect speedily.

The hearing ran out of witnesses this afternoon after two and one-half days and recessed until tomorrow.

Hits Control Clause

Spokesmen for both labor and the employers said no formal negotiations were under way, but the possibility of a compromise that might raise the minimum wage somewhat to meet the objections of labor but keep the 40-hour work week proposed by the operators was being discussed informally.

The code as now drafted provides a $10 a week minimum in the south for the 40-hour week and $11 in the north.

Flint Garrison, speaking for the wholesale dry goods institute, which he said represented 80 per cent of this business, asked for elimination of the clause providing for adjustments of contracts if increased costs result from the code.

Opposes 40-Hour Week

Miss Lucy R. Mason, general secretary of the National Consumers' league, asserted the minimum wages proposed were too low and said they "would merely result in removing the cotton textile industry from the regulations of the antitrust laws."

John L. Barry, representing the New Hampshire Federation of Labor, contended that the proposed 40-hour week would not greatly restore employment in that state.—World-Herald.

FINE PICNIC PARTY

From Saturday's Daily
Last evening several members of the Presbyterian church motored out to Bellevue, taking with them a most tempting picnic supper.

This event is most enjoyable, for the young peoples' conference is now in session and is attended by five of the young people of the local church, Floyd Shanholtz, Eleanor Olson, and Helen Wurga, all of whom have attended before, and Helen Gilmore and Eleanor Smetana, who are attending for the first time this year.

All these young people were found enjoying the conference to the fullest. There is a larger attendance this year than ever before at the conference.

Those enjoying this visit to Bellevue were: Dr. and Mrs. H. G. McClusky, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rawls, Anna Margaret McCarty, Ruth Wurga, Margaret Taylor Adelia Day, and Wilhelmina Henrichsen.
