

National League Leaders Battle in Twin Bill

Wildcats and Presbyterians Pulled from Position for a Six Team Tie—Legion Wins.

Last evening three of the teams in the National kittenball league which had been undefeated in the circuit, met at the Athletic park and as the result of the Wildcats are tame kittens and the Presbyterians have slipped into the .500 class with the Cats. The American Legion team retained their standing by winning their second straight game. The scores were BREX 9, Wildcats 2; Legion 17, Presbyterians 10.

The opener was between the American Legion and the Presbyterians and was featured by the hitting of the Legion and their costly errors that allowed many of the Presbyterian runs to be accumulated. In the playing the fielding of Howard Fullerton and Dr. Westover were features, as well as the hitting of Jackson, the fighting Missourian, for the Legion while Fritz Nolting of the Presbyterians was one of the bright spots.

The scoring of the teams opened in the first when the Legion, first at bat secured six runs and the Presbyterians in their half of the inning added four for their total. The Legion added another in the second to hold their opponents and in the third both teams added one for an 8 to 5 advantage for the veterans. In the fifth the Legion started a batting rally, which with two errors resulted in four more runs being added and in turn they held the Presbyterians scoreless. In the last of the sixth the churchmen staged a rally that netted them five runs and whittled down the lead of the Legion. The Legion, however, added to their lead in the seventh while they retired their opponents in one, two, three order. The box score:

BREX Wins Game

The second contest was the exhibition of some real ball playing on the part of the BREX and the Wildcats barring one inning, also played heads up ball but were unable to hit Hall successfully. Rummel of the Cats was the only member of his team to hit consistently and also made the two tallies of the 9 to 2 contest. The veterans of the BREX played some real ball that earned them the victory.

The game was scoreless until the third inning when Rummel hit and scored on the blow of Taylor. The BREX in the fourth scored four runs on a hit and three errors as the youthful players tossed the ball around the diamond. The railroad workers took three more in the fifth and then the contest again settled to a real ball game with both sides working well. The Wildcats scored their last run in the sixth when Rummel hit safely, was advanced by Armstrong and scored on the hit of Timm.

Italian Armada of 25 Seaplanes Off for Chicago

100 Fliers Aboard as Weather Ahead is Reported Good—Balbo First to Take to the Air.

Orbetello, Italy, July 1.—Twenty-five powerful seaplanes roared away from Orbetello at 5:45 a. m. (11:43 p. m., eastern standard time) today, carrying Air Minister Italo Balbo and one hundred of his crack fascist fliers on the first leg of a 6,100-mile cruise to Chicago, where they will visit the Century of Progress.

The powerful twin-cabined, bi-motored planes took off in rapid succession from the lagoon fronting the high seas navigation school.

General Balbo and his group of three planes was first in the air. The remainder then took off in groups of three.

After leaving the lagoon here and gaining altitude, the planes dropped into formation in the air and swooped away to the northwest toward Amsterdam, their first objective.

Balbo maneuvered his own group of three planes to the south side of the lagoon, waited until the three ships of General Aldo Pellegrini, commander of the navigation school, followed in a similar position and then took off. The whole village was at the waterfront watching the take-off.

The Itinerary

The weather was reported good over the whole route via the Alps to Amsterdam, scheduled as the first stop. A crowd gathered on the promontory to witness the departure.

Only an overnight stop is planned at Amsterdam. Tomorrow morning, if everything goes well, the squadron will continue to Londonderry, North Ireland—a distance of 650 miles.

The rest of the route is as follows:

- Londonderry to Reyjavik, Iceland—930 miles.
- Reyjavik to Cartwright on Sandwich bay, Labrador—1,500 miles.
- Cartwright to Shediac, 800 miles.
- Shediac to Montreal—500 miles.
- Montreal to Chicago—870 miles.

Balbo in Command

Balbo announced shortly before the takeoff that he would maintain command of the whole group by wireless signal contacts with each flight officer.

Heading up the coast to Genoa, Balbo then expected to slightly increase the motor speeds and climb gradually in order not to strain the heavily laden planes until they reach the necessary 12 thousand feet to pass over the Alps.

Veterans of the South American flight were in command of most of the ships.

Roosevelt Tells Advantages from Unarmed Border

Given a "Wonderful Reception," He Tells Canadians—Davis to Return to Geneva Soon.

Campobello Island, N. B., June 29.—President Roosevelt stepped on Canadian shores at the end of his vacation sail late today and pointed to the relations between Canada and the United States as an example to the Geneva arms conference of the unfortified border.

Welcomed by a marine parade, a presidential salute from the cruiser Indianapolis and a cheering crowd of old friends at his boyhood playground, Mr. Roosevelt stopped at the yacht club to speak a few words, before proceeding to his home.

"I was thinking as I came along," he said, "that this wonderful reception is one of the finest examples of permanent friendship between nations that we could possibly have."

Leaves Amberjack

"I am glad I had with me the chairman of the American delegation to the Geneva arms conference, Mr. Norman H. Davis. Now he can go back and tell them over there that he had seen with his own eyes what a border without fortifications means between two great nations."

President Roosevelt darted into Campobello, directly across the bay from Eastport, and there left the sea going Amberjack II for the first time since he boarded her 12 days ago at Marion, Mass. Driven to the Campobello yacht club, the president, joined here by Mrs. Roosevelt, stopped to shake hands with old friends and then, after receiving a welcoming speech from John F. Calder, president of the Board of Trade, he replied briefly.

Davis to Geneva

Davis who departed tonight for Boston, said he was returning as planned to Geneva although word from there today said the conference has been postponed until October. Committee work will proceed meanwhile, and he wants to be on hand.

It was at the family summer place 12 years ago that Mr. Roosevelt was stricken with an attack of infantile paralysis. On his first visit since then, he came back triumphantly as president of the United States.

"I am thankful for all this kindness from the government," Mr. Roosevelt said in his address. "And especially for a telegram from the governor general of Canada.

"I am confident if peace continues and if the other nations follow the example of the United States and Canada, I can come back here again during the next few years."

Asked by newspaper men about reports from London of a new crisis on the question of currency stabilization, the president said he had not heard about it.—World-Herald.
