Army Engineers on an Inspection Trip Down River

Party Reaches Sioux City Today and Will Inspect Work Along the Missouri River, South.

From Thursday's Daily
The cities situated along the Missouri river from Sioux City south, are much interested in the arrival today at Sioux City of a party of United States army engineers who will inspect the river to the south.

There has been a great deal of surveying and preliminary work along the river from Atchison north to the Iowa city and this will be looked over by the army men and who will inspect the retards and riprap work that has been placed at a number of places to try and divert the Missouri river into a permanent channel that will be sufficient to allow of navigation by boats and barges.

One of the important pieces of the river work is northwest of this city near the mouth of the Platte where engineers were engaged for some time near what was old St. Mary's, a settlement on the Iowa side of the river.

Whether the engineers will make a stop here of any duration is not known as there has been no definite arrangements made with any of the cities along the river to be visited by the engineering party.

H. C. Ross, well known farmer of the vicinity of Union, was in the city Friday and while here was a caller at the Journal office where he renewed his subscription to the semi-weekly edition of the paper.

ESCAPED INDIAN CAPTURED

Pender, Neb.—Earl Bear, Winnebago Indian who escaped from the county jail by crawling up the courthouse chimney, was captured Wednesday afternoon and told a story of hiding in the courthouse within a few feet of searchers until heat drove him away.

He was arrested between Thurston and Winnebago but said while the sheriff and deputies were scouring the countryside near here Tuesday noon by airplane and automobile he had come from his hiding place in the courthouse and walked calmly out of town, disappearing in the cornfields north of here.

Bear said he was on the courthouse roof when his escape was discovered and he got into the attic of the building where he hid between an old board floor and the tin roof of the second story. Searchers walked over the boards which covered him but he remained there until noon Tuesday when the intense heat drove him into the open air.

Bear was sentenced last week to a three year penitentiary term for breaking and entering a garage at Winnebago. He recently was released from the state reformatory.

IOWA PEOPLE WEDDED

From Thursday's Daily
This afternoon at the residence of Rev. O. G. Wichmann of the St. Paul's church occurred the marriage of Thomas J. Rule and Miss Anna Campbell, both of Arion, Iowa. The young people had motored to this city and immediately after the ceremony departed for their home.

WILL UNDERGO OPERATION

From Thursday's Daily
David Wallengren departed this afternoon for Omaha where he will enter the Clarkson hospital for an operation. Mr. Wallengren will have two very serious operations, one expecting to be held on Saturday and one Monday. Mr. Wallengren has not been well of late and on the advice of his medical attendants will have the operation performed.

FORETOLD DISASTER

The following is a copy of a paragraph in a letter written by a Lincoln business man to John M. Leyda, on Nov. 14, 1914:

"We are certain to feel the effects of this European war in many ways to our disadvantage as a nation, even if we are not directly entangled. I hope for no direct mix-up.
"Europe will be in no shape to finance this country for many years, in fact may need help to finance herself, to rebuild the war's destruction."

It would seem that the writer of the letter was somewhat prophetic. Very few people could see the effect on the future.

Miss Marie Boyd, former teacher in the Plattsburgh schools, was in the city Friday to enjoy a visit here as the guest of Mrs. John B. Livingston and other of the old time friends and acquaintances.

"See it before you Buy it" is a good slogan to observe.

Bryan's Relief Plan Approved; Name Director

Randall Biart of Bellevue Is Appointed Named State Director—F. D. Throop on Committee.

Governor Bryan Wednesday night announced that his plans for the state relief work with federal funds had been approved at Washington. "Two more members added to the state committee," Randall Biart of Bellevue named state relief director, and Ferris Laune of the Weiboldt foundation, Chicago, assistant, and plans to speed the first $150,000 into relief channels will now move forward.

The new members added to the relief committee which will have charge of disbursing the funds which may total $750,000 this year in Nebraska were Dr. F. W. Heagerty of Omaha, and F. D. Throop, Lincoln. Five had been named previously.

The appointment of Biart as state relief director and Laune as assistant, Bryan said, was subject to their approval of salaries to be fixed by the state board. Biart is welfare worker for Sarpy county and also has been active in American Legion community work. Laune is a former Nebraskan.

Bryan said the state committee with its enlarged membership would be called together by the chairman, State Tax Commissioner Smith, as soon as formal reports on county needs were on hand. Smith said only six or eight had been received thus far and that it would be futile to call the committee until a better idea of state needs is available.

Conference Thursday

Relief of South Sioux City's emergency situation, however, was scheduled to go ahead without delay with the appointment of a committee composed of the mayor, chairman of the county board and J. S. Bacon, banker, to supervise handling funds there. Smith will make arrangements with them for immediate relief. Bryan having been authorized by Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins to spend up to $2,000 there at once.

Smith indicated Wednesday night, however, that all of the $2,000 probably would not be given them at once. Smith, after a telephone conversation with Mayor Skidmore of South Sioux City, announced the committee from that city would come here Thursday to confer with Smith on plans for handling the relief situation there.

Completion of the county organization to handle the direct relief problem in each county subject to supervision of the state committee and state director will be the next big task for the state committee. Besides Smith and the two new members, the other members of the state committee are A. F. Buechler, Grand Island; Gene Huse, Norfolk; Harland Mossman, Omaha, and Dr. C. P. Fall, Beatrice.

HERE FROM ELMWOOD

From Thursday's Daily
Emil Halke, well known resident of Elmwood, was in the city for a short time today, en route home from Omaha where he had been to deliver stock. Mr. Halke reports a slight shower in his community this morning and that the rains of the past two weeks have brought the crops out in fine shape and the corn is now looking fine. While here Mr. Halke was a caller at the Journal office.

W. F. M. S. MEETING

The Womens Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church met with Miss Margaret Mapes. The president, Miss DeHart, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. E. H. Wescott gave the lesson subject "Interracial Attitudes."
Emphasis was laid on the importance of evangelism not only in foreign fields but in the United States. "If Christianity is to win it must regain its dynamic missionary zeal."
A discussion of the progress made in India and China and the power of Christianity versus Communism thruout the world, followed the lesson.

TILLEY NAMED AS AGENT

A. C. Tilley of the state highway department was designated by Governor Bryan Thursday to confer with

Kansas officials on truck license reciprocity. No time has been set for the conference, Bryan said, but it probably will be in a few days. Meanwhile he made public a telegram from Governor Landon of Kansas which said:
"Kansas has not abrogated any reciprocity agreement. Under our laws foreign trucks operating regularly in the state ten consecutive days must have tags. The farmer hauling his own products will not be molested."
