Hopkins Pitches Game and Newman and Svoboda Feature—Many in Attendance.

The South Side Merchants of Omaha was added to the list of teams that have been taken by the Red Sox, the locals winning by the score of 8 to 4, before a large audience of the fans Sunday.

The game was the first that Hopkins has appeared in this year and the veteran Red Sox hurler was effective throughout, especially in the last part of the game when he retired some six of the opposing batters on strikeouts. Newman at short was also one of the features of the Plattsmouth team, his hitting scoring a number of runs. Svoboda was also effective at bat with three hits out of as many trips to the plate.

The Red Sox opened the scoring in the first when they annexed two runs, while the visitors scored three runs in the opening of the third but this lead was soon swept away when the Sox added four more. The visitors made their last score in the fifth when a combination of errors resulted in the scoring.

Alex Schlicke, fast and efficient third sacker, electrified the crowd in the eighth inning when he hit to deep left for a home run.

Work on Local Rifle Range to Start Soon

Members of Civilian Conservation Corps Will Be Engaged in Clearing Out Wooded Area.

This immediate community is to have a part of the work program of the Civilian Conservation corps, stationed at Fort Crook, reports from the fort state.

It is the plan to have the U. S. rifle range grounds north of this city cleaned up and placed in first class shape by the use of the civilian workers and which should occupy them several weeks.

A part of the range grounds is in wooded areas and there is large amounts of wood that have accumulated from fallen trees and decayed trees that will make a large supply of wood and also much brush that can be cut away to make the grounds much more presentable.

With the appropriations for the Fort Crook improvements there are many changes and improvements that can be made at the range and which will make it a great deal more comfortable for the troops that are stationed there in the summer months to shoot and also furnishing a source of activity for the civilians who are still stationed at the fort.

TRUCK CRASHES POLE

Monday night shortly before midnight one of the Wade automobile transport trucks crashed into a telephone pole near the intersection of Seventh and Vine streets, doing a great deal of damage to the truck and to the property of the telephone company.

The transport truck was driven by E. H. Nolen, of Omaha, and was coming east on Washington avenue en route to Kansas City for a load of cars. The driver states that as he swung into Vine street he was blinded by the lights of a car approaching from the east and the truck was driven into a guy wire of the telephone pole.

The force of the impact caught the guy wire in the wheels of the truck and the large pole was snapped off near where the guy wire was fastened, causing the damage of the wires that were swept down in the wreckage of the pole. The line damaged was the long distance toll lines into Omaha and the north. The wreckage also caused the damage of the electric line and for some time the street lights in the north part of the city were out. The damage to the telephone line was heavy and made necessary the bringing of a force of repairmen from Lincoln who worked all night with the local force in getting the line straightened out.

The residents of that part of the city were aroused by the crash of the wreck and a large number were soon gathered at the scene of the accident and the night police assisted the driver and volunteers in getting the street cleared for travel.

CHANGES AT COURT HOUSE

There will be a number of changes at the court house as regards office locations, making some remodeling of the equity court room. The office of the county attorney will be removed from the first floor to the third and arranged in what is now the equity court room and which is not used by the court save in rare cases. A partition will be arranged in the room to provide a private office for the county attorney and the main room will be used for the library and general office of the county attorney as well as the sheriff. This arrangement will make it a great deal more convenient for the sheriff and county attorney, as their business is closely interlocked and will save them much traveling from one floor to the other.

The room on the first floor that is now used as the county attorney's office will be placed at the disposal of the county relief commission and used by Mrs. C. A. Rosencrans, county probation officer, and who is field representative of the relief commission in the county. This will give adequate quarters to this new department which will have a great deal of business to handle.
