QUIZED IN SANBORN CASE

New York.—Still without tangible clues to the mysterious slaying of Henry F. Sanborn, socially prominent railroad executive, police turned again to his purchase of anticipatory shares of stock in a Connecticut brewery. Two business associates of Bancroft Mitchell, son of the former attorney general, from whom Sanborn was said to have purchased the shares, were questioned by Charles P. Sullivan, assistant district attorney of Queens county. Sullivan later advanced the theory that Sanborn, whose body was found in a shallow grave Saturday near Bayside, L. I., may have been slain by some one who was angered because Mitchell had allowed the railroad executive to participate in a brewery pool. The business associates, Lloyd H. Smith and W. Stanton Barber, who appeared at the district attorney's office voluntarily said they did not know Sanborn but had decided to offer whatever information they could about the brewery deal. Meanwhile, Mitchell, located at Florence, Italy, said Sanborn's slaying was "an unfortunate affair upon which I am afraid I cannot shed light." Refusing to discuss his business affairs, Mitchell expressed a willingness to curtail his vacation and return for questioning.

The ceremonies started with special communication of all master Masons in Masonic hall, at which officers of the grand lodge were received. Following the lodge sessions the Masons, grand lodge officers, with Knights Templar as escorts, representatives of civic groups and the Norfolk municipal band paraded thru the business section to the temple site. Grand Marshall Robertson was master of ceremonies at the cornerstone laying. After the request had been made and accepted, Grand Master Smith officiated at the laying of the cement. This was followed by the trying of the cornerstone, consecration of the stone and its decoration by flower girls. Public Works to be Placed Under Recovery Code

Presidential Order Bringing Government Contracts Within NRA—Many Contracts Held Up.

Hyde Park.—President Roosevelt issued an executive order placing all government contracts under the terms of the national recovery program for shorter hours and higher wages. By this move the president made certain that any of the supplies provided in the vast government public works program must come from concerns which fly the blue eagle emblem.

More than 500 million dollars are spent by the government annually. Mr. Roosevelt has a 3.3 billion dollar public work plan in operation. He is making sure that the government is fully enrolled behind the new industrial order.

Many contracts have been held up, it is understood, pending a determination that all firms who work for the government are fully in line.

"If the contractor fails to comply with the foregoing provision," said the president's order, "the government may, by written notice to the contractor, terminate the contractor's right to proceed with the contract, and purchase in the open market the undelivered portion of the supplies covered by the contract, and the contractor and his sureties shall be liable to the government for any excess cost occasioned the government thereby."

It is one of the first affirmative actions taken by the president to force enforcement of his new industrial plan. He is confident of voluntary co-operation making a success of the drive. But he wants the government to be 100 percent. The text of the executive order follows:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the act of congress entitled an act to encourage national industrial recovery, to foster fair competition and to provide for the construction of certain useful public works, and for other purposes, approved June 16, 1933 (public number 61, 73rd congress), and in order to effect the purposes of that act, it is hereby ordered that:

1. Contracts for supplies: Every contract entered into within the limits of the United States (by which is meant the forty-eight states of the union, the District of Columbia, the territories of Hawaii and Alaska, the Panama Canal zone, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin islands) by the United States or any of its agencies or instrumentalities for supplies mined, produced or manufactured in the United States as contemplated by Section 2, Title III, of the act approved March 3, 1933, entitled "An act making appropriations for the treasury and postoffice departments for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934, and for other purposes." (Public Number 428, Seventy-second congress), except as set forth in the proviso under paragraph (A) below, shall provide and require that:

(a) The contractor shall comply with all provisions of the applicable approved code of fair competition for the trade or industry or subdivision thereof concerned, or, if there be no approved code of fair competition for the trade or industry or subdivision thereof concerned, then with the provisions of the president's re-employment agreement promulgated under authority of section 4 (a) of the foregoing act, or any amendment thereof, without regard to whether the contractor is himself a party to such code or agreement. Provided that where supplies are purchased that are not mined, produced, or manufactured in the United States the special or general code of fair practice shall apply to that portion of the contract executed within the United States.

(b) If the contractor fails to comply with the foregoing provision, the government may by written notice to the contractor terminate the contractor's right to proceed with the contract, and purchase in the open market the undelivered portion of the supplies covered by the contract, and the contractor and his sureties shall be liable to the government for any excess cost occasioned thereby.

(2) Disbursing officers. No disbursing officer shall be held liable for any payment made under the provisions of the foregoing act, or any executive order issued under authority of that act, or for the unobligated balance of any overpayment involved. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT. The White House, Aug. 10, 1933.

'ENEMY' PLANES BOMB TOKIO IN SHAM WAR

Tokio, Aug. 9.—Fifteen million people in Tokio and surrounding prefectures had a taste of wartime life Wednesday as a three-day sham battle for possession of the capital was launched by the army and the navy. Three times during the day "enemy" airplanes roared overhead and sirens screamed warnings to the populace. Smoke bombs and incendiary vapors were loosed in the streets, simulating poison gas and incendiary explosives.

Alvo News

Simon Rehmeier was a visitor for the day last Monday in Plattsmouth, where he was called to look after some business matters.

John Banning and his uncle, James Egan, were over to Union last Friday, where they were looking after some business matters for a short time, as well as visiting with friends and relatives there.

L. D. Millen and wife and Glen Dimmitt and family were over to Greenwood on last Wednesday, where they were attending the funeral of the late O. F. Peters, of that place, who was buried at Yutan, where he had resided for some years before locating in Greenwood.

Harry Weychel recently purchased a McCormick-Deering 10-20 tractor from the Alvo Hardware and Implement company, which he will use on his farm instead of the horse power which he has used for to handle the heavy farm work as he has in the past, and this will equip Mr. Weychel so that he can do the work especially when it is hot with more safety to the farm horses.

Mrs. Albert Williams stopped in Alvo to visit with her husband's uncle, D. B. Williams and family, the past week, being on her way home to Denver from a trip to Ohio to take her mother back home from a visit with her two daughters in Denver. Mrs. Williams and her sister both accompanied the mother back to Ohio, but the sister remained for a time, while Mrs. Williams was on her way back home when she stopped here.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stoll northwest of Nehawka occurred on last Wednesday the wedding of their daughter, Miss Edna Stoll to Mr. Ralph S. Shaveley, of near Alvo. Shaveley and a young man of much ability and energetic in his business, one of the most excellent of farmers and a most worthwhile gentleman.

Hold Women's Meeting

The Women's Missionary society were gathered at the Methodist church in Alvo on last Wednesday afternoon, where they were hearing reports of the work done by the society and perfecting plans for the future work of the church and the missionary society.

No Applications to Sell

The City of Alvo up to the 9th of August have had no applications to sell 3.2 beer. There was some talk that there might be an application, but none had been filed up until the day before the new law became effective. It was the sense of the city fathers that should there be an application for a permit to sell the new beverage an election would be called to definitely settle the matter one way or another.

ROOSEVELTS' FRIEND WINS

Phoenix, Ariz.—Arizona's vote in favor of repeal of the eighteenth amendment of 3 to 1 while the state acclaimed Mrs. Isabella Greenway, friend of the Roosevelts, as its probable next representative in congress. A convention Sept. 5 formally will ratify the twenty-first amendment to the federal constitution, repealing the eighteenth amendment.

Mrs. Greenway, school chum of the wife of the president, is the first woman in the state's twenty-one years of life to aspire to congress. Her nomination by the state's democrats, tantamount to election, was nearly four to one over her nearest opponent, Harlow Akers, Phoenix, to succeed to the congressional seat vacated by Lewis W. Douglas, when he became federal director of the budget.

CHARGES OF MURDER MADE

Milwaukee.—Warrants charging murder and attempted murder were issued for Paul Meyer, 59, accused of having poisoned ten persons, one of whom died. Meyer was arrested six days ago after Mrs. Walker Kraus, recipient of poor relief, baked a cake of poisoned sugar and flour left on her doorstep. Mrs. Kraus, her four children and four others became violently ill. After the apprehension of Meyer police investigated the recent death of a roomer at his home, Emil Mittelstedt. Poison was found in his digestive tract. Then officers found poison at Meyer's home, and his estranged wife told authorities she lived for a long time in the fear that he would poison her.

"See it before you buy it" is a good slogan to observe.

Expect Adoption of New Hog Slaughter Plan

Prospective Pig Crop Cut Proposed to Federal Executives by a National Committee.

Washington.—Five million swine may be led to slaughter in the next few weeks to provide food for the hungry and to assist hardup corn belt farmers. An emergency program for this action was proposed to farm administrators by the national corn and hog committee of twenty-five and there were indications afterward it would be adopted with modifications.

Administrators took part in drafting the plan, which has been endorsed by spokesmen for farm organizations. It would be financed by a processing tax on hogs weighing more than 235 pounds and be carried out between Aug. 15 and Oct. 1. Under the proposal, it is intended that meat would be provided at low cost to the unemployed and destitute and aid given corn belt farmers, confronted by the greatest feed shortage in fifty years as a result of drought.

Administrators intend to work out details within the next ten days and to put the plan into operation without fundamental change providing President Roosevelt's approval is given. It is estimated that from $35,000,000 to $45,000,000 will be required to finance the program, which is to be followed this fall by the formulation of a long range policy applying the farm act to both corn and hog production.

There is now an oversupply of swine, representatives of producers said, and they fear that prices will be further depressed unless the number is immediately reduced. This year's potential pig crop is 7 percent above that of last year and export outlets are sharply curtailed. The program, which would be the most drastic ever attempted in the United States to reduce the supply of any species of livestock, calls for: Financing by the government thru a processing tax of the purchase of 4,000,000 pigs weighing from 25 to 100 pounds which ordinarily would not be marketed until they reached a weight of from 200 to 250 pounds. Payment of bonuses of $4 each on 1,000,000 sows soon to farrow, to cut down the number of breeding stock and to eliminate from the potential supply of swine approximately 5,000,000 pigs which these sows would be expected to produce this fall.

It is estimated that the aggregate weight of the slaughtered animals would be about 650 million pounds, that the program would reduce the potential marketing of pigs during the year, if these were permitted to grow, by 2 billion pounds live weight.—State Journal.

Memories

The conducting of a funeral is not a mere matter of practical utility. This brief ceremony will live for years in the memory of the bereaved as the final parting with a loved one.

We feel that the greatest privilege and duty of the funeral director is to make this memory as consoling as possible.

CONSIDER FARM SURPLUSES

Washington.—Efforts to whittle down the surplus of farm commodities thru sales abroad claimed the attention of the farm adjustment administration. Administrator Peck of the farm act conferred with Oscar Johnson, finance director of the administration, on a program for export sales. Plans being shaped will be put before Secretary Wallace on the latter's return to Washington Saturday.

Among the immediate possibilities are assisting in the "formation of export corporations which could borrow from the Reconstruction corporation to finance the sales abroad. The corporations could be set up under a law passed several years ago. Another is the payment of bounties to get rid of some of the approximately 350 million bushels carryover of wheat. Funds for this purpose may be accumulated thru processing taxes on wheat, cotton and those that are being contemplated for corn and hogs and other commodities.
