

Let the Children have New Shoes for the Opening of School...

Good shoes on the feet of a child mean good feet for the future man or woman, while cheap shoes that soon go to pieces mean just the opposite. When we fit the feet of your children with our famous Poll Parrot all-leather shoes, you take no chance, and in the long run practice real economy, for Poll Parrots do wear longer.

Filing Days for Wheat Contracts Announc'd

Scheduled Meetings Over the County Will Give Farmers Opportunity to Make Filings.

Scheduled meetings, or filing days, will be held in Cass county starting Thursday, August 24th, when farmers will be given the opportunity to file their applications for contracts to participate in the Triple A wheat plan.

These filing days, which will be similar to polling places on election day, will be held at three different places in the county, on August 24th and 25th and at two different places on August 28th. The meetings will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and three trained men will be at hand to assist the farmers in filling their applications.

Specimen contracts, filing blanks and farm plats have been mailed to wheat growers in the county, who will be expected to have all the information requested ready on the day appointed for their filing. Do not pay anyone a fee or commission to help you fill out these blanks. Your committeemen and their secretary will help you finish the application blank and map when they accept your application at the filing place. The signing of the application does not obligate anyone to sign a contract later. However when farmers turn in their application they become voting members of the County Wheat Production Control Association which is formed by the farmers who sign the applications. Notice of the first precinct meeting of each group will be announced later.

Final contracts will be available later. Announcement will be made when they are ready, which will be after the applications have been received.

The schedule for filing days for Cass county is as follows, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. each day:

- August 24—Mynard Community Building.
- August 24—Glendale church, 3 miles east of Louisville.
- August 24—Nehawka School House
- August 25—Weeping Water, Farm Bureau Office.
- August 25—Murdock School House.
- August 25—Elmwood School House.
- August 28—Eagle School House.
- August 28—Greenwood School House.

Weeping Water People Have a Narrow Escape

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keckler Have Their Auto Struck by the Fast Mail of the Burlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Keckler, proprietor of the filling station in Weeping Water departed some two weeks ago for a trip to the east and which had on its schedule a visit at the Century of Progress. They had just purchased a new car and which made the trip a more pleasant one on that account. On the trip they put over five thousand miles on the new wagon. Going via Kansas City and over No. 49 to St. Louis, where they visited for a time and then on to Cincinnati, then to Pittsburgh, and on to Washington, D. C. and Baltimore. Turning northward they visited New York, and passing on went over into Canada where they visited at Montreal and Toronto, coming on down through Detroit, Michigan, and stopping for a few days visit at the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago. They spent some time there and sure enjoyed the occasion, both attending the ball game last Saturday afternoon which was played at 3 o'clock, spending the remainder of the day at the Century of Progress, and remaining in Chicago until the early morning when they started on their six hundred mile trip for home and friends at Weeping Water.

While the day was not the best, with some rain and again clearing skies all went well and they were about crossed Iowa, having arrived at Pacific Junction when they came to a railroad crossing in that town to the line that comes from Council Bluffs. Mr. Keckler stopped, or slowed down to a meager pace, probably 15 miles an hour and as the rain had caused them to close the windows, it was difficult to hear. Mr. Keckler looked south and saw a freight train heading toward him and throwing his eyes northward just as he was approaching the tracks to cross when but a few feet from the car he saw shoot out in front the Limited, fast mail of the Burlington, and while but a few feet from the rail Ralph with a dextrous jerk turned the wheels of his car southward just as the thundering engine struck the car and as Mr. Keckler had applied the brakes the rear wheels immediately stuck and the impulse which the passing locomotive gave the auto, caused it to pivot on the rear wheels and the front end of the car was thrown entirely around until it pointed north, still remaining upright.

No one knows the feeling and the shock which it gives to be in such a critical position who has not experienced it. Mrs. Keckler when she looked at the monster of steel hurling itself upon them, she could see the results and said, this is the end, and with the bravery of desperation was facing instant death. The shock was so severe that she fainted as the contact came and in the whirling of the car around was thrown against the inside of the car and received severe bruises but not serious injury, other than the facing of death for the instant. When it was all over Mrs. Keckler recovered, altho it was a severe strain on the nerves. Ralph remained cool during the ordeal, and following which they got out of the still standing auto, sat on the running board of another car which had driven up. They telephoned the filling station at Weeping Water and had a car sent for them. Ralph says that while the accident did not unnerve him he has not been able to get a good night's rest since. This seems as about a near death and still to escape as could possibly occur. Some say accidents like this could be prevented with proper care and Mr. Keckler was exercising the utmost care and still came near meeting death.
