SHOT BREAKS WINDOW

George Fornoff, well known resident of the city was sitting in his home on Pearl street Monday afternoon when he was startled to hear one of the windows on the east side of the house crash and the broken glass falling into the room. An investigation disclosed that the window had been broken by a bullet, which had apparently been deflected from the sidewalk or pavement and had struck the window. It is thought that someone had been shooting at a dog as one was heard to howl shortly after the shot, the bullet hitting the paving had bounded on into the window of the Fornoff home. The bullet was recovered and showed the marks of having hit the paving.

ATTEND FAMILY REUNION

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Swatek with the members of their family were at Abie, Nebraska, where they were among a large group attending the Shonka reunion. The mother of Mr. Swatek was a member of this family, pioneer residents of Butler county. The reunion was held at the homestead where the father and mother of the family had settled many years ago when that section of Nebraska was still unbroken by the plow.

There were a number of the distinguished members of the family group present from a distance, among these being Rev. William Shonka of Chicago and Rev. Richard Shonka of Lisle, Illinois. One of the attendants at the reunion was Fred Shonka, who has just returned from Peking, China, where for two years he was engaged on the faculty of the Catholic university there. He had with him a wonderful collection of Chinese art and other lines representing the Chinese manufacturing lines that proved a most delightful feature of the reunion.

The members of the party enjoyed a fine picnic supper which the bad weather conditions made necessary to hold inside instead of in the open as had been planned.

RETURNS FROM CHICAGO

Mrs. C. C. Westcott, who has been spending the past thirty days with her son and daughter, Mason and Miss Alice Louise Westcott, at Chicago, returned home Saturday. The trip included a visit at the Century of Progress exposition as well as many pleasant auto trips to Wisconsin where Mr. and Mrs. Mason Westcott have a summer home.

The Norfolk Packing Co., of this city are announcing an increase in the price of sweet corn that they have purchased of the farmers of the community this year.

The Norfolk Packing plant will be ready at once to take up the necessary charges that the order has made and prepare to settle with their growers at the new price. Circular letters are being sent to all of the corn growers to notify them of the change.

DEATH OF OLD RESIDENT

From Tuesday's Daily This morning at an early hour George H. Black, 62, a resident of this city and community for many years, passed away at the farm home of his daughter, Mrs. John Rummel west of this city. Mr. Black had not been in the best of health for some time and had gradually failed until death came to his relief.

The deceased was born in Hamburg, Iowa, but had spent the greater part of his lifetime in this community where he was married and the family reared. For a number of years he was engaged in the work in the local Burlington shops, but later made his home on the farm near this city and where he spent his declining years.

He is survived by the widow and two daughters, Mrs. John Rummel of this city and Mrs. L. G. Anderson of Omaha.

The funeral services will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from the Sattler funeral home, at Fourth and Vine streets.

CATCHES RECORD FISH

John Richardson secured a catch Sunday while fishing in the Missouri river that has proved one of the largest that has been caught this season. The fish was a fine fifty-six pound yellow catfish, a fish that would make any fisherman happy. The fish is one that will make a great many delicious meals and Mr. Richardson feels very much pleased.

Present Another Splendid Church Program on Air

Choir of the First Methodist Church Gives Musical Offering and Rev. Troy the Sermon.

The choir and pastor of the First Methodist church of this city were heard last night in the second of the series of Sunday evening services given over radio station KOIL at Council Bluffs.

The choir had arranged and presented two very fine anthems as their part of the service, "Hark, Hark My Soul," in which the solo part was taken by Mrs. E. H. Westcott and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," in which Don C. York was heard in the solo part.

The sermon by Rev. C. O. Troy was on "The Ministry of Silence," a fine and ably presented sermon, delivered in the usual impressive manner of the pastor. The message carried over the popular radio station came into the homes of thousands of the residents of the middle west.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

A most delightful dinner party was held Sunday at the F. G. Hull home south of this city, the occasion being in honor of Mrs. Hull's father, G. P. Eastwood, whose 50th birthday anniversary had arrived.

Mr. Eastwood was born in Indiana, but was brought to central Iowa when but a mere babe, by his parents who were among the earliest pioneers.

Then in early middle age Mr. Eastwood moved his family to eastern Nebraska where the greater part of the remaining years have been spent, so he really feels that he is almost a native Nebraskan.

There were four generations present to help celebrate this occasion, and bestow presents and warmest congratulations.

A son, A. F. Eastwood, of Omaha, was here in the early part of the festivities, but was called by his company to Chicago, and while there he and his wife will visit the Century of Progress exposition.

Other out of town guests were G. L. Hull and family of Union and E. E. Hull and family of Plattsmouth, Mr. Eastwood and wife of Plattsmouth and the F. G. Hull family of Rock Bluffs.

ENJOY FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Glaze had a pleasant surprise last Sunday, spending the day with a host of relatives that came to Plattsmouth and spent the day at a reunion picnic. Although the rain kept them indoors the time was well spent reminiscing old times.

An indoor picnic lunch and supper were served. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stewart and their three children from Farragut, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hays and two children from Council Bluffs; Miss Mildred Schmelbel of Humbolt, Nebr.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davey and two children, Omaha; Mrs. Ernest Brown and three children, Omaha; Miss Mabel Bishop, Omaha; Mrs. Margaret Hays of Council Bluffs, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Glaze.

A happy time was had by all.

WINS BOXING MATCH

From Tuesday's Daily A number from here were at Fort Crook last evening where they enjoyed the finals of the boxing matches of the C. M. T. C. A great deal of interest was attached to the events by the fact that Virgil Hutton of this city participated and was the winner of the welterweight class over Carl Rogers of Clarinda, Iowa, in a technical knockout. Both boys are members of Co. A and tentmates

Mrs. C. R. Troop Completes 15 Years as WCTU Head

Ill Health Compels Relinquishing of Presidency After Holding the Office Almost Two Decades.

The W. C. T. U. of this city held their annual picnic on Monday at the beautiful country home of Mrs. A. Dove Asch, "Villa Asch," near Murray, one of the most hospitable and delightful homes in this portion of the county.

The picnic party motored from this city arriving at the Asch home enjoyed a fine dinner which came from the well filled baskets that had been brought by the ladies.

The chief business matter of the meeting was the selection of officers and in which the ladies were deeply grieved to learn that their efficient president, Mrs. C. R. Troop, was unable to further continue her duties owing to her health, which made it necessary for her to lay aside the duties for the present at least. The members hope that Mrs. Troop will be able later to again serve as the guide and inspiration of this splendid organization.

Mrs. Troop has served as president for the past fifteen years, and has been a loyal and faithful worker in the cause to which she has given her untiring devotion and energy and much of the success of the organization has come from the work of the president.

While laying aside the duties of the presidency the members are assured that Mrs. Troop will be their councillor and advisor in the future as in the past and in her wisdom and sincere interest they may have further inspiration.

The officers named to the various positions were:

- President—Mrs. R. B. Hayes.
- Vice-President—Mrs. J. E. Wiles.
- Secretary—Mrs. V. T. Arn.
- Treasurer—Miss Elizabeth Spangler.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. A. H. Duxbury. Following the business session a fine program was enjoyed and which consisted of two vocal numbers by Miss Lois Troop of Nelawka, two solos by Mrs. E. H. Westcott, two readings by Mrs. Lois Troop of this city.

Mrs. Asch, the hostess of the day, also gave the ladies a fine program of music presented in her usual talented manner, offerings on the violin, zither and piano being featured.

ODD FELLOWS INSTALL

From Wednesday's Daily Last evening the local lodge of the I. O. O. F. held a very interesting session which was enjoyed by some eighty members of the fraternity.

There were some fifteen from Havelock accompanying Deputy Grand Master Walter Jackson of that city, ten from Omaha, twenty from Louisville, six from Greenwood, two from Avoca, and one from Exeter, Nebraska.

The degree team of the Louisville lodge, one of the best in this section of the state, conferred the degree work on two candidates of the local lodge.

The members enjoyed a fine talk from Deputy Grand Master Jackson as well as several of the visiting members which covered the lines of the work of the fraternity.

At the close of the evening the members of the party were treated to a fine luncheon that had been arranged by the members of the Rebekahs and came as the conclusion of a fine evening of pleasure and profit.

OLD RESIDENTS HERE

A. E. Todd and A. L. Todd, members of one of the pioneer families, came down Tuesday from their homes at Ashland, spending the night and today with their brothers, T. E. and C. R. Todd, as well as meeting the many old time friends in the community.

The gentlemen are son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Todd, who came here in the early fifties and the family was reared on the farm northwest of this city and spent many years here.

ENJOY NICE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Born and grandson, Mervin Bartek, with Mr. and Mrs. Adam Stoehr, were at Herman, Nebraska, Sunday. They enjoyed a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Christopherson and a fine trip to and from this city. They found the crops looking well along the highway they traveled but none better than in this immediate vicinity.

Teachers of Cass County Gather Here

Meet With Miss Alpha Peterson to Discuss Plans for Opening of School Next Week.

From Wednesday's Daily The annual county meeting of the teachers of the rural schools of Cass county was held today at the district court room with the attendance of all of the teachers who are taking up their work in the next week for the fall and winter term.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Alpha C. Peterson, county superintendent, and was one of the greatest interest as the superintendent had prepared a program filled with many important phases of the school work and which was discussed by the various speakers and the teachers.

The list of speakers included a number of the leaders in various lines of educational and professional work and who gave much valuable information to the teachers of the county.

Miss Cora Williams, supervisor of music of the Plattsmouth city schools, was featured in the morning and afternoon programs with the musical section of the institute, leading the teachers in the singing and musical offerings of the meeting.

Mrs. W. L. Dwyer, lady member of the Cass county bar, was one of the speakers of the morning and in her usual clever manner presented valuable information to the teachers.

Superintendent L. S. Devoe of the Plattsmouth city schools, was a speaker at the morning and afternoon sessions, discussing the school problems of the day from the standpoint of the school executive.

One of the leading features of the institute was the periods led by Miss Chloe C. Baldrige, head of the department of rural education of the state superintendent's office. Miss Baldrige is an outstanding figure in the educational field of Nebraska and her work with the teachers has resulted in a high standard of efficiency.

Mrs. Fred H. Gorder of Weeping Water was present and gave a talk on the school exhibits which will be a part of the county fair this year.

Miss Marie Kaufmann, who has been a prominent figure in the teaching force of Cass county in her work in art and penmanship, was also featured on the afternoon program of the teachers. Miss Kaufmann gave many helpful suggestions to the teachers in the coming year's work.

Miss Peterson, county superintendent, whose work has resulted in the building up of the present fine modern educational system over the county, had the last period of the institute and gave many interesting discussions of the work of the school and the forthcoming months that lie before the teachers in the schools of the county.

MUTILATES RECORDS

County Register of Deeds Miss Lillian White, had an unusual and far from pleasant experience Wednesday afternoon at her office. Miss White had a lady call at the office and ask to see the record of deeds that had been filed. Miss White in her usual accommodating manner secured the desired record which the lady looked over and requested another book, which Miss White went to the vault to secure. On her return she found that the visitor had cut a page from the deed record and made away with it, having cut the page out as well as two other with a razor blade. There was only one page taken however. Miss White gave the alarm and officers were sent out to try and apprehend the party. Later a lady was taken into custody at Union, confessing later but claimed to have thrown record away.

Parades to be Big Feature at Korn Karnival

Farmers Promise Real Competition to Business Men in Own Parade Second Day of Festival.

The highly successful parades of last year's Korn Karnival will be surpassed with this year's super parades, one of which is planned for each of the four days, September 20 to 23, inclusive, say Korn Klub officials who are busy lining up the various events.

One of the biggest parades this year will be the farmers' parade on Thursday afternoon, with its main theme "A Century of Progress in Transportation and Farming Methods." Plans for this feature parade are going forward in fine shape and last night at Mynard a group of farmers met to perfect arrangements and get started working out their various entries. Arranging of the farmer parade will be under direction of Chas. Barnard, ably assisted by a number of lieutenants. Mr. Barnard presided over the meeting held at Mynard, at which much enthusiasm was shown by all those present, together with promises of assistance sent the chairman by many who were unable to attend the meeting.

This parade will be a challenge to the commercial interests of Plattsmouth whose parade comes later in the four day festival and with a continuation of the enthusiasm already shown, the farmers' parade will undoubtedly be the most successful and entertaining of any ever staged in this city.

It will follow the theme mainly, but include in addition some clowning antics and horseplay that will give the spectators plenty of chuckles. "The greatest co-operation is promised from over a wide area to the west and south of Plattsmouth," said Mr. Barnard, "and when we farmers undertake a thing we don't spare any efforts to make it a success. Plattsmouth business men will have to go some if they put on a parade any better than ours."

Several of the farmers present at the Mynard meeting expressed their intention of driving to Hamburg, Ia., to witness a Fremont county farm parade and get additional ideas for use here. The country will be scoured for certain articles of equipment which have become very scarce in late years, such as side saddle, ox cart, buck board, early model cars and various farm implements that have been replaced with more modern devices. The grain cradle, hand planter and similar articles are among those that will be used to demonstrate advances in farming methods.

Other Parades Planned The other parades planned during the four day festival include:

Parade of Justice, Wednesday evening, Sept. 29, featuring all Kangaroo Court offenders fulfilling the sentences that have been passed upon them.

Novelty and Juvenile parade Friday afternoon.

Rural School Floats and Commercial parade Saturday afternoon. In this latter parade, Plattsmouth business men will be forced to exert themselves to make anywhere near the same showing our farmer friends are planning for their parade Thursday.

ROTARIANS ENTERTAIN ANNS

From Wednesday's Daily Last evening the members of the Plattsmouth Rotary club entertained their ladies or the Rotary Anna, at a delightful theatre party at Omaha. The club members are hosts to the ladies each month when there is a fifth week and the program committee this week decided on the theatre party.

The members of the party motored to Omaha where they attended the Orpheum, enjoying the presentation of George Arliss, noted character actor of the stage and screen in "Voltaire." The members of the party were delighted with the masterly rendition of the character of the great French philosopher and poet and which was supported by an outstanding cast.
