

Layman Speakers to Bring Message of Church

Nationally Known Speakers Will Give History of Catholic Church in Open Air Meetings.

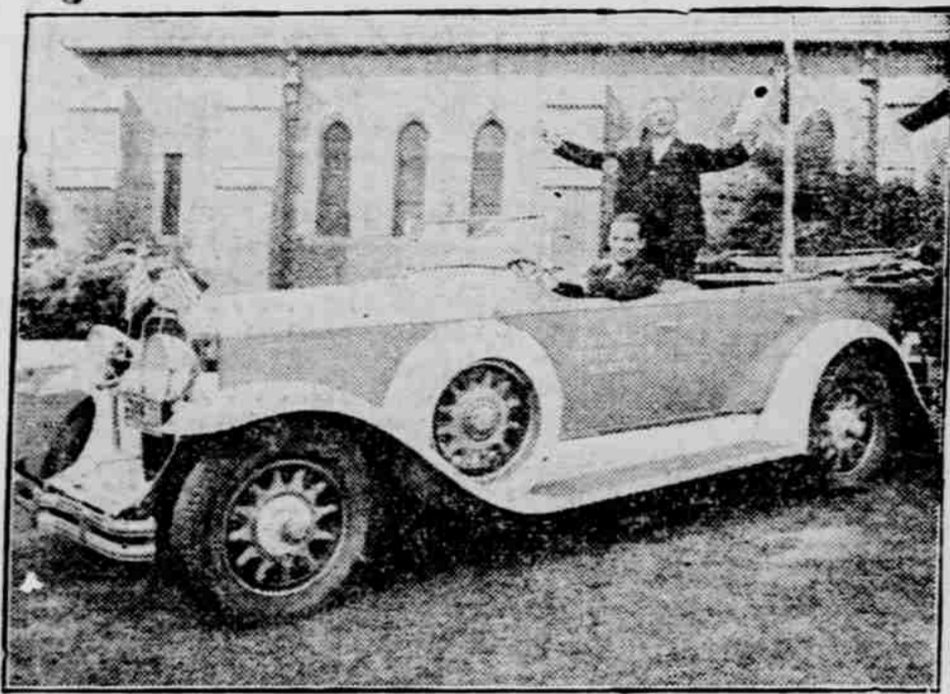

The committee selected by the Catholic Daughters met last night to make further arrangements for welcoming David Goldstein of Boston and Theodore H. Dorsey his assistant to Plattsmouth. These Catholic campaigners for Christ are booked to address the people assembled out in the open Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 9 and 10 at 7:45 o'clock at the court house. The topic up for discussion is "The Credentials of the Catholic Church."

The speakers will deliver their message from a specially constructed lecture car which is attractively painted in papal colors. It is decorated with a crucifix and flags to symbolize the cause it seeks to advance, that of God and country. Inside the rear part of this open lecture car is a compartment fitted with batteries, dynamo, microphones and other machinery for the electrical transmission of the speakers' voices. Through three horns raised on a twelve-foot mast, which is carried in three parts on the running board of the car when traveling, the voices are amplified so this campaign for Christ. It is intended to give those seeking further information, as well as those who may disagree with the contention of the speaker, an opportunity to sound a Catholic personally as to the reasons of his belief.

When interviewed regarding this unique campaign work, David Goldstein said: "The streets, squares and parks are the natural forums of a free people, therefore, I do not believe that they should be monopolized, as they have been, by propagators of treason, blasphemy and half-truths. I have campaigned before I entered the Catholic church for a movement which I then thought held in its keeping the solution of the grave problems that confront the poor. But like Millerand, Briand and Herve of France, Mussolini and Pippini of Italy, Blatchford of England Spargo of our country, and others I was brought, long years before they were, to the realization that radicalism is but an idealist dream that arouses passion and leads to an intolerable injustice. I came to the conclusion that the peace based upon justice, which the hearts of all good men yearn for, depends upon a morality founded upon the teachings of the Christian religion; that all other ideals are worse than dreams for they lead to disruption."

"I know that our fellow-Americans are fair; that they believe in free speech and religious liberty; that they need but to be approached in a frank, truthful and courteous way to

as to be heard for a considerable distance.

The committee desires it to be specifically announced that these visitors are coming to Plattsmouth "to set forth the doctrines, history and practices of the Catholic church with Christian charity and not in a controversial or belligerent spirit. Their mission is one of good-will and therefore it is not to be anti-Protestant, anti-Jewish, nor anti-anything-else. It is an endeavor to enlighten the uninformed, to try and transform the misunderstanding, which sometimes manifests in a spirit of intolerance, into a sympathetic understanding of what twenty millions of Americans who are Catholics really believe."

A quiz period is announced to follow the address when any person in the audience is welcome to ask questions related to the subject discussed with the assurance that they will be answered to the best of the speaker's ability and in a frank and courteous manner. This is considered to be one of the striking features of get a hearing from them even for the Catholic church, the most misunderstood institution in the world. I believe that the time has come when the voice of the laity of that oldest, most sublime, universal and Divine organization that Christ commissioned to teach should be heard and understood, if only to bring about a better appreciation of each others viewpoint. Christ has been good to me. He has led me from error into truth, and in return I mean to show my love for Him by making His church better known. This I shall endeavor to do with Christian courtesy. I am coming to your city, not for the purpose of arousing religious animosities, there is too much of that already in the world. My purpose is to explain, for animosities do not exist among men of good will when they know the facts in the case. My talk in your city will be religiously Christian and patriotically American."

The meeting will be held Saturday and Sunday nights at 7:45 o'clock.

WANT SCHOOL MAINTAINED

Residents in the extreme western portion of school district No. 1, who have in the past been served by the Mercerville school, Tuesday made protest when the school was not opened for the regular teaching term. The school was closed by the board of education as stated as a matter of economy, the first ward school also being discontinued this year, the pupils all being sent to the Central building. The residents of that locality have protested the sending of the children to Central school and asked that the neighborhood school be maintained.

Tuesday when the city schools reopened for the term, a number of the residents and parents with the children who were pupils appeared at the school and sent the request to the superintendent that the school be supplied with a teacher. There being no one selected on account of the closing of the school it was impossible to comply with the demand.

The work of teaching is being carried on in the school by the residents and the children being given lessons both Tuesday and today. Mrs. Don Seivers, who was for several years a teacher, has been looking after the instruction of the children.

Claude Lane was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Saturday, where he was called to look after some business matters.

W. H. Marks and Eugene Roddy have purchased new V-8 Ford cars through the Cole Motor company, of Weeping Water.

George M. Porter and wife, of Lincoln, were visiting with their many relatives in and about Union, as well as at Nehawka.

John Rice and wife, of Plattsmouth were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John Fitzpatrick and family.

Rev. and Mrs. B. N. Kunkel were host and hostess to Rev. R. F. Hutchins and daughter, Ruth, of University Place, where all enjoyed the visit a great deal.

R. D. Stine, wife and son, George, were in Lincoln last Sunday, driving over to the big town in their car and enjoying a day's outing looking over the exhibits at the state fair.

Charles S. Stone and wife, of Hastings were visiting for a short time at the home of the mother of Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Mary B. Allison, and were also visiting with other friends and relatives.

E. E. Leach, manager of the Frans Brothers lumber yard, has been making some repairs on the roof of the lumber sheds and placing the same in the best condition so there will be no leaks when the weather is wet.

Rev. B. N. Kunkel and wife accompanied the father of Rev. Kunkel, Mr. J. H. Kunkel to his home at St. Joseph, stopping for a short time at Oregon, Mo. The father had been visiting here for the past two weeks.

Monday being a legal holiday, D. Ray Frans and family took advantage of the occasion and paid a visit to the state fair. At other times he has to remain home and look after business at the bank, so the fall holiday was appreciated and enjoyed.

Robert James has some very peculiar cows, but good cows all the same, but like the beasts that roam over the plane, being so acquainted with man, their kicking was shocking to feel. The other day, while Robert was milking, one of the cows lammed away and kicked Robert's hand so as to put it out of commission. However, he is getting along and can use the member, but is careful with that particular cow now.

Miss Mayme McCarroll has been feeling poorly for some time and it was thought an operation might be required to restore her health, and so she accompanied her parents to the hospital on last Monday morning, but as it was Labor day, the surgeons could not work and the operation had to be deferred until another time. Mr. and Mrs. McCarroll therefore returned, bringing the daughter home with them to await another time.

Attending World's Fair

O. A. Gude, proprietor of the Gude grocery and market, left Saturday, accompanied by John Sumtizer, of Nebraska City, on a trip to the World's Fair at Chicago. They expect to be gone about ten days. While they are away, Henry Gude is assisting at the store.

Southern Reunion Sunday

Each year there is held at the public park in Auburn on the first Sunday in September a reunion of all those who were born or have resided south of the Masca and Dixon line. There is a standing invitation to the former residents of Virginia, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky or Texas to come and join the large crowd from these states and enjoy the occasion. Last Sunday was the date for this reunion and there was a large crowd present. Those from Union to attend the festivities were Ben Martin, D. B. Porter and Louis Crunk and family, while John T. Porter of Plattsmouth was also there. They report a splendid time with several thousand people in attendance.*

Attended Candy Demonstration

A number of the folks of Union were over to the fair at Lincoln last Monday, where they went to be present at a demonstration of candy making which was held there, as one of the 4-H club activities. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Rihn, who drove over for the occasion.

Home from the South

John Roddy and Frank Bauer, who have been sojourning in the south for the past two weeks and where they were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nickles, going to take the summer visitors, Punk and Deede Nickles, have returned the last part of last week and were glad to see old Union again. It was very dry in the south throughout the earlier part of the season, but later on rains produced an abundance of alfalfa and watermelons, but outside of this and the oil industry, the boys found little to recommend the state of Oklahoma as a place to reside.

Will Attend Union Schools

Edith Hoback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hoback, who reside southwest of Union, and who has passed the eighth grade examinations with high standing, started as a student in the Union schools. It was hoped that her brother might have been able to attend with her, but being more than a year her junior, he could not enter with her this year. They have attended the Factoryville school, this making the third generation to attend this school, the first being Benjamin F. Hoback and brother and sister, while the second generation consisted of Grover Hoback, Oscar Hoback, Mrs. Charles Hemphill and their sisters and now for the third generation, the children of Grover Hoback and wife. This makes a period of over three quarters of a century that the members of this family have attended this particular school.

Celebrated Birthday Sunday

Mrs. Mollie Berger, who now resides with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Ost, of near Ithica, was born September 3, 1860, and came to Nebraska with her parents 70 years ago, making her home here ever since and is one of those who have aided materially in the reclamation of the wonderful country which we have here now, from the raw prairie. After the passing of 73 years in this good woman's life, the members of the family were called together to help celebrate her birthday on Sunday. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. George Tridje and Raymond Berger and family, of Omaha; Henry Ost and family, at whose home the gathering occurred, and Nelson Berger and wife, of Nehawka. A most pleasant time was had and all joined in wishing Mrs. Berger more equally as happy birthdays.

Methodist Church Notes

There will be preaching at Wyoming this coming Sunday in the morning and at the church in Union in the evening and other meetings such as Bible school and the Young People's meeting will be held at both churches.

A number of the members of the United Brethren church will attend the annual conference of the church at York this week.

W. O. Troop was looking after some business matters in Omaha on last Saturday and was interested in some feeders at the stock yards.

Nelson Berger was called to Union last Monday to look after some business matters and was also in Plattsmouth for a short time on a similar mission.

Mrs. J. H. Steffens, who was at a hospital in Omaha for a short time, receiving treatment, has returned to her home here and is feeling greatly improved.

Taft Pollard has been painting and beautifying the service station, and has it looking fine and attractive, which adds much to the inviting atmosphere of the place.

Miss Virginia Pollard was a visitor with friends in Plattsmouth last Friday and Saturday, where she visited for a time and was well looking after some business matters.

There is a report that one of the young men of Nehawka, while in Lincoln last Sunday, had the misfortune to have his car run into by another car, causing considerable damage.

At the home of Clarence Norris, of near Weeping Water, a son has come to bring joy and gladness and it is reported all are doing nicely. Great-grandparents E. H. Norris and wife are especially pleased over the arrival.

Paul Plunkett and family and Enos Plunkett, who have been visiting and spending some two weeks at the old home in Missouri, returned home last week and report having enjoyed an excellent time while they were away.

Postmaster Verner Lundberg and Mechanic Clifford Trotter were over to Lincoln on last Sunday, where they attended the opening day of the state fair. They were well pleased with the variety and excellence of the exhibits provided this year.

Mrs. Albert Philpot, of Overton, who has been here for the past two weeks visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Philpot, returned home late last week and was accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Philpot, who will visit there for a short time.

Charles Chappell has been chopping wood during the past week and finds it rather a hard task during the hot weather, especially as he had not been used to such strenuous exercise. However, he has been sticking with the work and is getting a lot of wood cut.

Julian Petersen and family, who have been visiting here for a short time with friends and relatives, coming from the northern portion of the state, have concluded to remain here and have rented a home in Murray, into which they moved early this week.

George Hansen shipped a number of cattle to the South Omaha market on last Friday, for which he found fair prices. He was accompanied by his son John and Clyde Switzer, they stopping in Plattsmouth for a short time to look after some matters of business.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton A. Rosencrans, of Plattsmouth, were visiting for a short time in Nehawka last Sunday, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Wunderlich, parents of Mrs. Rosencrans. On their return, Mrs. Wunderlich accompanied them for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ban Jefferys and their little daughter, of Imperial, were visiting here with friends and relatives and were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson for a few days. Mrs. Jefferys was formerly Helen Meyers and is well known to many people here.

Alfred Anderson and family, of Omaha, were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCarthy, of Union, and during the afternoon Messrs McCarthy and Anderson were over to Nehawka visiting for a short time with relatives and friends.

Last Monday being a holiday, Tommy Mason, the mail carrier was enjoying a vacation from his daily routine and accompanied by the wife and his parents, Thomas Mason, Sr. and wife and their little grandson, went to Lincoln, where they enjoyed a visit at the Nebraska state fair.

With the coming Sunday, services will be conducted at the Methodist church in Nehawka for the last time before the convening of the ministers for the annual conference. Members of the Nehawka church are hoping for the return of their efficient and pleasing pastor, Rev. E. S. Pangborn, a matter to be decided by the conference.

Making a Test Hole

The firm of Martin & Day, of Lincoln, who use much stone and who are greatly interested in securing a large quantity of good stone for use in road construction, were in Nehawka on last Monday, as they have been on several occasions of late, and while here arranged to sink a test hole in order to secure samples of the stone on the farm formerly owned by E. M. Pollard just west of the north orchard. They will have the samples tested and if they come up to expectations, it is quite probable another quarry will be opened in this vicinity in the near future.

Stone from the Olsen quarry passed the government requirements in fine shape and much of it has been used in government rip-rap work along the Missouri river.

Home from Their Visit

The Rev. Otto Englebriens and family, together with Mrs. Alice Plybon, who have been visiting in Wisconsin and other places in the northeast during the past two weeks, returned home late last week and report a very delightful trip. They were in seven states while they were away.

Gave Friends Reception

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mayfield, residing between Nehawka and Weeping Water, entertained on last Friday at their home in honor of their friend, Mrs. D. C. Rhoden, who was departing on Saturday with Mrs. William Gorder for South Dakota, where Mrs. Rhoden is to teach near Okcreek and Mrs. Gorder will teach her former school near Hidden Timber. They left last Saturday morning and expected to reach there in ample time for the beginning of school Monday.

died a large quantity of farm seed during the past few years, are making a bid for the seed grown in this locality. A car load of graded seed was shipped out this week and more is being prepared for shipment. The demand is increasing, due to the high quality of the seed offered by this concern. They have secured the finest of machinery for grading and handling of the seed they secure from the farmers and are thus able to remove all foreign material and obtain a high rating for freedom from obnoxious weeds as well as germination.

Mr. Rex Peters, of Greenwood, was in the vicinity of Nehawka Monday of this week, interviewing the farmers and making tests of clover seed for the Friedrichs company, which will handle the cleaning and shipment of seed from their Murray plant this year, as they have recently acquired the Murray Farmers elevator for the carrying on of their business.

RETURN HOME

On Saturday of last week Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Crunk and daughter returned to their home south of Union from their two weeks' vacation in Missouri where they visited relatives and friends, also visiting the home places of both Mr. and Mrs. Crunk, then on their return home they visited old friends at Richmond, Kansas. They also visited a brother of Mrs. Crunk at Robinson, Kansas. On their return home they found everything fine on the farm. Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson cared for the home and livestock while they were away.

MOVE TO NEW HOMES

Dr. L. C. Pucelik and family, who were formerly residing on west Main street, have removed to the Coronado apartments for the winter season. The residence that they formerly resided in will be occupied in the future by Mrs. Nora Egenberger and son, Edward, who are now located in the new home.
