

MURDOCK ITEMS

A large number of the people in and about Murdock have been attending the state fair and find not only large crowds but good exhibits.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Neitzel were over to Havelock and Lincoln on Thursday of last week, visiting with relatives and as well attending the state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lau were over to Ashland on last Wednesday, where they were visiting with friends and looking after some shopping as well.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Friend of near Alvo were visiting for the afternoon on last Wednesday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Eddie Craig and husband.

Dr. L. D. Lee has been selected as one of the physicians who are to examine the babies at the county fair as to their health, the fair to be held this coming week.

Henry A. Tool was called to Lincoln to look after some business matters on last Monday and was accompanied by Mrs. Tool, they also attending the state fair while there.

A large number of the kitenball enthusiasts from here accompanied the local team to Weeping Water on last Wednesday, taking in the game there, which was won by the Murdock kitenball team.

The windows of the Murdock Mercantile company, which are dressed differently by the proprietor, Henry Angwert, each week, were showing a very fine display of seasonable goods during the past week.

John Ostbloom, the merchant and market man, says business is good and is getting better all the time and he is thoroughly convinced that times are now on the upturn and will continue to get better right along.

Mrs. J. R. Kelley has been enjoying a visit with her daughter, Mrs. O. E. McDonald for the past week and on last Thursday morning was taken to South Bend by the daughter to catch the train for her home in Plattsmouth.

On Tuesday of last week the Murdock kitenball team went over to Elmwood, where they engaged a team of that place, winning over them by a score of 17 to 18. On Wednesday, they went to Weeping Water, where they were able to score another victory, this time Murdock winning by a score of 18 to 9.

Lyle Horton was in Murdock the past week and arranged for the moving of the remainder of his household effects to Plattsmouth, where he is now engaged in business. The house where he has been residing is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wendt. They will reside in town, and as the farm is near, but has no improvements thereon, this will make it handy for them.

On Wednesday of last week three of the members of the class called on Mr. Neitzel here, they being Philip Sauter, James A. Tremble and Rexford D. King. They all enjoyed a good visit with Mr. Neitzel.

Visiting Now at Byron
Judge and Mrs. W. E. Newkirk, who were spending some two weeks in Murdock with their daughter, and where they enjoyed an excellent visit, desired to return to their home at Byron, Nebraska, where another of their daughters resides, and Dr. Lee and wife drove them over to Byron last week. Dr. Lee in observing the crops in that portion of the state, found the corn not so good as here.

Murdock Schools Working
The schools of Murdock opened last week with a large attendance and much interest manifested by the students who were on hand to take up their work for the year, and with the excellent co-operation of instructors ready and willing to do all possible to aid the scholars in their studies. The schools of Murdock are especially well equipped to give the youth all the advantages which can be derived from a good education.

Miss Helen Bornemeier who is the manager of the telephone exchange of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company here, has been awarded a trip to the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago. The trip was won as a recognition of her splendid work during the business recovery drive when the number of phones installed here was well in excess of the quota. Only three others in the entire district served by the Lincoln company were awarded trips. Miss Helen is expecting to enjoy her trip in the near future.

BREX Win City Kittenball Title by Big Margin

Subdue Henchmen, American League Winners, by Score of 21 to 5—Game Called in Sixth.

The Burlington Refrigerator Express Co. kitenball team proved the winners of the city kitenball championship when they clinched the title last night in the second of the series, winning 21 to 5 from the Henchmen.

The hurling was by Hall of the BREX, who was in the best of form and able to keep the American Leaguers from growing dangerous and barring one inning. "Stormy had excellent support from the hustling shopmen. McClanahan of the Henchmen played a good game on the mound but was sunk by the deluge of errors that accounted for many of the scores that were piled up by the shopmen.

With the large score amassed by the BREX the game was halted at the close of the first half of the sixth inning to permit other teams to play and the honor of the city championship awarded the shopmen.

The BREX started in scoring in the first inning, when with one out, March was walked and tallied on the tap of O'Donnell to left.

The second brought the BREX four more scores to their credit with an error, a walk and two hits.

The third was the crushing of any hope the Henchmen may have had of stopping the BREX when eight tallies came over the plate, all scoring after the first two men had been retired. The scoring was started when an error permitted Gradoville to reach first and then hits by Hall and Skalak started the stampede. Three straight errors at third base permitted scores to come dashing over the plate. March hit to short center, O'Donnell was walked and then Svoboda with a hard blow to right scored three runs for his team mates, but died on second base.

The Henchmen took advantage of a momentary ascension of the BREX infield to add four scores in their half of the fourth. Earl Becker was struck out and then McClanahan was given a pass to first and stole his way to third and scored on the fielders choice of Floyd Becker, who was later caught at home. Richards was safe on a bobbie at third base and Scott hitting an infield ball was safe as the play was made on Richards without success, both scoring when Fitch was safe on a bobbie at short, but Fitch was later caught at second.

The BREX decided to make safe the contest in their half of the fourth and added seven more runs to the total, hitting hard in this inning. Two more for the BREX in the last of the fifth drew the curtain on their efforts, as smashing hits by Gradoville and Mason featured the inning. The Henchmen made their last stand in the opening of the sixth when McClanahan hit safely and scored on the blow of Floyd Becker to right and who scored when Scott hit safely to short center. Scott was caught trying to steal third base while Fitch hitting and reaching first safely was caught by White trying to steal second.

Alvo News

Mr. and Mrs. G. Rehmeier and Mrs. Simon Rehmeier and the children were in Plattsmouth last Monday, where they were visiting and looking after some business matters.

Eugene Barkhurst and family attended the state fair on last Monday and found the exhibits most excellent and a large crowd there to enjoy the fair and to meet their friends.

W. L. Copple has added to the equipment on the farm for the better transportation of his family a new Chevrolet car, which will give this gentleman and family the best of service.

Many of the people of Alvo and vicinity have been attending the state fair. Among those who went Tuesday were Neal and Carl Lewis, Harry Weichel and wife and Frank E. Cook, vice.

Arthur Roelotz was in Lincoln last Tuesday, where he was meeting with the independent oil and gasoline dealers of this section. They are expecting a better business in the future.

Hold First Meeting
The ladies of the Double Four club met on last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Weichel, where they organized for the year's work, making arrangements for the meetings which will follow during the coming winter and planning their committees and outlining their year's work. They are getting down to the gist of the work which the year has before them. Following the completion of the arrangements, they had a social hour and enjoyed some good eats.

Bees and the Weather
A. H. Weichel says that when he was making fence for a pasture the other day, he found chintz bugs on the grass and weeds as thick as fleas on a dog. This made E. L. Nelson remember that in the west his father kept bees and that while the bees had an abundance of honey they all left the hives and went away. That year was dry and it has been dry the following four years. He thinks the bees knew it was going to be so dry they could not make any honey and so left until such a time as the season will be right again. Mr. Nelson predicts drought in that section of the west for three more years. Well, we shall see.

Building New Barn
Believing in having enough shelter for all the stock and for the storing of the feed for them in order that the animals may do their best and the feed be well preserved, Chris Neban is having a new barn constructed. The size of the new structure is 24 by 36 feet. The material is being purchased through the Banning lumber yard of Alvo. Work on the new structure is well along and the roof is now nearly completed.

Public Works Board Approves Four Projects

But Advises Gage County Power Men to Guarantee That the Electricity Will Be Used.

Fremont, Neb.—Four Nebraska public works projects were approved by the state advisory board on the federal program. They are:

Colfax county highway program, total cost of $28,040. Board approved 30 percent federal grant. County has funds on hand to pay the remainder.

Sidney paving and storm sewer, total cost $32,164. Board approved 30 percent grant and loan for remainder.

Sutton project for new $1,800 brick smoke stack for municipal power plant. Approved 30 percent federal grant and loan for remainder.

Trenton sewer system and disposal plant, total cost $35,090. Approved 30 percent federal grant and loan for remainder.

The projects will next go before the public works administration at Washington.

Work has started on the Sutton stack and officials of the other projects are ready to begin work as soon as final approval is given their plans.

The board took another Sidney project for $5,000 for drainage for flood control under consideration.

The board told a Gage county delegation which seeks $595,000 for a southeastern Nebraska public power district, which would construct a transmission and distribution electric power system to serve farmers of Gage, Lancaster, Saline, Jefferson and Johnson counties, to go home and get farmers to sign contracts guaranteeing they will use the electricity.

HUNDREDS ENJOY TREAT
Last evening as the opener of the almost all night carnival of kitenball at Athletic park, the business and professional men of the city staged some real fun for the crowd that packed the park and greeted with shouts the antics of the players.

From the playing standpoint, the "Bloomer Girls" seemed to have the edge in playing as the 7 to 3 score would indicate. John Hatt, the chief of the "girls" having secured some good stickers and not being so bad himself. The costumes of the "girls" attracted much attention, they having an especial Swede model at third base, as well as entrancing flappers at the infield posts.

The "House of David," who played the Bloomers, showed a wide variation of whiskers from the patriarchal flowing beard to the dashing goatee shown and modeled by Fred Rea. The bearded boys were able to get through the game without accident although there were several close calls from losing their hirsute adornments as they sped after the ball or dashed from base to base. Judge Graves, who started playing ball in 1876 with the Rock Bluffs Giants was presented with a special bat for use in the game and the Judge slapped the delivery of the charming lady hurler but was tossed out at first base. E. Ptak of the Bloomers secured a home run as a feature of the game.

The kitenball teams were overshadowed by the two umpires, Cook and Bennett, who as the representatives of the two teams entertained the crowd and brought many laughs. Bennett appeared as a lady umpire and his ample figure was draped with a black tent, cut bias and with picture hat to match. The lady umpire also showed that she knew all about the combination that she was garbed in. The male umpire made a fine edition of Weber & Fields, or rather the Weber end of the team. Both umpires, as is the general rule of the job, failed to satisfy the teams, but ignored all protests.

HEARS SONS SAFE
Mr. and Mrs. Don C. York of this city have received a letter from their sons, Don and Randall, who are at Harlingen, Texas, one of the storm swept Texas cities that was ravaged by the recent hurricane.
The two young men were in the storm swept city and with several others sought refuge in the Methodist church, one of the large and substantial buildings of the city and which weathered the fury of the intense wind sweeping in from the gulf. They report that the farm homes of Mrs. L. C. Copenhaver and family and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Perry also escaped damage from the storm.
The city of Harlingen as well as the other valley towns are now turning to the task of recovery and the repair of the hundred of thousands of dollars of damage that was caused by the storm.

LARSON AGAIN COUNTY CHAMP

From Thursday's Daily
Last evening Ray Larson again annexed the county tennis championship by repeating his three set victory of 1932.

Ray Larson defeated Ralph Mason 6-2, 6-4, 6-4. It looks as though it will be up to Lars or Ray Jr., to dethrone their dad.

Ray last year also annexed the Nebraska City open title and the trophy which accompanies it. Several intercity matches are being planned for the last of September.

HIT WITH POP BOTTLE

Thursday morning Lloyd Holman, who operates the pope stand along No. 75 north of this city, was engaged in working in a field nearby and decided he would get himself a bottle of ice cold pop which he had prepared for the trade. Reaching the stand which was closed for the morning, Mr. Holman opened the door of the stand and as he did so a pop bottle in the hands of an unknown youth descended on the unprotected head of Mr. Holman. The youth then made his escape from the scene and as soon as possible Mr. Holman reached a telephone and called Sheriff Homer Sylvester at the office of the sheriff. Arriving on the scene the tale was given the sheriff and he at once started in pursuit of the young man, the trail of his flight being marked through a grain field nearby. The sheriff came within halting distance of the young man and at the command to come out he did so promptly and was loaded into the car of Mr. Sylvester and brought on to this city.

The young man was arraigned this morning in county court and gave his name as Ira Metter, his residence as Atton, Iowa. He said that he was hungry and sought to secure some food. The court gave him a sentence of ten days and which the prisoner will have to board out with Sheriff Sylvester.

STEAL HOSE AT STATION

During the night a few days ago someone cut the water hose at the Corvett service station, operated by E. C. Giles and son, allowing the water to run the remainder of the night, thus causing a loss to Mr. Giles and son. The apparent purpose of the taking of the hose was that gas might be syphoned from some car or truck. It seems that nothing is safe when someone wants what they do not have or cannot earn.

A Cleveland bathing beauty prize was given a contestant in street attire, although one seldom looks for imagination in these awards.
