Conclude Visit Here

Mrs. Harry Hartsook, her mother, Mrs. Coe, and sons, Robert, Kieth and Clark, together with Roy Hartsook, a brother of Mrs. Trunkenholz, whom she had not seen for eight years, have been visiting here from Brawley, Calif., for the past five weeks, stopping at Burlington and Holyoke, Colorado; Beatrice, Stella, Eagle, Greenwood and Elmwood. Roy is in the trucking business there, hauling to Los Angeles, San Diego and other cities. They drove from California to Sidney, Nebr., in three days, with no night driving.

They started for home Thursday morning, going by way of Alliance and Holyoke to visit two sisters and a brother of Mrs. Hartsook. They expect to arrive home in time for the opening of school which is later there than here. The folks here had a most enjoyable visit with them.

Enjoyable Picnic

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Erickson gave a picnic dinner to the Erickson and Mathis families at their home on the farm. There were present George Erickson and family and Albert Erickson and son, Everett from Kirk, Colorado; Mr. and Mrs. Hans Nelson from Mason City; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bloom and family, of Waverly, and that includes Harry Anderson and family, Emma Hanson and daughter Gladys and the latter's family, of Fullerton; Grandmother Erickson, who is past 80 years old, Floyd Erickson and two friends from Louisville. On the Mathis side were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mathis, Mrs. Susie Cook and family from Elmwood, Mrs. Cora McDowell and family, of near Lincoln, Elmer Mathis and family; Dr. and Mrs. N. D. Talcott and family and this includes William McGill and family. It was a perfect day and a perfect dinner. Time went all too fast and before anyone realized it the sun was sinking in the west and they departed for home.

SAFE IN STORM

Danhard Reichstadt of this city has received word of the safety of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reichstadt, who are residents of the hurricane visited section of Texas. The Reichstadt home was unroofed during the storm but the family escaped injury, they state, but are having trouble in finding shelter.

They write that there is considerable sickness developing as the result of the storm and the deposits of mud and silt over the valley lands. To add to the general demoralized condition floods are threatened along the Rio Grande valley.

U. B. and Evangelical Churches in a Merger

United Brethren Conference Unanimously Approves Consolidation of the Two Groups.

Seward, Neb.—Formation of a union of the United Brethren and Evangelical churches of Nebraska was unanimously voted by the sixtieth annual session of the United Brethren conference here Thursday afternoon.

The vote to unite the two churches followed a recommendation by Rev. E. A. Jackson of Lincoln, state superintendent of the Evangelical church, that the action be taken by the conference to place official sanction upon merging of the two churches that has been in progress for some time.

Rev. Mr. Jackson and a delegation of Evangelical pastors headed by Rev. Harry Schwab of Omaha attended the conference for the express purpose of effecting the union of the two churches. Rev. Mr. Jackson, in his address, reviewed the history of the two churches from their organization in the sa emounty in Pennsylvania in 1800 with the same religious doctrine.

Dr. A. P. Vannice of York was re-elected superintendent of the conference for the thirteenth consecutive time at a business session during the afternoon. In his report to the conference he recalled that the first United Brethren church in the state was organized at Liberty in 1873.

H. W. Myers, minister of the first church, is attending the conference. He is now engaged in farming at Broken Bow.

Dr. S. S. Hough, Dayton, O., general secretary of the board of administration of the United Brethren church, delivered the main address of the Thursday session and will appear prominently in later programs.

Dr. J. R. Overmiller, president of York college, addressed the conference during the morning session. The conference will close Sept. 10.

SHUNS EUROPEAN QUARRELS

S. S. Washington, At Sea.—A firm resolve to steer clear of European politics by United States Ambassador-At-Large Norman H. Davis. Mr. Davis further indicated he wanted it understood his mission to Europe was merely to make himself available for discussion in connection with the technical preparation of the disarmament convention.

He expects to begin disarmament conversations with British statesmen immediately on his arrival in London Wednesday morning. He apparently was not disturbed by reports that the British press had hailed his coming with predictions of a naval construction race. It was understood Mr. Davis feels that as long as nations are not violating the London naval treaty there is nothing to be excited over.

The American delegates to the Geneva arms conference apparently are not ready to make optimistic predictions that an armed pact will be completed this fall. However, they are more hopeful of results because of indications that German and French differences on the question of the supervision of armaments before actual reduction are considerably improved.

YOUTH IS A TRAIN VICTIM

Scottsbluff, Neb.—Glen Dennis, 22, of Torrington, Wyo., died Sunday afternoon at a hospital here from injuries received earlier in the day when a westbound Burlington railroad train ran over one of his legs while he was sitting on some rails at Henry. The leg was amputated here and the death occurred soon afterward.

Dennis and a companion had been riding on an eastbound freight, which halted at Henry to allow a westbound train to pass. Dennis walked down the tracks a short distance and sat down. Authorities believe he fell asleep while waiting and did not see the approaching train. Dennis formerly lived at Pilger.

STRANDED BY FOREST FIRE

Winnipeg.—Five hundred motorists were reported stranded at White-mountain, Ont., unable to get thru forest fires raging along a seven-mile stretch on the trans-Canadian highway. The motorists were bound for Winnipeg, but there was little hope they would be able to reach this city by night. One report said the railway station at Elma had been destroyed by the flames. Approximately 100 men were drafted for duty against the fires which threatened to cause further damage in the dry timber along the railroad's rights of way.

GROUP BUYS LIFE COMPANY

St. Louis.—Circuit Judge H. A. Hamilton Thursday approved the sale of the Missouri State Life Insurance company to a group of New York financiers headed by David Mil-ton, son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Walter W. Head, former president of the American Bankers' association. The sale price under the plan submitted by the New York group is 2 million dollars. The corporation formed by the group to purchase and operate the Missouri State, which has nearly a billion dollars of insurance in force, is the General American Life Insurance company. Head will be its president. In approving the sale plan, Judge Hamilton said he felt his action was in the interest of all creditors and policyholders and a delay in settling the fate of the company might result in heavy losses to policyholders.

R. Emmet O'Malley, state superintendent of insurance, recently took charge of the Missouri State's affairs and it was upon his application that Judge Hamilton approved the sale to the General American. Judge Hamilton's decision was delivered before a crowded courtroom. Promptly thereafter, the judge and attorneys went to the judge's private chambers to work over the decree of sale.

Ernest Green, attorney for Joseph Goodman, dissenting policyholder and also an attorney, moved for a new trial on O'Malley's motion. He had an appeal motion draw in case Judge Hamilton should deny the retrial. Goodman urged mutualization of the company. Arthur V. Simpson, attorney for holders of 30,000 shares of the company's stocks, also opposed the sale.

EX-NEBRASKAN CALLED IN ENCEPHALITIS WAR

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 31.—Dr. Cornelius B. Philip, former Nebraskan and now on the staff of Rocky Mountain spotted fever laboratory of the United States public health service, stopped here today en route to St. Louis, where he has been assigned as one of a group of four to study encephalitis or sleeping sickness.

He said the disease evidently is not contagious, as few cases are known of more than one member of a family being afflicted.

Dr. Philip was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1923, spent a year in Africa studying yellow fever with the Rockefeller foundation, and later took a Ph. D. degree in biology at the University of Minnesota. He has specialized in medical research since.

NRA Head Says Buy Campaign Starts Sept. 20

Johnson in Labor Day Talk Pledges National Drive Before the End of This Month.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—One of the greatest Labor day throngs in Chicago's history Monday heard Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator appeal for a nationwide consumers buying campaign.

Addressing a throng of nearly a quarter of a million persons through a system of loud speakers that carried his message over the world's fair grounds, General Johnson reassured his listeners that a federally directed campaign would start about Sept. 20 to influence citizens to buy freely.

To Convince People. "We shall begin a campaign," he said, "to try to convince the people of the need to buy freely—not as a patriotic duty, but as a prudent use of money."

With labor working shorter hours, receiving more money, commodities advancing in price and industrial costs mounting, the general said, there was bound to be an increase in the price to the consumer soon. He said:

"But the President who sponsored this recovery program is not going to see it run away with profiteering."

He indicated that the government might resort to extraordinary powers, if necessary.

He emphasized strongly that the law has talons and that the codes will be enforced. He added:

"We welcome opinions of persons who do not wish to comply with the law, but it must be remembered that ultimate decision rests with the President of the United States."

"For violators, we can take away the blue eagle and if that's not enough there are plenty of penalties."

There was no employer, he added.

under the blue eagle who had not signed up voluntarily. He denied that the government was using a boycott campaign to force employers into line.

"I may go a step further and say although this Labor day was the first objective, we shall not stop. You cannot stop a movement like this. It is unfair to the loyal and patriotic men who have put up the blue eagle to permit any competitor to refuse to put him up."

Johnson said that specific figures on re-employment since conception of the recovery code were not available, but added that a quick census was planned a little later by individual reports to determine the number who had returned to work under codes and agreements with the President.

No Labor Restrictions. Johnson spoke under auspices of the Illinois Federation of Labor. To labor he emphasized that the right to organize and bargain would not be violated. Johnson said that while employers are not compelled to agree to any scale of wages demanded by workers, the employers had the obligation not to attempt to interfere with free organization.

SHOCK DUE TO KIDNAPING

St. Paul.—Mrs. William Hamm, sr., 60 years old, died at her home after an illness that dated from the kidnaping on June 15 of her son, William Hamm, jr., wealthy St. Paul brewer. Mrs. Hamm's physician said her illness was the result of the shock she experienced when her son was abducted and the four tense days before his release after payment of $100,000 ransom. She was the widow of the late William Hamm, sr., St. Paul capitalist and industrialist, who built up the Theodore Hamm Brewing company, now headed by his son. Mrs. Hamm is survived by her son and three daughters.

At that, we don't believe the men who now have to kiss a face full of paint have as big a kick as the women used to when they had to kiss one full of whiskers.
