One of the most interesting of the parades at last year's Korn Karnival was the Children's and Novelty parade, that included six divisions with prize awards in each.

The division that drew the largest number of entries was the "Comic Strip" caricatures. Prizes were given by both Omaha newspapers for the best impersonation of their respective funnyland characters in addition to the regular cash prizes for that Auto Accident particular division hung up by the parade committee. As a result competition was keen.
