

CCC Camp to be Removed from Louisville Soon

Group of Some 200 Young Men Will Be Sent to Red Cloud for Work During Winter.

The residents of Louisville will soon miss the presence of the 200 young men who have been located just east of the city in the Civilian Conservation Corps camp since early in the summer.

The orders have been received at the camp to prepare to leave on November 1st for the western part of the state, they to be at a camp established at Red Cloud and where they will remain for the winter season.

The young men have been engaged in the building up of the state park at Louisville and have made the park a real place of beauty, altho there remains much yet to be done to complete the job. The work has not only given the state one of its most attractive recreational spots, but as well, has served to keep this fine force of young men employed during the past summer. It is hoped that if this conservation and reforestation work is continued through the summer months, that Louisville may again secure a force of the young men to carry on the work to completion in the park and other beauty spots in that locality.

ATTENDS HOMECOMING

Mrs. Robert B. Hayes of this city was among the ex-grads to attend the homecoming at Morningside college at Sioux City the past week. Mrs. Hayes is a graduate of this well known college and her daughter, Miss Jean, is also a student at the college at this time. While there Mrs. Hayes and daughter enjoyed the homecoming football game between the South Dakota Teacher's college of Vermillion and Morningside, the Vermillion team winning 13 to 7, one touchdown of Morningside not being allowed.

LOCATE IN CITY

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Meisinger with their daughter, Mrs. Harry Thimngan and little daughter, are now located in this city as residents, moving here Tuesday from the vicinity of Elmwood. They are living in the residence property of J. J. Meisinger which is located on west Oak street. The residents of the community will be pleased to welcome this estimable family to this city to make their home.

PICKET NEAR AVERY

Pickets for the farmer's strike were to be found Tuesday night along the highway at the foot of Avery hill, south of Omaha, where they were presenting their cause to the farmers and truckers bringing produce and cattle into the Omaha market. The picketing was peaceful and served to check but little the trucks going into the city and no attempt was made to argue with the truckers who were bringing out feeder cattle to the farms from Omaha.

UNDERGOING TREATMENT

A. M. Arries, former resident of this city is at the Clarkson hospital at Omaha where he was taken on Tuesday to undergo a course of treatment as to his diet. Mr. Arries is in the city a few days ago to visit the old friends and who enjoyed very much the opportunity of the visit. It is hoped that in a few days he may be able to return to his home in Omaha and in improved condition.

DOING VERY NICELY

The many friends of Mrs. Dick March will be pleased to know that she is doing just as well as possible following a cesarian operation performed at the Nicholas Senn hospital Monday. The patient last evening was reported as rallying very nicely from the serious operation.

SPEAKS ON NRA

The local Rotary club at their session Tuesday noon had the pleasure of having with them J. H. Kerns, of Auburn, who discussed for the speaking period the National Recovery Act. Mr. Kerns has given a great deal of study to the various phases of the act and particularly to that which applies to the retail business interests of the country. His remarks were followed closely by the members of the club and who felt very appreciative of the opportunity of having with them this well versed gentleman.

The meeting was under the leadership of E. A. Wurl and the musical part of the program consisted of a number of songs by the members.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WINTERS

The funeral of the late Mrs. George Winters was held on Tuesday morning at the St. Peter's church at Omaha, the requiem high mass being celebrated by Monsignor Stenson, pastor.

The body was brought to this city for interment in the Oak Hill cemetery, a very large number being present from Omaha, Missouri Valley and Sioux City for the services. The prayer at the grave was by Father Joseph J. Kaczmarek of the Holy Rosary church of this city.

River Projects Slated to Go On Through Winter

Assure Employment for 9,000 Men, Says Engineer at Kansas City; Developments to Date.

Kansas City, Mo.—Work on the vast river development program will continue thru the winter despite snow and ice, Capt. Theodore Wyman, jr., United States engineer, says. Employment will be assured for 9,000 men. Developments to date in the big navigation, power, flood control, irrigation and relief project have been:

An additional allotment by the public works administration of $9,500,000 to the Fort Peck dam in Montana for diversion tunnels.

Starting of work at Rulo bend, Nebraska City and other river points bringing the total number of projects opened between Kansas City, Mo., and Sioux City, Ia., to eighteen.

Employment of more than 3,000 men on work on the channel, most of whom are at work between here and Sioux City.

The number of men employed, Wyman said, will increase as additional contracts are let.

The tunnel allotment brought to a total of $25,000,000 the fund available for the Fort Peck dam, a project which will cost a total of $65,000,000. The local United States engineer's office has advertised for drilling of subsurface core tests at the dam site and in the tunnel areas.

During construction of the mammoth dam, the river will be diverted thru tunnels approximately a mile and a half in length. A considerable area must be cleared for this project.

Detailed plans will not be made until borings are completed. In general, however, it is planned to build an earth filled, rock faced dam 231 feet high and perhaps two miles long. It will be one of the largest dams in the world and will form a lake 171 miles long and three miles wide at points.

The impounded waters will be used to operate a 90 thousand horsepower hydro-electric power plant and to supply an even flow of water necessary for navigation of the six and nine foot lower river channels now under construction.

Weeping Water

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reese and son, Richard of Louisville, were guests for the day on last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Shales where all enjoyed the visit very much.

Margaret Blake, the nine year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blake, while working about the home received a very severe burn on her arm when she reached over a boiling teakettle. The injury was very painful and has been very much inflamed. However it is mending at this time.

Peter H. Miller and his son, Pete were visiting at Pawnee City for last Tuesday afternoon and evening and while they were away the cream station was looked after by V. O. Miller.

County Commissioner Fred H. Gorder was looking after some business for the county in the western portion of the county on Wednesday.

Mrs. Dunmire of St. Cloud, Florida, who has been visiting here for the past many months at the home of her brother, Frank Bailey, speaking of the town of Weeping Water, said she likes living here, but having resided in New York state, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska and Florida said that Florida where she made her home for years was the very best place to make a home she knows.

Will Make Home Here.

Fred Rehmeier is having an addition made to his farm home which will afford a very fine home for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Rehmeier. This will place the parents on the farm where they can enjoy their declining years. W. W. Davis of Weeping Water, the contractor and builder is doing the building, the materials coming from the Binger Lumber company.

Raised Some Fine Corn.

Mr. Neilson, who farms one of the farms of Troy L. Davis, south of Weeping Water, had induced the ground to yield a very fine crop this year, so fine, in fact that Mr. Davis is having a new crib built in order to care for the crop. He is also having a new crib built on the farm where Troy Jewell farms.

Enjoyed Pheasant Hunt.

On last Saturday morning G. R. Dinger and son, Ralph departed for Neligh where they visited at the home of a brother, Mr. John Binger for over the week end and had their share of shooting pheasants. Mr. Binger reports very good crops of corn along the way with some poor spots now and then, but not so many. In places the corn will yield as much as sixty or sixty-five bushels to the acre.

Making Substantial Repairs.

W. L. Hobson of the Hobson Funeral Home, has been making some substantial repairs on the buildings of the farm which he has recently acquired some two miles south and a little east of the Cascade school, the work being done in placing a new roof on the buildings and an addition to the house in order to provide for more room. The work is being done by T. J. Jamison. The place is being farmed by Harold Thomason.

Entertained Eastern Star.

Mesdames Chris Rasmussen and Fred Rehmeier at the home of the latter, entertained the members of the Order of Eastern Star on last Tuesday afternoon where they enjoyed a very sociable time at the beautiful country home and also were served a very fine luncheon. A worthwhile program was also presented.

Grandmother Frizzel Poorly.

Mrs. W. H. Frizzel, who suffered a fractured hip two years ago while she and husband were residing in Plattsmouth, has been very poorly. The injured part gives this good woman much trouble. She is well nigh eighty years of age and the husband is past 85.

Says Business Very Good.

John E. Johnson, the village blacksmith, says that at the present time he is enjoying a very fine business, as he is kept at the work, and with the assistance of R. J. Emberry doing work for the Jasper Stone company, who are getting out a large amount of stone for both ripping and crushing, some for paving for the coming spring. This company is employing a large number of men and John is also enjoying much of this work.

Arrived in Nick of Time.

The Rev. E. S. Pangborn, pastor of the Methodist church of Weeping Water and as well of the church at Nehawka, while on his way to Nehawka for the conduct of the services at that place, happened along where there had been an auto wreck in which Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Fleming of Plattsmouth were injured. Rev. Pangborn stopped and assisted the injured to get out of the wrecked car, also taking Mrs. Fleming in the car to the doctor in Nehawka, another car taking Mr. Fleming. When this was done and no more services were required, he went on to the church and conducted the services which were scheduled. This is sure the right kind of Christianity and a good kind for all to practice.

Visiting Here with Friends.

Some thirteen years ago Messrs. Neil and Keith Hutchins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Reese Hutchins, departed from Weeping Water, two mere youths, and settled in Colorado where they engaged in farming, and where they have remained since. They returned last week for a visit with the parents and the friends, and as during the thirteen years they had grown from sturdy boys to robust men, they were not recognized by many of the people of Weeping Water, but they seemed to know everybody almost as when they left. They enjoyed a fine visit and returned to their home at Arriba, Colorado, on last Monday.

Has Very Attractive Window.

Whoever is responsible, we do not know, but the east window of the S. P. Day store presents a very attractive appearance, being dressed in the season's garb of mother nature with the fodder in the shock and the pumpkin without the frost and multi-colored autumn leaves and with fall fruits and vegetables making a very pretty scene. Just as well have things looking pretty as well as doing business.
