

Officers Gather Here to Confer on Bank Robbery

State Sheriff Michael Endres with Deputy Fred Benton Join Officers of Cass and Otoe Counties

From Wednesday's Daily
A conference was held here this morning by officers of the law in eastern Nebraska regarding the plans for the search for the robbers who on Tuesday robbed the Merchants National bank of Nebraska City.

The officers here included State Sheriff Michael Endres, Deputy State Sheriff Fred Benton, Sheriff Carl Ryder of Otoe county and Chief of Detectives A. C. Anderson of the Omaha police department.

Sheriff Ryder was but a few minutes behind the bandits as they left Nebraska City, but was given the information that a Chevrolet coach corresponding to the description of the one the robbers were driving, had turned east on a gravel road from No. 75 and missed the robber car. He later had driven west to the highway and followed the reports of the car going west in the direction of Weeping Water.

Sheriff Ryder is of the opinion that the robbers were able to get away to the south from the Weeping Water road which would give them a straight road on to the extreme south of the state or into Kansas. This view was also held by a number of the officers who were here.

That the robbers may have a hide-away somewhere in this county or Sarpy or Otoe is given some credence by the fact that the robbers made away with a large amount of coinage which would be heavy to handle and also bulky and which could best be handled by a hurried trip to the gang hangout and its concealment.

VISIT AT NEHAWKA

From Wednesday's Daily
County Attorney and Mrs. W. G. Kieck with the children, motored to Nehawka today where they visited at the home of Mrs. Kieck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd. Mr. Lloyd has been seriously ill for the past few days.

HOLD MEETING

The Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church were entertained at the Frank A. Cloldt home Monday evening.

The impressive initiation service was held for Miss Marie Vallery and Miss Valda Dysart who were taken in as members.

An interesting devotional period led by Mrs. Louis Lohnes followed the initiation.

The business meeting was then called to order and matters of importance transacted.

For the social hour the recreation committee represented by Anna Margaret McCarty introduced some games. These proved most effective in producing a great deal of merriment.

At the conclusion of the evening delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Cloldt and she was assisted by Frances Cloldt and Anna Margaret McCarty.

If you are seeking favors or decorative features for the Hallow'en dinner or gathering, you can find just what you wish at the Bates Book store.

Fine Program Presented at High School

Program Presented Under Auspices of Faculty, Students Assisting in Special Numbers.

From Wednesday's Daily
Last evening a most enjoyable entertainment of music as well as a one act drama and comedy sketch, made an occasion that all who attended will long remember.

The event was arranged under the auspices of the faculty of the school and who were assisted by several of the students in various lines of the entertainment.

The boys glee club was heard in two fine numbers that were much enjoyed and gave this clever organization an opportunity of showing their skill.

Miss Helene Perry, a member of the school faculty, gave one of her artistic dramatic readings, "The Coming of Anne to Green Gables," a most pleasing feature of the program.

Miss Mildred Knoflicek was presented in two violin numbers that were finely presented and included "Meditation" from "Thais."

In a comedy feature Tritsch-Garnett & Co., were presented, these two comedians being assisted in their presentation of "Robin Hood" by Kenneth Armstrong, Walter Porter, Stuart Porter and George Adam, the young men proving themselves very clever in their skit.

The high school faculty quartet composed of Miss Cora Williams, Mr. L. L. Starrett and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Figley, were heard in two numbers, "The Old Refrain" and "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers."

The eighth grade girls were presented in two vocal selections which were given in a fine manner that showed the excellent musical training of the girls.

The one act play, "Ambition" was given by members of the faculty and who proved that in addition to being excellent teachers that they had dramatic ability that was exceptionally fine. R. Foster Patterson appeared as the ambitious district attorney whose blindness to all but the onward sweep toward his political goal, was dispelled by the courage of his wife, this role being taken by Miss Florence Beighley. Miss Estelle Baird appeared as a witness, Russell Reeder as the faithful family servant and Miss Pearl Staats as the maid.

Other members of the faculty who served on committees included Miss Nordholm, Miss Weyrich, Miss Whalen, Mr. Rothert and Miss Henriksen. "Tim's Racketeers" orchestra provided the music. Mr. Devoe presided.

The faculty had as their guest, John Elliott, grade school student who last year received an injury at a track meet which led to his confinement in an Omaha hospital most of the summer and necessitating several operations. He has endured a long period of suffering as a result of the infection which he contracted, but has now been home for several weeks and is learning to walk again with the aid of a leg brace. The faculty and students were glad to have him as a guest of honor, and to look forward to his returning to school in the near future.

The program was pleasing to the large audience and perhaps again the faculty may be persuaded to sponsor a program.

HAVE PLEASANT MEETING

The Social Workers of the Methodist church held their regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the hospitable home of Mrs. W. L. Heinrich, who was assisted by Mrs. W. A. Wells in entertaining and serving.

The ladies made their plans for the book review which will be given on Thursday evening by Dr. Frank G. Smith of Omaha, the book being "Miss Bishop" by Bess Streeter Aldrich.

A short musical program was given, Misses Mary Ann Rosencrans and Velma Wells giving two vocal numbers, being accompanied by Miss Jane Boedeker, who also gave two fine piano solos.

The afternoon was closed by the hostess serving very dainty and delicious refreshments.
