In line with their former practices the ladies of the Christian church served one of those excellent dinners for which they have won an enviable reputation for the Thanksgiving dinners of this organization of the Christian church of Murray have gained a very favorable mention all over the county and many also attend from outside the county. This time there were groups from many of the towns in the county, Plattsmouth furnishing the largest delegation with Murdoch second, and there were many from Weeping Water and other points who knew of the excellence of the dinner which the ladies serve. Makes Startling Discovery.

W. J. Hobson, the miller, who last week dressed a hog for the larder and as well for the lard, while working with the animal found a very peculiar bit of foreign substance in the lung of the animal. It was like a bit of wood about an inch in length with a thread or hair like appendage some seven inches in length, which tapered much finer at the extreme end. Mr. Hobson seems disposed to send the find to the wonder department of the World-Herald.

They had as well make a guess on it as anyone.

INCREASED FORCE AT WORK

The force at work on the Boy Scout cabin project, CWA M-96, was materially increased Tuesday morning, with five men at the campsite, finishing up construction of the driveway and gate into the grounds and digging the foundation trenches. In addition two trucks went to work in the afternoon, hauling brick to the site, ready for the start of the masonry work this morning. Two brick masons and a mason's tender were added to the force today to rush this part of the work through before cold weather might prevent brick work. There are also two material loaders at work here in town loading the brick trucks and two donated trucks for hauling lumber, supplied today by the Cloidt and Tidball lumber yards. Much of the dimension lumber required for framing the building will be on the site by tomorrow. Flooring and sheeting will be left till later, so it may be cleared of nails in the material yard. This is work in which the members of the Scout troop may lend aid Saturday.

The size of the main cabin will be 20x40, with 12x16 kitchen annex adjoining this building to the south. The front 27 feet of the main building will be the lounge and recreation room, while the back 13 feet will be the bunk room. The kitchen was decided upon by the committee as being no more expensive to build than a screened porch and much more serviceable at a boys' camp, the inhabitants of which will probably prefer to roam the woods than sit on a screened porch while they are there.

An adequate fireplace will be provided in the main assembly hall.

At the session of the grand council, Royal and Select Masters of Nebraska at Omaha Tuesday, James M. Robertson of this city was re-elected as grand treasurer.

Webb of Spencer, Ia., general grand marshal for the entire order in the United States; and from the Iowa council, Ross J. Camblin, Atlantic, past grand master, George F. Sanders, Des Moines, past grand master; George E. Masters, Glenwood, grand recorder, and Earl E. Dusenberry, Des Moines, deputy grand high priest, and others.

Young People are Wedded at Nebraska City

Miss Alice Smith and Mr. Harold Seay of This City Married by Judge Simpson Today.

From Wednesday's Daily This afternoon at Nebraska City occurred the marriage of two of the well known young people of this community, Miss Alice Smith and Mr. Harold Seay, the young people accompanied by Miss Helen Woolcott and Mr. Frank Smith, brother of the bride, motoring to the Otoe county city, where the wedding was performed by Judge T. Morton Simpson.

The bride wore a gown of NRA blue crepe with hat and accessories to match. Miss Woolcott wore Nazrus blue and with accessories in keeping with the tones of the gown.

The gentlemen wore dark suits.

The announcement of the engagement of the young people had just been made, but the early date of the wedding had been kept a secret and came as a surprise to the large circle of friends over the community.

The bridal party will be entertained this evening at a dinner party given at the home of the bride's parents on South Eighth street.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Smith and was born and reared in this community, receiving her education in the local schools. She is a young lady that has a large circle of warm friends who will learn with pleasure of her new happiness.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Seay of near this city and he has grown up here and was graduated from the local high school in the class of 1932. A young man of fine character and personality he has the respect and confidence of all who have the pleasure of knowing him.

The friends will join in their best wishes to this estimable couple for many years of success.

POORHOUSES STILL GOING STRONG!

Still proving to be one of the most loved plays of all time, "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse," is also one of the best plays of all time. The Hazel McOwen Stock Co. brings a complete production of this great drama of mother love to Plattsmouth, next Friday, Dec. 15, at the Platz theater. The script used by the company is the same script from which the picture made by the Fox Film Co. two years ago, starring James Dunn and Sally Eilers, was adapted. The part of Mother Saunders, played in the picture by May Marsh, will be played by Miss Hazel McOwen, and friends of this popular leading lady will be pleasantly surprised at the ease with which she handles a most difficult role.

In answer to the request of Ralph Moody, manager of the troupe, for letters from patrons requesting various of their favorite plays, "Over the Hill" has been far in the lead. This modern version of the old, old story contains all the heart interest, all the intense moments, all the lovable humor of the original play. One moment brings an unashamed tear,—the next gales of hearty, spontaneous laughter.

The appointment of Alexander Antonovich Trovavosky as Soviet ambassador certainly has cast a spell over poor spellers.
