Approximately 150 delegates and officers will be in attendance to hear the reports of the sixteen standing committees of the association, which carry on a year-round program of investigation of educational problems, and to elect three of the state officers—the president, vice-president, and treasurer—the secretary being appointed by the executive committee.

MAGICIAN HERE SATURDAY

On next Saturday, Dec. 9th—yes, that's this week—a very unusual and intensely puzzling exhibition of magic art will be given at the Legion auditorium by Professor Leonardo Mefesto. This exhibition will be given at 2:30 and the price of admission is 35c—however, and this is the jolly part about it—the merchants and professional men of Plattsmouth co-operating with the Ad club have underwritten this performance and you can get tickets absolutely free by asking for them. Just go into any store or office and say you want a ticket for the magician show. You don't have to buy anything—just ask for it and you will get it. If you don't get it one place ask another. The tickets may not all be distributed before tomorrow. Now don't ask for more than you need. We want everybody to go that wants to but no tickets wasted. This performance will be especially interesting to children and we want them to have first chance, but mother and day and Cousin Lou and Uncle Arthur are all invited. Remember the day is next Saturday, Dec. 9, the hour is 2:30 and the place Legion auditorium. This entertainment is part of the Christmas program put on by the Ad club and will be repeated Saturday, Dec. 16th and Saturday, Dec. 23. We expect the capacity of the auditorium will be taxed at all three of these performances. Get your ticket early and don't fail to see this wizard perform.

Rotarians Hear of Unfair Retail Competition

C. C. Wescott Discusses the Practices That Were Caused in the Throes of Depression.

Tuesday noon before the local Rotary club, C. C. Wescott, well known clothier and business man, was the guest speaker and gave a most interesting talk that covered some of the conditions that were caused by the effects of the depression on the retail business of the nation.

Mr. Wescott had been asked to discuss some of the unfair practices and methods of business that had arisen in the years of the depression and which are now being eliminated under the NRA. The speaker stressed the desperate competition that had led to these and cited among other evils that had arisen was the selling of leaders at less than the cost to boost trade, the use of armies of canvassers in the communities, misrepresenting of price and quality values to induce trade and the practice of radio sales talks that had injured retailers over the nation to a great extent.

Dr. P. T. Heineman was called on and gave a very interesting talk on his recent trip to the south and his observation of that portion of the country.

The high school boys who will be Rotarians for December were presented, they being James Robertson, senior and Henry Kaffenberger, juniors.

The meeting was under the leadership of Frank M. Bestor and afforded a most pleasing program and talk.

PLAN FOOTBALL PARTY

The football season of 1933 having drawn to the close the eighteen letter men of Coach Fred Rothert's squad are planning their annual party and get-together to celebrate the close of the season which is also the close of the high school football career of all but three of the squad.

The letter men of 1933 are William Ronne, William Edwards, Kenneth Armstrong, Lorence Rhodes, Bernard Knoflick, Oliver Taylor, Maynard McCleary, William Jensen, Edwin Kalina, Wayne Hiner, Earl Lamberson, Howard Hirz, Joe Graves, Edgar Seitz, Jesse Taylor, Thomas Grosshans, Louis Kief, and William Crouch.

Those who will be left for the 1934 team will be Howard Hirz, William Crouch and William Edwards, all juniors this year, as well as a number of promising youngsters from the sophomore and freshmen classes who were not lettered.

The team had a fine finish of their season in decisive wins over Nebraska City and the Nebraska School for the Deaf.

As nearly as we can judge from the criticism of Father Charles F. Coughlin inside and outside the church, the critics think he should have more music and comedy on his programs.

No better town in which to reside than Plattsmouth.
