We are getting so we can take our crises or leave 'em alone.

Mary Pickford believes wives should be "reasonably selfish." No doubt husbands should be as unselfish as possible.

Another headache for Job Finder Farley: Little America, the Byrd base in the Antarctic, is to have a post-office.

Governor Rolph objects to outsiders telling Californians what to do and not to do. He believes, so to speak, in states' rights.

"Few successful men are bachelors," says a writer. It is well known that a rabbit does not run its best unless there's something behind it.

Satan is busy these days. He is taking lots of fellows aside and telling them what a cinch it would be for them to be elected to some office.

The navy department announces 102 new war ships are to be built. If we can't have it any other way evidently we'll shoot peace into somebody.

Someone asked a man if he intended to go to a town some distance to hunt wolves. "Why should I when all I have to do is open the door and shoot?" he replied.

It seems Tammany Hall in New York is to undergo a cleanup. The interesting question rises—how deep may one scrape on Tammany to make it clean and still have anything left?

Gene Tunney and others should not be upset at not getting their names in the social register, for after all a person is fortunate now if he can keep his name in the telephone book.

The New Deal may have a few jokers in it, but will give better hands all around than the raw deal with a stacked deck which was once considered good enough for most of us.

A little over a year ago Will Rogers was mentioned as a candidate for President of the United States. Now he is mentioned as a possible candidate for governor of California. Will, too, is slipping.

Professor Irvin announces a list of nineteen men who understand money, and we rather the inference that the rest of us would be catalogued as those who don't. Well, we won't attempt to conceal our ignorance. We have never had more than a passing acquaintance with money.

It used to be you could criticize a man's wife, but not his dog. Nowadays, you can even venture so far as to question the nobility of his dog's ancestry, but you can't question his whiffy. A friendship of long standing was broken up one night last week when a man was told that his spirituous offering, just from Canada, was "a good blend."

The surgical matter of altering fingerprints for criminals and others who wish to escape identification is said to be very painful, expensive and unself-factory to everyone except, perhaps, the surgeon. Of course, it might be that one reason the operations have not been very successful is that the surgeon's skill in the case wasn't of a much higher type than that of his ethics.

MORATORIUM FOR MISSOURI

St. Louis.—Describing the condition of farmers as "desperate," William Hirth, president of the Missouri Farmers association, asked for enactment in Missouri of a mortgage moratorium law similar to the Minnesota statute upheld Monday by the U. S. supreme court. The Minnesota law, enacted as an emergency measure, extends to three years the time in which the owner may redeem property sold under mortgage foreclosure. Hirth asserted the foreclosure situation, instead of abating, was becoming more serious, as loan companies became more insistent on payment of mortgages and interest.

VLADIVOSTOK LINE PLANNED

Seattle.—Shipping board vessels—possibly some of those rushed to completion in World war days—may soon be plying the North Pacific to the land of the Soviets. On the trade lanes to Vladivostok, as well as to Japan and to the lonely Aleutian Islands, the plans of a Seattle shipping company would send vessels on twice-a-month sailings.

"So far as we know, it will be the first American line on this range (to Vladivostok)," said G. F. Thorndyke. He is the president of the Thorndyke Shipping company.

WILL ROGERS SPIKES TALK

Riverside, Calif.—With the statement he would "rather be a poor actor than a poor governor," Will Rogers spiked reports he might become a gubernatorial candidate. He was told that his name had been mentioned in connection with a forthcoming political meeting at San Jose. "I'm not a candidate for anything," answered the actor. "I'd rather be a poor actor than a poor governor. After raving through these fellows for so many years I'm satisfied to remain fancy free, to go where I please when I please."

POSSIBLE CHURCH MERGER

Chicago.—A step toward the merger of the Unitarian and Universalist churches was taken at the annual meeting of the Universalist ministers of Illinois and Wisconsin at St. Paul's Universalist church. A number of Unitarian ministers attended. The following resolution was adopted: "We approve the desire to further all practicable steps toward the common fellowship of our two denominations in hopeful anticipation of ultimate unity."

BLUEGRASS SEED IS BURNED

Paris, Ky.—Fire was used as an economic weapon. By agreement of the federal farm credit administration, the federal intermediate credit bank and the Kentucky Bluegrass Seed Co-operative association, 200 thousand bushels of "light fancy" bluegrass seed were ordered burned to "increase the valuation of the better grades of bluegrass."

The seed was part of the 1931, 1932 and 1933 crop stored here, of which 1,500,000 bushels still lay un-sold.

WON'T HEAD ROAD FANS

Omaha.—W. B. Cheek, of Omaha, who as state vice president became acting head of the Nebraska Good Roads association at the death of the president, Frank A. Huston, of Basset, Neb., said he "absolutely will not accept the presidency."

"I will take over the reins until a new president can be elected," said Cheek, "but I have too many other activities to want the job permanently." He said he favors an outstate man for the post.

WEATHER BALLOON FOUND

Des Moines.—A weather bureau balloon carrying meteorological instruments into the stratosphere released in Omaha Jan. 1 was recovered by a Mr. Ransom of New Virginia, Ia., the weather bureau here announced Friday. The instruments registered a height of twenty miles and a temperature of 78 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

WALES PRAISED AS DANCER

New York.—The prince of Wales is one of the world's best ballroom dancers, in the opinion of Alexander Danilova, ballerina of the Monte Carlo ballet russe. Miss Danilova danced with him and stepped on his feet, not only once but twice. Dancing with royalty makes one nervous, she said, because "everybody is looking at you."

The Days of Real Sport

The snow of the past week, coupled with a bit of freezing weather to provide an icy undercoating, has made coasting the order of the day, and young and old, big and small are to be seen out engaging in this invigorating and healthful pastime.

One of our sedate schoolma'ams has confessed that she spent part of last Saturday afternoon on the slide, and thoroughly enjoyed it. If all of us would go in for a little more play, life would be filled with greater pleasures for everyone. Let's keep up the fun while the snow is with us—for it won't last long.

Both Eagle Teams Win

On Friday evening, January 5th, the first and second high school teams of Waverly were here to contest the like teams of the Eagle consolidated school. The game between the second teams was fast, furious and close—in fact an extra period was required to decide the winner, the game going to Eagle by a score of 16 to 14.

The Eagle first team, which had lost a game to Waverly a few weeks ago by 10 points, staged a great comeback to make up for their defeat, winning from the Waverly boys by a score of 27 to 16. Eagle has a mighty good team and will be able to hold her own against all ordinary competition.

RECALL BLIZZARD OF 1888

Dodge, Neb.—Memories of the great blizzard of 1888 were revived by Fairview school, five miles south of here, by Dan Stephens of Fremont, and Police Commissioner Myers of Omaha. Stephens was teacher of what is now the Fairview school when the blizzard struck forty-six years ago Friday. Myers was a pupil in the school.

Stephens told pupils at the school the storm struck shortly after noon. Before dark, he decided to risk reaching a house one-half mile east rather than take chances of freezing during the night. Hand-in-hand, the line of boys and girls fought their way to safety. Two small girls perished in a school house several miles south of Fairview.

Ford Believes NRA a Step to the New Era

Admires and Supports the President in Drive for Better Times and a Lasting Prosperity.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10.—Henry Ford, the outstanding holdout against signing an industrial code, broke his long silence today and discussed the efforts of the Washington administration to bring about recovery.

"Opposed to the NRA?" Mr. Ford exclaimed when the interviewer suggested in the beginning that that was his position. "Why should we be opposed to it? President Roosevelt is only trying to make industry do what we were doing 20 years ago."

Mr. Ford then revealed himself as an admirer of and sympathized with President Roosevelt and his efforts to lead the nation to lasting prosperity. He said repeatedly that the president is doing the best he can in an extraordinarily difficult situation.

Roosevelt Leading Way.

It is Mr. Ford's belief that the whole industrial system, especially the distribution phase of it, is shot through with faults. It must be reformed clear down to the bottom, he says, and he is convinced that some day it will be.

He believes furthermore, and gave clear indications of it today, that President Roosevelt may be leading the way to the complete reform he envisages, though it may take him another year to get really started.

Mr. Ford gave no hint whether he would or would not sign the auto code, but the impression he left was that signing would be an extra-legal affair in which he had no interest.

Is Being Improved.

"The NRA is being improved," Mr. Ford declared. "We believe absolutely in what it is trying to do. There were possibilities of harm at the beginning, but somebody with good sense seems to have stepped in."

"But if these supporters of the NRA keep on trying to crush competition they'll get left. Competition furnishes the incentive for people to rise; for genius to come up."

"But there's no way for them to crush out a rising spirit. If they try that they're up against a fundamental."

"A fundamental of the American character?" the interviewer asked. "No," said Mr. Ford. "A fundamental of the Lord Almighty."

Mr. Ford has in no way modified the strong views about money which he disclosed in detail in an interview a year ago. Money should be the means of industry, not its end, he believes.

Turning once more to the NRA, Mr. Ford remarked that it was an experiment on the way to the new era—a new era, in a real "machine age," starting now, which would lift the load of drudgery off millions of men and women.—World-Herald.

CITY OF YORK OVERRULED

City of York lost the mandamus suit it brought last year to compel State Auditor Price to register a $22,000 issue of storm and drainage sewer bonds, when the district court ruled against it Wednesday afternoon. The decision was in favor of the auditor for two reasons—the amount of the bond issue exceeded the statutory limitation of $10,000 for any one year, and the notice of election, published once in a weekly notice, was insufficient to comply with the law.
