Justice Overtaking Bad Men of Southwest

Authorities or Fellow Outlaws Are Disposing of Them One by One; Few Names Left.

Oklahoma City.—One by one the southwestern bad men of the bootleg school that graduated tough killers, bank robbers and kidnapers have met retributive justice either thru show-downs with officers or at the hands of fellow outlaws. With the killing Saturday of Ford Bradshaw, one of the meanest of the southwestern "tough hombres," by an officer in an isolated eastern Oklahoma roadhouse, only a few names of young men known as bandit chieftains were left on crime blotters.

Virtually every one of the outlaws able to gather weaker hoodlums under their command in this section started into crime as a hip-pocket bootlegger. Bob Brady, Harvey Bailey, George Kelly, Wilbur Underhill, Tradshaw and his brothers, Aussie Elliott, Eldon Wilson, Ed Davis, Blackie Thompson, Whitey Walker, Raymond Johnson, Jim Clark, Frank Delmar and the rest—all just a bunch of bootleggers who thought they didn't have to obey the law. Bailey, Kelly, Davis, Thompson, Walker and Johnson are in prison. Brady, Underhill, Bradshaw, Elliott and Wilson are in their graves. Bailey and Kelly are serving life terms in Leavenworth federal prison for the Charles F. Urchel kidnaping.

But the books are not closed. A number of desperadoes, including Clyde Barrow of Dallas, Tex.; Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd of eastern Oklahoma; Frank Delmar of Kansas; Jim Clark of Oklahoma and Richard T. Galatas of Little Rock have not been "erased." Clark and Delmar escaped from the Kansas State prison at Lansing with Bob Brady and four other men Jan. 19. As in the case of a previous escape from the Lansing prison made by Harvey Bailey and ten other last Memorial day, most of these last fugitives were either killed or recaptured.

The killing of Bradshaw and the capture last week of Ed Davis in Los Angeles recalled predictions of officers who led hundreds of possemen and national guardsmen in a search for gangsters in the Cookson hills. The officers said the criminals had been smoked out and predicted that one by one the desperadoes would be apprehended in widely scattered areas.

DENIED AN ARMY DISCHARGE

Sapulpa, Okl.—Beryl McHam, denied an honorable discharge from the army by President Roosevelt's first veto, wonders if he could be arrested as a deserter. "If they arrested me now, would they give me treatment in a prison hospital?" he mused as he looked back with despair upon his twelve year fight to gain exoneration for a wartime flat fight and his subsequent desertion. The president, sending back to congress a bill which would have given 36 year old McHam all the benefits of an honorably discharged soldier, cited a report from Secretary Dern, who pointed out McHam had left the army after being allowed to re-enlist to exchange his dishonorable discharge.

"I was sent overseas to kill, did more than my share of it, and was kicked out because of a common flat fight," McHam said. He enlisted a second time in 1922 but learned, he said, that this was not sufficient to exonerate him.

RUMORED CABINET CHANGES

Ferdinand Pecora, counsel to the senate committee investigating stock exchange practices, is named as the president's choice to succeed Conboy here.

Civil Works Program to End on March 30

Will Be Taken Over by State and Local Relief Groups—Month Earlier Than Expected.

Washington, March 5.—The civil works program is expected to end March 30, a full month ahead of the scheduled closing announced last week by President Roosevelt.

Harry L. Hopkins, emergency relief and civil works administrator, announced today that all civil works employes in cities of five thousand or over would be dropped from civil works March 30 and taken over by work divisions of state and local relief administrations April 1.

A definite announcement as to final disposition of the program in rural areas, where demobilization is proceeding rapidly, is expected on Hopkins' return March 16 from a brief action.

Ends in Dakota Now.

The entire program of civil works was ended today in North Dakota and South Dakota and in the drought areas of Minnesota and Kansas. Similar action may be taken shortly in drought areas of Wisconsin.

Demobilization will continue during the next four weeks as originally planned. It was pointed out that virtually all of the 1,500,000 persons who will be on the pay rolls March 30 will be in cities. The plan for demobilization calls for far more rapid disbanding of work forces in the country than in cities. This is due to the fact that farm work is beginning and most of the rural workers will find some sort of occupation.

The persons who will be transferred to work divisions will cease to be federal employes. They will become employes of the state and local relief organizations. While on civil works they were classed as federal employes and as such received the benefits of federal insurance in event of accident or death. They were paid by government checks. Hopkins said a new plan for payment is being worked out.

Checkup on Need.

Only those who can show need will be employed under the new plan. The need will be checked by the staff of local relief administrations acting under the state administration. Only one person in a family will be given work. Only able-bodied persons will be given jobs, others being cared for by direct relief.

The federal emergency relief administration will allot funds to the various states on the basis of needs. This money will be spent by local and state administrations which also will be required to supply a share of the cost of operation.

Wages will be the local prevailing rate but not less than 30 cents an hour. Hours of labor will be 24 a week.

Borah Charges Wars to Munitions Makers

Idaho Senator Opposes Naval Construction Bill—Claim Profit-earing Behind It All.

Washington.—Approaching virtually certain passage of the half billion dollar naval construction bill, the senate heard a vigorous plea for its rejection from Senator Borah, Idaho, who charged munitions manufacturers were responsible for all wars thru "insatiable greed" for "sordid profits."

Borah, strong disarmament advocate, in one of the most vigorous speeches in his career, declared American arms makers were now selling war equipment on a large scale in the orient. If war should break out between America and Japan, he said, our soldiers would be "torn limb from limb and disemboweled by munitions sold by their own compatriots." The pending measure would authorize the construction of nearly 100 new submarines and destroyers, one aircraft carrier and more than 1,000 airplanes.

He said France controlled munitions manufacture in all nations allied with her directly or indirectly. He added he had no hesitancy in saying if the bill passed arms dealers would "circulate statements, and impose on public men to make them believe they are true, that the United States recognized Russia for the purpose of attacking Japan and is completing her navy" for the same purpose. Propaganda spread by armament manufacturers in England and Germany, he said, had more to do with starting the world war than a naval race between the two countries.

Among the amendments pending is one requiring half the new airplanes be constructed in government factories and providing the government build such plants to avoid paying large profits to private manufacturers. Another would change the house 10 percent profit limitation on all new construction to make it "not more than" 10 percent, so the profits could be less.

WANT GOLD PRICE BOOSTED

Washington.—The committee for the nation urged the administration to raise the price of gold to the $41.34 an ounce maximum authorized by congress. Iting a declaration by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau that the gold program has been working well and that the price of commodities has approximately kept pace with the increased price of gold, the committee said:

"The more quickly we lift the price of gold to $41.34 the more powerful will be the forces of recovery. Rising values will again permit agriculture and industry to make a profit. This would release incentives to increase employment and broaden activity of every kind."

Farm products the committee said, "are still too low. They dropped 1-2 percent in the bureau of labor index of the week ending Feb. 24. In the same week the general index of commodity prices recorded the first decline of the present year. That means continued deflation. Congress authorized a maximum price of gold of $41.34 an ounce. Instead of using this authority to the fullest extent to arrest deflation and restore the price level, the administration halts the gold price at $35 an ounce and extends bureaucratic control."

Seven-year-old Violet Stewart, of Brooklyn, N.
