

Nehawka

Fred Heebner was shelling and delivering corn to the Nehawka elevator on last Monday.

Hans H. Stoll, who has been in poor health for some time past is feeling better at this time—in fact, he says he is feeling fine.

Earl Troop was in Plattsmouth on last Monday, where he is employed, having a position with the contractors building the Oregopolis viaduct.

Mrs. Clo Stull, of Wray, Colorado, who is here visiting with her sister, Mrs. W. O. Troop, was a visitor with relatives and friends in Plattsmouth for over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Troop, of Syracuse, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Troop, parents of Mr. Troop and also visited in Plattsmouth and Omaha.

Miss Martha Upton, of Union, was a visitor in both Nehawka and Murray last Saturday, enjoying the fine minstrel show which was put on at Murray Saturday evening.

George Delckiman was in town making purchase of some lumber from the Sturm Lumber company for the completion of a broader house which he is constructing.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sheldon, who are visiting here from their home in the south, were in Plattsmouth last Saturday, where they were looking after some business in the district court.

Miss Lena Opp has accepted the management of the Beatrice Creamery agency in Nehawka and reports business is very good. The Omaha Cold Storage company has ceased to maintain its station here.

Delbert Switzer was a visitor in Omaha last Monday, taking with him stock for some of the farmers near Nehawka and bringing home with him a Farm-all tractor for the implement dealer, J. J. Pollard.

H. P. Christensen, father of Miller Christensen, who has been making his home in California, returned to Weeping Water and Nehawka and has been visiting with his son, Miller and also enjoying visiting with his many friends.

Frank Trotter was in Omaha late last week and on his return brought with him lumber for the construction of two broader houses—one for Mrs. Henry Thiele and the other for Mrs. Weldon, both of these ladies having a hobby for the breeding and raising of fine chickens.

Mrs. John Opp was a visitor in Nebraska City during the early days of last week, where she was receiving some medical attention at St. Mary's hospital, and during the latter part of the week she was compelled to remain in bed. She has not been feeling the best for some time.

Mrs. John O. Yaiser, of Omaha, accompanied by her two sons, Andy and Jack, were guests at the home of Grandfather and Grandmother Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sturm for over Sunday and when they returned home in the evening, they were accompanied by Susanne, a daughter, who had been visiting for some time at the Sturm home.

The Pleasant Hill neighborhood club met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anderson Lloyd, where they enjoyed a splendid program and a sociable time and at the same time were entertained by the genial hostess. Following the business of the afternoon, there was an election held for the officers for the coming year and those chosen were: Mrs. Mata Lutz, president; Mrs. Orville Snodgrass, secretary-treasurer.

Fixing Up the Home
James Miller and son, Fred, have been fixing up the home in many ways, and painting the exterior during the time when things are slack, so as to have the work done out of the way before the opening of the spring season, when they expect to be busy.

In Very Poor Health

Mrs. Henry Schumaker, who has not been in the best of health for nearly a year, since she suffered a stroke, a few days ago received the second stroke and since that time has been in a critical condition. Everything possible is being done for the patient, but improvement is very slight, if any, and grave concern is felt as to her recovery.

Locking into the Past

Dr. G. H. Gilmore, who is greatly interested in the matter of the sites occupied by mound builders, with his force of CWA workmen has been exploring the ruins of these ancient villages, finding much of interest, as well as providing employment for a number of people. Howard Wilkins, of Nebraska City, was here to visit the excavations being made and to spend some time with his friend, Dr. Gilmore.

Visited Relatives Here

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson, of Omaha, accompanied by their children, arrived in Nehawka on last Saturday morning and visited at the home of Mrs. Anderson's mother, Mrs. Albertina Ost and their many friends in Nehawka and vicinity, returning to their home in Omaha on Sunday.

Celebrated Birthday Tuesday

Mrs. Victor Wehrbein was celebrating the passing of her birthday anniversary when a large number of her friends and relatives appeared and made merry the day, which was enjoyed alike by Mrs. Wehrbein and by her friends who were present. All joined in expressing best wishes for the future. This date also marked the passing of the 52nd wedding anniversary of an uncle and aunt of Mrs. Wehrbein's, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Troop of Plattsmouth.

The Old Man Routed

Clifford Trotter has vanquished Old Man Depression at least for the time being, for business has become so good that he had to work all day Friday, Friday night, Saturday and Saturday night and then hit the ball again Sunday and all day Monday—at which time he had not yet caught up with his work at the garage and repair shop. He is well pleased with the volume of business he has been receiving and says he will do his utmost to get all work out at the time promised.

Home from the West

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rough, who have been spending the past eight or ten weeks in the west, at Los Angeles and other cities in that vicinity, visiting much of the time at the home of their son, Stewart Rough, Jr., and family, returned home last Thursday, after having enjoyed their visit very much.

During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Rough they had instructed the caretaker of the home to build a fire or light the gas furnace should the weather get cold and this was done, but in some way the water did not circulate in the proper manner and the furnace was burned out, necessitating the installation of a new one, so Mr. Rough has been busy since his return supervising this work.

Woman's Club Met Last Friday

On Friday of last week, there was a meeting of the Nehawka Woman's club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ross. A goodly number of the members were present and a most worth-while program was arranged, followed by a round-table discussion of the subjects under consideration. Mrs. Robert E. Hayes, who is an officer of the Federated clubs of Nebraska, was present and made a very pleasing address which was greatly enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Hayes had to leave soon after her address was concluded to catch a bus for her home in Plattsmouth, which was disappointing to her many friends who had enjoyed her fine talk and hoped she could stay until the close of the afternoon's meeting.

RETURNING FROM HOSPITAL

Miss Leona Melsinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Melsinger, who has been at the Immanuel hospital at Omaha for the past week, has so far recovered from her recent appendicitis operation that she is expected home in a few days. The little lady has made a splendid recovery from the illness and operation and the family are delighted that she is soon to be back home with them.

Only recently a Parisian played a saxophone for sixteen consecutive hours. There, we feel sure, is a mark to shoot at.

Funeral of Mrs. Joseph Tubbs at Mynard Saturday

Services at the United Brethren Church Largely Attended by Old Friends and Neighbors.

On Saturday afternoon the funeral services for Mrs. Joseph Tubbs, long time resident of Cass county, was held at the United Brethren church at Mynard where she had been an attendant for the years of her residence in that community. There was a large number of the old friends and neighbors present to tender their last tributes of love and esteem to her memory.

The services were conducted by the Rev. E. E. McKelvey, pastor of the church, who paid tribute to the long and useful life of this esteemed lady and brought to the members of the family and the old friends the consolation of the words of the scripture on the taking away of the beloved mother and friend.

During the service two of the old and loved hymns were given by Raymond Cook, long time friend of the family, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

At the conclusion of the services the body was borne to the Morning cemetery where it was laid to rest beside the husband and two sons who had preceded her in death.

Emma Edwards, daughter of Phineas and Parmelia Edwards, was born at Schoolcraft, Michigan, February 2, 1854, where she grew to womanhood and was married in that state to Joseph F. Tubbs, December 24, 1874. The family came to Nebraska fifty-six years ago and settled in the vicinity of Murray where they resided for some time and later moved to Plattsmouth where Mr. Tubbs was employed in the Burlington shops for a number of years. Leaving this city they settled on a farm near Mynard where they resided until nine years ago when they moved into Mynard and have since made their home there. Mr. Tubbs passed away on August 25, 1930 and since that time Mrs. Tubbs had made her home at Mynard until her final summons.

There were six children born to Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs, two sons, Clarence and Samuel preceding the parents in death. There are surviving four daughters, Mrs. Mamie Cochran, Seely, Wyoming; Mrs. Millie Church, Panama City, Florida; Mrs. Bessie Wilson, Clough, South Dakota; Mrs. Maude Jones, Palo Alto, California.

STARTS SIXTH YEAR

Harry Nielsen, superintendent of the Cass county farm west of this city, has just started on the sixth year of his service in this capacity, having just closed his year's work at the farm.

Mr. Nielsen has made a splendid record in his work at the farm, not only in the business management of the large farm but in the many details that are a part of the daily routine in the care of those who are residents there and who are largely under care and require special attention and treatment in their several cases.

The farm is one of the best in this section and each year the crops produced there are used in the maintenance of the farm residents and under the very capable management of Mr. Nielsen has been most successful.

HAVE A FINE MEETING

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. C. C. Wescott on Monday and with a very large number of the members in attendance to observe Union Signal day.

The devotions were under the leadership of Mrs. Wescott and the meeting under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Spangler.

The roll call was given by responses from items in the Union Signal to which all responded.

Miss Jean Knorr gave a most delightful piano number that all enjoyed to the utmost.

A dialogue was given by five of the ladies, Mesdames R. B. Hayes, George B. Mann, V. T. Arn, J. E. Wiles and Miss Elizabeth Spangler.

Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

OVERRULES DEMURRER

Saturday afternoon Judge James T. Begley in the district court overruled the demurrer of the state department of banking in the case in which the Bank of Murdock seeks a restraining order to prevent the closing of the bank by the state. The court set the case for hearing on Saturday, March 17th when it will be taken up and presented on its merits to the court.

Business Digs Out of Drifts of Panic Blizzard

Distribution of Goods Accelerates as Weather Improves and Manufacturing Climbs.

New York.—The nation's business dug from the late February blizzard this week, and marched forward again along the recovery highway. Distribution of merchandise quickened decisively, as transportation service widely returned to normal, and indications of further acceleration in production again predominated in reports from the industrial fronts.

The expansion of output in the steel and automobile industries was less rapid than in previous weeks, but Dun & Bradstreet said reports from many parts of the country indicated the widespread quickening of manufacturing activity, notably in textile, shoe, electrical supply and fertilizer industries.

A few scattered labor difficulties, and the prospect of revision of NRA codes as result of the hearings which started in Washington, were mentioned by some business executives as possible factors inspiring caution, but on the whole, it was agreed business seemed pointed toward a spring peak of gratifying proportions, particularly in contrast to the extreme low levels of a year ago, when the country was struggling with its first banking crisis.

The weekly statistics for electric power production and movement of freight, were somewhat better than seasonal according to Moody's index figures, but these reflected in part the cold weather and the heavier movement of coal.

Steel ingot production, according to the week's survey by Steel, rose only one percentage point during the week to 48 percent of capacity.

Cram estimated the past week's automobile production at 71,519 units, up only 463 over the previous week, but more than double the output for the like week of last year, February production totaled approximately 279,000 units, up 61 percent from January, and 145 percent over February of last year.
