GRANDMA HATHAWAY OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah Jane Mickey Hathaway was born at Princeton, Mo., on Aug. 6, 1849, and departed this life on Feb. 23, 1934 at the age of 84 years, 6 months and 18 days. She, with her father S. J. Mickey and family, moved to Nebraska at the close of the Civil War in 1865 and had resided in Nebraska ever since. In 1867 she was wedded to L. P. Hathaway of Nebraska City and moved to a homestead in Saline county in 1869 where they lived in a dugout for a year then to a sod house and saw Nebraska in its beautiful native state. Thirteen children were born to this union, eleven now living. Her husband two children preceded her in death. Grandma Hathaway, as she was familiarly called in older life always had time to administer to the wants of her neighbors. Many a new life was brought into this world through her skill and knowledge. Now her work is done on earth and she has gone to her eternal home where Jesus lives, there to await for her loved ones whom she has left on this side of the river, to join those who have gone before. She united with the Christian church early in life and lived it through until death. Warm summer sun, Shine kindly here, Warm southern winds, Blow softly here, Green sod above, Lie light, lie light, Good night, Dear Heart, Good night, good night. (Written by her oldest son). Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church in Niabrara Sunday at 2 p. m., with Rev. W. W. Hughes in charge, and interment was made in L'Eau Qui Court cemetery. —Niobrara Tribune.

SEES MENACE TO RECOVERY

Chicago.—Samuel O. Dunn, editor of Railway Age, in an address to the signal section of the American Railway association, said that NRA advocacy of further working hour reductions and increased wages seriously menaced further recovery. "A thirty hour week on railroads would increase operating expenses by 600 million dollars a year and probably reduce capital goods buying to less than it was in 1932 and 1933," he said.

AN OBSERVATION

"If shoe-machines wear shoes in stead of going barefooted—
"If auto-machines went joy-riding instead of staying where they are—
"If sausage-machines got fondered with sausages—
"And sewing machines went dressed to kill, and printing presses went in for literature; what a grand and glorious time we 'human nuts' could have watching these machines doing what we haven't got sense enough to do."—From a church bulletin in Boston, N. Y.

WORK HOURS REDUCED

Washington.—The packing machinery industry joined the list of those volunteering a reduction in work hours under the NRA program. In a telegram to Hugh S. Johnson, the code authority of the industry said it would establish a thirty hour week for common labor instead of the present forty hours and would increase wages to the civil works minimum.

HAS CHICKENS STOLEN

A check was made by the police to see if the chickens had been offered for sale here but no trace of the missing fowls was to be found.

FOUR LIVES LOST IN FIRE

Each member was asked to demonstrate an exercise, acting as leader for the rest of the group. At the next meeting the members will present a health play. The meeting was then adjourned.

FAREWELL TO A JAPANESE

Faxton, Neb.—About 200 residents of this vicinity gathered here Monday to bid farewell to George Matsutani, Japanese prominent western Nebraska Hereford cattle breeder, and his five children as they departed for Kobe, Japan.

For the past few years Matsutani has shipped cattle back to Japan, where he has accepted a position with the government to teach his countrymen animal husbandry. Matsutani plans to return to America after a year's absence. His main object going is to be with his parents, who are in their eighties.

What to do when CWA passed out of the picture is still a perplexing problem. It looks now like it will be a case of going back to work for grocery orders for some of those who have not been fortunate enough to get a job.
