Cass County Students are Given Honors

Nine Students From This County Selected for Recognition for Scholarship.

Lincoln, Nebr.—Nine students from Cass county were honored at the sixth annual University of Nebraska honors convocation held here today. Those recognized for their attainments in the field of scholarship were: Ellnor E. Longman and Florence West of Eagle; Margarethe W. Bornemeier and Denise H. Greene of Elmwood; John E. Lindell of Murock; Verner F. H. Schomaker of Nehawka; Mary L. Clark, Helen R. Cole and Ward Tefft of Weeping Water. All were honored for high scholarship, having ranked in the upper 10 per cent of their respective classes and colleges. Schomaker also won a superior scholarship rating.

Miss Longman is a sophomore in teachers college, and Miss West is a junior in the same college. Miss Bornemeier is a first year student at the college of agriculture. Miss Greene is a senior arts and sciences student. Not in school this year, Lindell is honored for previous work. Schomaker is a senior engineering man. In the college of business administration, Miss Clark is a sophomore, and Miss Cole a junior. Tefft is a freshman in the college of engineering.

Some 466 students at the University were honored at this year's honors convocation. Those senior students who during the two preceding semesters have been in the upper 3 per cent of their colleges were honored for their superior scholarship, while those who are in the upper 10 per cent of each class of each college were recognized for their high scholarship.

ART TEA AT METHODIST CHURCH

From Wednesday's Daily
Yesterday afternoon the Social Workers of which Mrs. A. H. Duxbury is president, presented in the auditorium of the church one of a series of projects which they are sponsoring.

Mr. George Gaeker with Mrs. Robt. Walling as accompanist, gave a group of violin numbers. The music was beautiful and a fitting prelude to the address which followed.

Mrs. Grace Welsh Lutgen of Wayne, Nebraska, chairman of drama for the General Federation of Women's clubs spoke on "Christ in the Fine Arts." Mrs. Lutgen is a fascinating speaker, and brought much of interest to the large audience. The pictures used were, The Gleaners, The Angelus, and The Last Supper. These pictures were displayed. The history and art classes of the 8th grade were guests. Miss Garrett is the instructor in this group.

The church was decorated with spring blossoms. Following the program, tea was served. The color scheme of green and yellow was used. The centerpiece was narcissus and tulips. Miss Mia Gering, president of the Delphian society and Mrs. Devoe poured.

FILES FOR CO. SUPERINTENDENT

From Wednesday's Daily
Mr. J. Russell Reeder, for the past five years teacher of science in the local high school, entered the lists yesterday as a candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools subject to the non-political primaries to be held in August. Mr. Reeder has made an outstanding success of his work in Plattsburgh high school and his experience in the classroom and in administration activities ably qualifies him for the duties of this office. He was graduated from Baker University at Baldwin, Kansas, and after a year in special research work, he came to Plattsburgh as science instructor. In addition to his duties in the school, Mr. Reeder has taken an active part in the Boy Scout work of the community. He is one of the popular instructors with his students and has a host of friends in Plattsburgh and over the county who will be pleased to hear of his candidacy.

HERE FROM CALIFORNIA

From Wednesday's Daily
Last evening Milford B. Bates, who for the past several years has resided at Los Angeles, California, arrived in the city to enjoy a visit here at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Bates. Mr. Bates was a resident of this city in his boyhood days and has a large number of friends here that are delighted to have the opportunity of renewing the acquaintanceship of the years gone by.

Mr. Bates expects to enjoy an indefinite visit here with the uncle and aunt, former having not been in the best of health for several months.

Murray Visited by Fire Sunday; Home Destroyed

Fire Breaks Out in Roof of Ray Frederick Residence and Building Burns to Ground.

Fire breaking out Sunday morning in the roof of the large residence building occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frederick, completely destroyed the building while the residents of the city looked helplessly on, because of the lack of water to combat the flames.

When the fire was first discovered by neighbors the smoke was just starting through the roof of the building, the blaze apparently starting in the attic. The alarm was given and the Plattsburgh fire department was called to assist in the fire fighting but the lack of water and the fact that the blaze had advanced so far that the chemicals could not be used effectively made it impossible to do much. The fire was confined to the attic for some time and the residents of Murray turning out practically en masse, were able to remove the furniture from the home and also several of the finely finished doors in the various rooms on the lower floor of the building.

The structure continued to burn until only a heap of smouldering ashes marked the site of one of the most attractive residences in the town.

This residence was erected a number of years ago by W. H. Puls at the cost of some $10,000 and was one of the best equipped and modern in the community. It was later purchased as the parsonage of the Presbyterian church. Rev. J. T. Stewart and family formerly occupied the residence, purchased a home of their own and since that time the residence has been occupied by the Frederick family.

None of the family was home at the time of the fire, they having left for a Sunday visit with friends.

EDWARD J. DUDLEY

Edward J. Dudley, pioneer settler near Weeping Water, died at the home of a son, C. R. Dudley, in Omaha. He was 81. Surviving are two sons, C. R., and Elton of Crete, and a daughter, Mrs. Stella Dienes of Lincoln; two sisters, seven grandchildren. Mr. Dudley was born Sept. 9, 1853, in Lagrange county, Ind., and came to Nebraska with his brother to settle near Weeping Water in 1870. He married Abbie Flansburg at Plattsburgh Dec. 22, 1875. From 1877 until 1880 he worked in the Louisville quarries and then moved to Plattsburgh, where he was employed in the Burlington shops. Later he farmed in Seward county and in 1882 homesteaded in Hitchcock county and was one of the earliest settlers there, experiencing the drouth and hard times that the early settlers faced.

In 1890, following a disastrous prairie fire, he returned to Plattsburgh, making the trip by wagon, but went back to Hitchcock county in 1902 for five years. From 1898 until 1914 he was a foreman at the Havelock shops of the Burlington. From 1914 until 1921 he was employed at Herpolsheimer's store. He retired in 1921 and until six months prior to his death made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Deines. Mrs. Dudley died in 1910.

VISIT WITH OLD FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Stewart, residents of this city several years ago, were here Monday afternoon for a few moments en route to Villisca, Iowa, where they are to visit with the father of Mr. Stewart, who is quite advanced in years. The Stewarts are still residing at Gillette, Wyoming, where they have been located for the past several years.

VISIT HERE SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Yelick and little daughter, of Des Moines, Iowa, with Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Yelick of Omaha, were in the city Sunday to spend the day visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Yelick, parents of the young men. They motored back to their homes last evening after a most pleasant outing in this vicinity.

GARDEN CLUB

From Wednesday's Daily
The executive committee of the Garden Club met last night. This committee is composed of officers and chairmen of ward garden clubs. The proposed constitution was submitted, discussed and referred back to committee for suggested changes. It is the plan to have a definite organization that will function through succeeding years.

Mr. Tidd gave a report on the Flower Show. A trip to the Sass Iris farms is contemplated. The slides from the Better Homes and Gardens will be shown April 26th at Central Auditorium. These slides will present rock gardens, how to build, and what to put in them.

TRIAL ATTRACTS MANY

The hearing of the case of the State of Nebraska vs. Joseph G. McMaken which was fully underway Tuesday, served as one of the big attractions for the residents of this section of the county. The district court room was packed even during the uninteresting examination of prospective jurors and in the afternoon when the taking of testimony was started the crowds grew in size. Many of those who had been fortunate enough to secure a seat in the room remained at their post and had friends bring in sandwiches so that they might not lose the chance at hearing and seeing the trial.

This morning there were a large group of ladies at the court house before the building was opened up, several bringing lunches with them for the noon recess of the court.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Miss Alpha C. Peterson, county superintendent, was in Omaha Tuesday where she was called to attend the conference of county superintendents that was called to discuss matters pertaining to the school program. Miss Peterson is one of the recognized leaders in school work in this section of the state and has a very active part in the group conferences of the county superintendents.
