ENTERS BUSINESS AGAIN
E. J. Richey, into action again as a lumber and coal dealer, is assuming the operation of the former Cloidt Lumber & Coal Co., in this city and Cedar Creek.

Mr. Richey needs no introduction to the community as a business man, having lived in this city since 1882, at which time his father, the late F. M. Richey moved to Plattsmouth and bought out the late J. C. Cummins' interest in the firm of Cummins & Richey. The firm then operated as Richey Bros., for about ten years, then F. M. Richey bought his brother's interest, (the late J. G. Richey), and operated individually until his death in 1912. E. J. Richey worked with his father in the business from 1897 on until 1912, after which time he bought the interest of the heirs and operated it until the fall of 1922 when he disposed of his yard to Paul H. Roberts, later succeeded by Mr. Tidball.

In retiring from the lumber and coal business Messrs. John and August Cloidt wish to thank their friends who have favored them with their patronage in the past and an announcement of their future plans will be made at a later date.

Mr. Richey is pleased to announce that Miss Mary Petersen is going to remain with him in the management of the business and greet the public with the same old smile.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC
As I have disposed of my interests in the Cloidt Lumber & Coal Co. at 4th and Main streets, I wish to thank all my friends and patrons for their support and patronage in the past.

As you know I purchased the C. E. Hartford business and building at 3rd and Main streets a year ago, I expect to operate a first class gas station on their corner, after making the necessary changes and when completed I will appreciate your patronage, as I have in the past.

I will make further announcement later.
J. J. CLOIDT.

Production Credit Corp. Aid to the Farmer

George Thomas, Secretary-Treasurer, Tells of Means Available to Secure Finances.

With the approach of the corn planting season, many farmers are writing for information as to how they can finance their crop expense for 1934, according to George J. Thomas, secretary-treasurer of the South Omaha Production Credit Corporation.

"I might advise these farmers that Production Credit is available for financing crop operations when the loans are based upon security composed of cattle, horses and sheep, as well as grain," Mr. Thomas explained.

"In many communities farmers, through Production Credit Associations, are adopting the budget plan of preparing a statement of their needs for the 1934 season and indicating at what periods of the year they will need the funds."

Mr. Thomas indicated that under the budget plan, with the deferred withdrawal periods, the farmers can save considerable interest as the Production Credit association, after the loan is approved, keeps available the funds needed by the farmer so that he will be sure to have them, but they do not draw interest until used.

Under this program, a farmer who raises live stock as well as grain, can make up his entire budget for the year. He can list the amount of money he is going to need for mill feeds, vaccination costs, seed, labor costs and other general expense, and arrange to have the money available at the time it is needed.

All Production Credit loans bear interest at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent. Each borrower becomes a member of the association and subscribes to 5 per cent of his loan in stock, Mr. Thomas explained.

WICKED WILLIE

Little Willie Jones was a lovable lad, but he had one besetting sin—

To exaggerate in all the power he had. With names, acts, and data thrown in.

His folks had used argument, pleas, and such things To shift Willie's mind from its trend. But finding each effort no consequence brings, Persuasion at length reached an end.

The slipper, the closet, sending hungry to bed, Were each tried in turn—but in vain—

For in spite of all ethics, and what had been said, He would revert back to normal again.

With dire tribulation, with long drawn out sigh, At last Mother takes drastic hands; With a prayer for aid, and assistance to cope In the contest the problem demands.

Telling Willie the tale of Annas who fell While relating a marvelous lie; And of Satan, who carried him off to his house Where the bad folks all go when they die—

Quoth Willie: "I know 'em, an' I saw 'em today— And both of 'em called me their pet; An' I told 'em a big lot of lies, anyway— An' Satan ain't grabbed me yet."

Some of congress's tax-raising adventures are positively hair-raising to the taxpayer who reads about them.
