Darrow and Johnson Go for a Social Ride
Visit Cordially While Senators Assist and Defend the National Recovery Administration.

Washington, May 23.—Amid renewed dispute over Clarence Darrow's biting criticism of NRA, the veteran Chicago lawyer paid a friendly visit today to the office of Hugh S. Johnson and the two went for an automobile ride. The call was described as social.

The labor advisory board of NRA today signed unanimously a statement drafted by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that the Darrow report "pandered to the worst element in our political and economic life. Its members are not conscious of these facts. They are victims of arch stupidity, and have forfeited their right to continue to function as a government agency."

Senator Wagner (dem., N. Y.), one of the authors of the industrial recovery act, replied from the senate floor to Darrow's statement that American business had to choose between government-encouraged monopoly and a planned economy entailing "socialized government." Wagner said it was "not necessary or desirable for us to go this far; we are not going this far."

Senator Nye (rep., N. D.), a leading congressional critic of the application of NRA codes to little business, told the senate that "it seems to me to be an obligation upon us as a congress to decline to leave until assured these in famous abuses will be eliminated."

Nye served notice that he would daily have something to say on the subject.

CCC WORKERS ARE WARNED
Valentine, Neb.—Army officers from Fort Crook, who investigated a rumpus at the CCC camp near here, returned to Omaha late Monday after declining to make public their findings as to the cause of the trouble.

Stevens was discharged, and the men were told any further trouble would result in those taking part being sent home.

Following report of the school committee by Chairman John Mattes, of Omaha, it was decided by the convention to continue awarding cash grants totaling $150 to high school students for proficiency in scholarship, throughout the coming year.

An amendment, including in the award free German schools in Omaha, was adopted.

Arthur Meyer of Grand Island, chairman of the judiciary, presented that committee's report. A proposal to alter insurance provisions now in effect was discussed but not adopted. The proposition will be studied further by a committee of five to be appointed by the president.

CAUGHT IN INSULL CRASH
Chicago.—A true bit charging embezzlement was reported to have been voted by the Cook county grand jury against Marshall E. Sampson, former head of the Central Illinois Public Service company. The state has accused Sampson of borrowing 4,000 shares of his company stock, worth $400,000, to bolster the dwindling collateral pledged on personal loans made by himself and Martin Insull from Springfield, Ill., and Chicago banks. Altho the accusations were made two years ago, when Insull became a fugitive in Canada from the embezzlement and larceny charges brought against him, no effort was made to prosecute Sampson himself until Insull was returned here.

Sampson was removed from his Insull directorships and his post as head of the C. I. P. S. company by the receivers when the alleged "borrowings" of company stock was found by auditors.

Thousands Watch Passage of the Zephyr

Train Delayed in Leaving Denver on Record Run; Has Average Speed of 75 Miles on Run.

To greet the "Zephyr," crack speed train of the Burlington, a crowd of some 3,000 lined the lines of the tracks of the main line this afternoon at 1:05 when the train passed this city.

The start from Denver was delayed this morning and it was an hour later than announced when the train rolled out of the Denver station on its non-stop trip to Chicago.

The average speed of the train at noon had been seventy-five miles per hour through Colorado and Nebraska into Lincoln.

There were large crowds that assembled at the Burlington station and on the hills near the tracks late in the forenoon to greet the new train and when the Burlington whistle was sounded at 12:15 that the train was leaving Lincoln, the cars by the hundreds reached points of vantage to leave their passengers.

Cars were parked double from the Granite street viaduct to half way to the Missouri river bridge and several car loads were at the bridge where a fine view was had of the train.

Owing to the sharp curves in the cut west of the bridge approach the train had its speed considerably curtailed and gave the waiting thousands a good chance to see the train in its entirety.

Hopkins Advises $300,000 Drouth Aid in Nebraska

Federal Relief Administrator Advances Recommendation to Washington.

Kansas City.—Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, announced here he had telegraphed his recommendation to Washington for an immediate grant of $300,000 of federal relief funds to alleviate drouth conditions in Nebraska.

Hopkins said the federal government will begin a direct offensive on drouth in stricken western states at once.

"We're 'hooked' by it," he said after conferences with relief leaders of Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, Idaho, Nebraska, Texas, Montana, Utah, Nevada and others. "Rain or no rain, the drouth situation is serious."

Hopkins said the actual drouth area to receive aid would be decided by the department of agriculture, and the federal emergency relief administration would co-operate with the AAA. He said the cost to the FERA would be at least $50,000,000.

"The whole goal of the program," Mr. Hopkins said, "will be the maintenance of people on the land so they shall not be driven from their homes. The works program for farmers will be followed in order to supply cash for the families with which to buy food while they are attempting to raise a crop and save their livestock."

"We promise to handle the problem of the drouth thoroughly and for the benefit of the stricken people regardless of what the cost may be." Where necessary, Mr. Hopkins said, the AAA will buy cattle from drouth areas for canning into relief beef for forage crops and feed for livestock.

In his two days in Kansas City, making two addresses at the national conference of social work and conferring with his state aides, Mr. Hopkins and his staff received full information of the critical situation in areas where lack of rain and severe winds have turned once fertile soil almost into a desert. The principal campaign of the relief administration would be to put in a crop this summer, if possible, Hopkins said.

An agreement reached between the relief administration and Texas whereby $2,670,000 will be expended for materials and $400,000 monthly for labor in 25 or more panhandle counties struck by drouth.

Cecil W. Creel, state administrator for Nevada, told Hopkins that "cattle and sheep are dying like flies" at dry water holes. He said examination of their stomachs showed the starving cattle had eaten mud.

Idaho, which received flood relief six months ago, now seek $700,000 for drouth relief—several times the appropriation made for flood rehabilitation.

PLANS APPEAL IN BANK SUIT
Lincoln, May 23.—The state banking department Wednesday prepared to go to the United States supreme court in its effort to win the right to sue failed bank stockholders immediately for double liability, even though they purchased the stock before 1920.

The state constitution was amended in that year to permit suit at once to recover the liability, whereas previously suit could not be brought until other assets were exhausted.

The state supreme court in a recent case involving stockholders in the Farmers State bank of Stapleton held stock purchased before passage of the amendment was exempt from the new provisions. E. H. Lunkart, state bank superintendent, contends the amendment did not change the right to collect from such stockholders but merely to remedy aid that suits should be permitted at once against any banks which have failed since the amendment passed.

He filed a motion to recall the mandate so an appeal can be taken to the high federal court.

The grotto is a replica of the famous "Lady of Lourdes" in France and has attracted many visitors since it was erected in 1930.
