POLICE HAVE BUSY TIME

From Thursday's Daily
Officers Pickrel and Stewart last evening were kept busy in rounding up a number who had partaken too freely of the flowing bowl and it was found necessary to have them locked up.

Ray Smith, a young man claiming to be a member of the CCC force camped north of this city and stationed at Fort Crook, was found near Fifth and Main streets and was in a very plastered condition. When ordered to jail he offered considerable objection and was subdued by Officer Pickrel and taken on to the lockup.

R. C. Allen, a floater, was picked up by the officers late in the night as he was found prowling around the business section of the city and he too apparently had been partaking very heavily of the drink that cheers and inebriates.

The two men were released today after the promise that they would refrain from visiting this city in the future.

Mrs. E. G. Shellenbarger suffered a very severe injury last evening when she broke her left ankle in stepping from the sidewalk near the corner of Fifth and Main streets.

Mrs. Shellenbarger had been doing her shopping and coming from one of the local stores to her car, found a great deal of difficulty in getting through the crowd that was packed around the corners near the stand where the merchants gift night was being held.

The crowd was so thick at the point that she was forced onto the parvign near the sewer inlets and her ankle turned and broken.

The injured lady was given medical attention at once and today was reported as suffering a great deal from the pain of the injury as well as the shock of the accident.

Business Men, Farmers, Enjoy Dinner Party

Pleasant Gathering Last Night to Discuss Plans for Third Annual King Korn Carnival.

From Friday's Daily
King Korn Carnival enthusiasm ran high at the dinner last night attended by townspeople and farmers from over the neighboring trade territory. In all there were close to one hundred present and the occasion recalled memories of the old days when Happy Hundred dinners were in vogue in Plattsmouth.

The event was held in the second floor lodge room at the Knights of Columbus hall and the delectable repast was prepared and served by the Altar society of St. John's church.

L. S. Devoe, King Korn dynamo, was in charge of the brief after-dinner speaking program that had to be cut short in order that all might attend the donkey ball game another Korn Klub sponsored activity, later in the evening.

To effect conviviality during the dinner hour, farmers and townsfolk had been alternated about the long tables, where there was also a good sprinkling of farmers at the speaker's table.

Toastmaster Devoe introduced Roy Knorr, president of the Ad club that was host to the invited farmer guests, and George Lushinsky, mayor, both of whom welcomed the rural visitors and bespoke the co-operation of everyone in putting this third annual festival over bigger than ever.

Henry Soennichsen, president of the Korn Klub, stressed the fact that it was not his work or that of any individual which had been responsible for past successes, but the united efforts of all who had been asked to assist with any phase of the work. The same whole-hearted co-operation is assured again this year, he said.

H. L. ("Cap") Gayer and Jim Hall, who are to have charge of arrangement and display of agricultural products, outlined the difficulties they face this year, under drought conditions, but proposed to hold to the line and admit only 1934 products in the competition for ribbons and prizes.

Charley Barnard, of Mynard, one of the guiding spirits in arranging the rural parade last year, declared all those who took part then have volunteered to come in again this year, and in addition a number who held aloof last year have come forward with voluntary offers of assistance this year, insuring the success of the farm parade on the second day of the festival this year, as well as the opening pre-carnival parade on next Wednesday night, depicting Colonial days, with the Indians, Puritans, etc. John Hobscheidt, who has been Mr. Barnard's right hand assistant and Art Wetenkamp, another tireless worker along this line, were called upon and spoke briefly.

E. L. McKissick, the "efficiency expert," told of plans for the Business Men's parade on Friday afternoon.

Eugene Vroman and Harry White reported for the "Days of '49" parade to be held next Saturday night, Sept. 8th, under auspices of BREX shop employees, and, of course, repeated as a part of the mammoth parade on opening night of the festival, Sept. 19th.

The other two pre-carnival parades on the nights of Sept. 12 and 15, being under auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary and Woman's club, no representative was present to report on them at this dinner gathering of men, but Toastmaster Devoe stated their sponsors were making fine progress with plans for these features, and could be depended upon to give a good account of their sponsorship.

Ed Schulhof told of contacting four of the leading bands of this part of the state—the Weeping Water, Elmwood, Louisville and Farmers Union bands—and that all were willing to come for their bare expenses with no musician receiving a single penny for his services. He cited this as a fine example of the spirit of Cass county musicians to co-operate in every way, and his statement was loudly applauded.

R. Foster Patterson spoke on the program, which is now being prepared for publication next week, and asked that anyone knowing of some unusual or exceptionally good talent that the committee might secure for an appearance on the platform, advise him or other members of the program committee at once, so that none might be inadvertently overlooked. He pointed with pride to the fact that the entire four day program will be made up of entertainers residing within the confines of our own county, and also praised these entertainers who have been glad to respond, driving here from the furthestmost parts of the county and giving their time gratuitously. This announcement was also greeted with a burst of applause.

R. G. Reed, chairman of the soap box derby, a new feature being introduced this year, spoke briefly on this phase of the entertainment. The soap box derby will take place on Friday afternoon, following the Merchant's parade, being run in a series of heats, with the finalists racing together for first place and other awards.

Clem Woster, the star cap salesman of other years, put on a salesman's demonstration of the worthiness of this year's cap, compared with former years, especially its rain-proof features, and after the meeting had them flocking to him in large numbers to purchase one of the new 1934 de luxe headgears.

Leslie Niel spoke on the rides and other concessions that have been and will be signed for appearance during the festival. He laid particular emphasis on the fact that nothing but clean amusements will be accepted, and that no competitive concessions will be accepted, insuring the local restaurants and similar businesses from outside interference.

As it was very near time for the donkey ball game, the diners were dismissed with a few brief remarks from the toastmaster.

Many Bands to be Feature of Fall Festival

Weeping Water, Louisville, Elmwood and the Farmers Union Bands to Play Here.

The committee on bands for the annual fall festival which is headed by E. H. Schulhof, has provided a fine array of musical organizations to be heard here in the four days of the festival.

For the opening day, Wednesday, September 19th, the Weeping Water band, one of the popular musical organizations of the county will be here for the evening concert.

On Thursday evening the Louisville town band, which have been heard in concerts there the past summer, will journey over to entertain the crowds with their fine musical offerings.

The Elmwood band, one of the outstanding concert bands, carrying forty members, will be here for the Friday evening concert of the fall festival and have arranged a wonderful program that will delight the music lovers of the city.

The final day, both in the afternoon and evening the Farmers' Union band of Louisville, will be here for two concerts and to participate in the big school parade.

This group of fine bands certainly should assure those attending the fall festival of having plenty of the very best of music for their entertainment during the four days of frolic and fun.

From Saturday's Daily
Last evening Mrs. F. P. Busch entertained at her home in honor of the tenth birthday anniversary of her granddaughter, Betty Busch. The guests were treated to a most delicious dinner at 6:30, featured by the handsome birthday cake and its glowing candles.

Following the dinner the little folks enjoyed a theatre party at the Ritz while the remainder of the evening was spent in visiting by the other members of the party.

Those who attended were Catherine and John Conis, Buddy Hoffman, Shirley Burcham, Roberta Kirk Bates, Mary Phyllis Rosencrans, Mrs. R. A. Bates, Sophia Chaloupka and Mary Rosencrans.

R. Foster Patterson spoke on the program, which is now being prepared for publication next week, and asked that anyone knowing of some unusual or exceptionally good talent that the

Enrollment Record of High School Broken

At Close of Registration Friday Figures Reach 329 With Many Yet to Register.

At the close of the regular registration period Friday afternoon, all previous enrollment records for Plattsmouth high school had been smashed when the number registered reached an all-time high figure of 329 with more to come for late registration when classes begin Tuesday. The previous record was set last year when with a huge Freshman class the total reached 312 and at the close of school last May the total was still 303 showing a net loss of only 9. Evidence of how the enrollment has increased may be readily seen when it is recalled that only three years ago, the total at the close of school was 248. This is explained by the increase of our own Junior high school enrollment and non-resident students and new families which have come to Plattsmouth. That Plattsmouth high school may have an enrollment of 400 within the very near future is not at all impossible in the face of these steady increases and the fact that the present eighth grade is the largest class in the history of the Junior high school.

This heavy enrollment will call for careful planning and activity on the part of the faculty to bring to the student the best of educational opportunities in the face of crowded class rooms. Both patrons and students may be assured that the high school teachers will exert every effort to handle the enrollment of 1934 as efficiently as previous enrollments and that satisfactory working conditions in all departments will be in order when the student body gathers next Tuesday.

The figures for each class which will be supplemented by the late registrations are as follows:

Seniors	53
Juniors	66
Sophomores	103
Freshmen	107
TOTAL	329

RESOLUTIONS

Adopted at the republican county convention held in Plattsmouth on Thursday afternoon, August 30th:

Be It Resolved by the Republicans of Cass County in convention assembled this 30th day of August, A. D. 1934:

First: The delegates go on record unequivocally endorsing the state, senatorial, congressional, and county tickets.

Second: We oppose and condemn the unbusiness-like, futile and defective policy of the Roosevelt regime in attempting to bring prosperity by increasing our debts by billions.

Third: We are in favor of governing the United States of America by Constitutional Law and not by a Rubber Stamp Congress giving dictatorial powers unlawfully to the President and permitting collegiate brain trusters to invoke the NRA and tell the American citizen how to run his business and to experiment with the property and lives of American men, women and children.

Fourth: We oppose the continuing of the Primary Election System in Nebraska because of the needless expense and the fact that a multiplicity of candidates for office can so confuse intelligent selection at the polls that the unfit and unqualified may be nominated; the old abuses which brought about the Primary Law have largely passed and we favor a return to the Convention System or some adaptation of it.

Fifth: We go on record in favor of cleaning out our State House from the tented basement play-ground to the Sower on top of the tower; it is our conviction that state offices and state departments are to serve the people of Nebraska and the operation of these departments should not be kept a secret nor used for building and maintaining a political machine.
