Campfire Girls Aplenty.

Sure there are Campfire girls, and plenty of them in Avoca. We are pleased that this is a fact for the guardian is doing a wonderful work with the young girls. Now let us hear about the Boy Scouts. We hope the proposition is all right as well.

Sees the Southwest.

Mr. H. Lum, manager of the Avoca lumber yard, who for some time, nearly fifteen years ago was located in Dodge, Kansas, in the lumber business and who has some friends who have interests there, went down to that country and also beyond where he looked after the business in hand and as well visited with old friends which he could find. He found the city over twice as large as when he resided there. The crops were not the best, but the town of Dodge City, which has some 14,000 inhabitants is a very snappy town notwithstanding the depression.

Speaking of the country Mr. Lum said he thought it would come out all right. He also spoke of the trip which he made. The first day out he traveled 437 miles from Avoca to Dodge City with a 1924 Oakland car, which has seen much service, making on an average of 23 miles per gallon of gasoline and making the entire trip of 1100 miles with one filling of oil in the crankcase and with not a tire down on the entire trip. He said that the jack rabbits at the sugar beets from a 220 acre farm and were still hungry, and then tackled a quarter section of alfalfa. They were so thick that dogs would not tackle them.

PRODUCTION INCREASE

Detroit, Sept. 17.—The largest August production for five years, totaling 74,437 units for all plants, is reported by the Chevrolet Motor company. This total includes domestic, export, and Canadian production.

For the first eight months of 1934 Chevrolet production totals 692,477, and exceeds by 65,000 the 1933 twelve months' total, which was passed early last month.

Retail sales reported by dealers took a decided upward turn in the last ten days of August, promising continued demand in September. The reports deliveries in the United States exceeded the domestic production.

Denver.—Western livestock ranges are in the poorest condition on record, statistics by the U. S. department of agriculture showed. The report said the condition of sheep and lambs also is the worst on record and cattle are in poor to fair condition in the drier areas.

"The condition of ranges is 54 percent of normal, compared with 55 percent last month, 75 percent a year ago and the ten year average of 82.2 percent," the report said. The condition of cattle is 68 percent, the same as a month ago, compared with 81 percent a year ago and the ten year average of 87.4.

DAMAGE FROM HEAVY WAVES

Los Angeles.—Bus service was substituted for train service between Huntington beach and Newport beach as a result of heavy damage done railway tracks by giant waves which for a week have pounded the southern California coast. The lashing of the unusually heavy surf continued on the coastline, centering at Newport beach. At high tide the water extended far beyond the line of houses, perched on stilts above the sand.

Years of acquaintance with many school teachers has brought us to the conclusion that, contrary to the general opinion, the average school ma'am's first thought when she buys a new dress is not whether it will please some masculine admirer, but

It is said that up until about a week ago, the recovery bureau at Washington regarded the textile code as the NRA masterpiece.

A defeated candidate wants to know why they call it a "primary" election. "It was pretty final for me," he said.

Giant Waves Off California are Explained

Shoals Far Off Shore May Be Cause, Engineer Believes; Records Show Many Storms.

Los Angeles, Sept. 9.—What may be an explanation of the cause of the destructive giant waves which periodically visit certain southern California beaches was advanced Sunday by Harry Leybold, Los Angeles harbor engineer and former member of the United States coast and geodetic survey.

At varying intervals—with strong winds, storms at sea or earthquakes on the ocean floor not the cause—the mountainous breakers start pounding the shore, washing away houses and piers, flooding highways and depositing tons of silt and sand on the beaches. Another oddity is that the sea few hundred feet off the coast is usually not rough. Thousands of dollars damage was done recently by such combats at Long Beach, Balboa, Newport and Malibu.

Not All Affected.

Leybold advanced what he termed the "stationary wave theory for small areas" as the reason only certain beaches are affected, saying the water off them is shallow until there's an abrupt drop several miles from shore. The wave action itself, he believes is caused by oscillations in a deep basin between the coast and the shoals 70 miles off shore.

Forming an almost continuous line off the southern California coast, these shoals in many cases are within a few fathoms of the surface. Another series of shoals is formed by the Santa Barbara, Santa Catalina and San Clemente islands, half way between the first barrier and the shore.

Between these shoals are two areas of very deep water in many places from 800 to 1,000 fathoms in depth.

Lime Is Factor.

Leybold explained: "The deep water between the shoals and the beach oscillates within the period of an hour.

At times this period shortens, by the shelving beach effect, and during these periods the shorter oscillations cause great swells."

What causes the oscillations, Leybold is unable to explain, although examination of tidal records 50 years back reveals many such instances of destructive action against the beaches, lasting for three days or more at a time.

Similar action of the waves many years ago battered away the famous Santa Monica wharf, at one time the longest pier in the world.

OBITUARY

We cannot say, and we will not say that she is dead; She is just away.

We think of her still as the same, we say— She is not dead; She is just away.

The Death Angel summoned another well known resident of Cass county, Mrs. William Mendenhall, after a lingering illness, on Friday, Sept. 7, 1934.

The angelic summoner, who hovered over the home of Mrs. Mendenhall for many days, crossed the threshold at 12:40 p. m., and her spirit left its tenement of clay.

Death came as a relief from hours of silent suffering which she had endured for weeks past.

Fifty-two years she dwelt on this earth. She grew into happy womanhood; she lived the life of wife and mother, facing all its joys and sorrows with a spirit that added to her loveliness of character. For thirty-seven years she was a resident of Cass county. In this city her children grew to manhood and womanhood and some have gone forth to make homes of their own. Five grandchildren came to know and love her. Truly her life was a benediction to all with whom she mingled.

Pearl Frances Ault was born at Bethlehem, Iowa, June 4, 1882 and died September 7, 1934.

On Nov. 13, 1901 at Omaha, Nebraska, she was united in marriage to William T. Mendenhall and since their marriage they have resided in this city.

She was the mother of six children. One daughter, Thelma, preceded her in death. The five children who survive her are Mrs. Antone LaHoda, Mr. Thomas J. Mendenhall and Charles, Mamie and Emma left at home. Also surviving is her husband and a step-son, Glen Mendenhall.

Mrs. Mendenhall was of a family of eight, three having preceded her in death. Four survive, Mrs. Orin Elkins of Glenwood, Iowa; Mrs. Mary Shinn of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Charles and James Ault of this city. She was a faithful church member, having joined church at the age of seventeen.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the First Presbyterian church of Plattsmouth. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. H. G. McClusky, pastor of the church.

Mrs. J. R. Reeder and Frank A. Clodt sang two numbers, "Sometime We'll Understand," and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Mrs. H. F. Goss played the accompaniment.

The pallbearers were H. M. Soenichsen, George Lushinsky, Harold Shaefer, Walter Gouchenour, John Gouchenour and T. E. Olson. The interment was at Oak Hill cemetery west of this city.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank the kind friends and neighbors who gave their help and sympathy in our recent bereavement.

We especially wish to thank those who sent the beautiful floral offerings and also the ladies who helped so kindly during the sickness and passing of our loved one. These acts of kindness are surely appreciated and will never be forgotten.—Mr. William Mendenhall and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Antone La Hoda and Family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Mendenhall and Family.

Rotary Hears a Discussion of League Nations

Made a Feature of Luncheon Tuesday as Part of International Relations Program.

The Rotary club at their luncheon Tuesday had "International Relations" as the subject of their program, which was under the direction of Judge A. H. Duxbury.

The club had arranged a debate on the League of Nations as a part of the program discussion and in which Milford B. Bates was given the affirmative and Frank M. Bestor the negative side of the question, altho the negative was apparently not converted to opposition to the league.

At this meeting the official charge was given to Milford B. Bates, who was welcomed to the club by Searl S. Davis, who also gave the charge that Rotary exacts of its membership.

The usual Rotary songs and music completed the program of the meeting and all of which was very much enjoyed by the membership.

MUNSING STOCKING NO. 814

Which is Made "Inside-Out"

Munsingwear calls this "Smart Side Out" because it puts the dull, flat surface on the outside, and the rib side on the inside. It makes the stocking look extra dull and more sheer. The rib surface on the inside grips the skin, holding the stocking in place and preventing twisted rear seams and ankle wrinkles. The smooth, flat surface resists snags and runs. While the stocking appears sheer, the close weave actually conceals skin blemishes. Your choice in new Fall shades.
