Organize Men's Chorus for the Winter Season

Attendance of Twenty-five at Meeting and Prospects for Many Additional Members.

From Wednesday's Daily

The first steps in the organization of a men's chorus for this city was taken up last evening at the high school building when some twenty-five of the musically inclined men of the community gathered.

The organization was made with the election of officers, the following being selected:

President—Rev. G. A. Pahl.
Vice-President—Frank A. Clويد.
Sec.-Treas.—Claude Helms.

The officers were empowered to select the director of the chorus work as soon as possible. Hoyt Griffin, musical instructor of the city schools, has decided to accept this position and lead the men in the chorus work. Rev. G. A. Pahl will be the pianist for the group.

There is a prospective list of some forty to fifty men in the community who will be asked to join in this fine organization that it is expected will do much for Plattsmouth in a musical way.

With the fine talent in the city there is no doubt that this can be made one of the most successful organizations in this section of Nebraska and a distinct credit to this city and its reputation as a musical center.

The chorus have secured the rental of the music room of the high school each Tuesday evening from 7:15 to 8:15 for their meetings.

Rotarians Have Address on Our National Policy

Prof. E. A. Hoke of Omaha University Is Guest Speaker—Hoyt Griffin Heard in Musical Number

The Rotarians at their luncheon on Tuesday had the pleasure of hearing a very able address on "American Foreign Policies" and general world conditions which was presented by Prof. E. A. Hoke of the Omaha University, head of the department of American History and Social Science.

Mr. Hoke took up the general attitude of the Roosevelt administration which had differed radically from those of the past ten years commencing with the recognition of the Russian government and the resumption of diplomatic relations that had been suspended since 1917. He also touched on the situation in the orient, the recognition of Philippine independence and the phases of the national policy that would be developed when that country was made an independent nation, as well as the general attitude of the nations signing the international naval pact which will expire in 1933 and will then lay open the rights of the nations to build their vessels of war regardless of the restrictions now imposed on them by the treaty.

The address was one of the greatest interest and showed many interesting phases of the present world's history making.

Mr. Hoyt Griffin, supervisor of music in the city schools, was presented in two very fine concert solos, the accompaniment being played by Miss Lillian Garrett. Mr. Griffin makes a fine addition to the musical talent of the city and the Rotarians were delighted to have him with them.

Mynard Club Resumes Their Regular Meeting

Very Fine Program Is Presented by the Talented Members of the Club Friday.

The Mynard Community club have resumed their monthly meetings, after the summer vacation, and on Friday evening, at their community club room, was held the first of the fall meetings. A good sized audience was present to enjoy the program sponsored by the east side entertainment committee, and after the current business matters were taken care of the meeting was turned over to giving the program of the evening which numbers were announced by Mrs. Sherman Cole in the absence of the members of the program committee.

The program opened with two piano duets by Mrs. Elbert Wiles and Mrs. Roy Cole. This was followed by two trumpet solos, "Out of the Dusk to You," and "Only a Year Ago," played by Richard Cole. The next number was two piano solos by little Eloise Cole who played "Fantasy," from William Tell and "In the Swing."

One of the highlights of the evening's entertainment was the vocal solo by Mrs. Chester Wiles who sang "My Alice Blue Gown" and Mrs. Wiles was very charmingly gowned in blue. It made a beautiful setting for the song which drew the applause of the audience. For encore she sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told."

Robert Cole played two piano solos, "March Militaire," by Schubert, and "Minuet," by Mozart. This was followed by two readings by Helene Perry, who, in her charming way, read "Out to Old Aunt Marys" and "Our Hired Girl." The audience always appreciates Miss Perry's readings.

The main feature of the evening's entertainment was the musical numbers rendered by Olin and Bernard Morris, of Union, on their Hawaiian guitars. These talented young men have appeared on several programs recently over the county and their renditions are always highly pleasing to their audience, and if applause is a criterion of appreciation their numbers were certainly appreciated on the Mynard Community club program.

The next meeting will be held the last Friday in October and the entertainment will be in charge of the west side committee, of which Richard Livingston is chairman.

The Mynard Community club has a standing invitation to all who believe in clean entertainment and in the upbuilding of the community, to attend their meetings.

HANDLE MUCH BUSINESS

The local office of the Burlington railroad has been kept very busy in the past two weeks with the handling of the supplies for the river work that comes through their railroad. The material yards of the George Co., and the A. W. Farney Co., Inc., are located on the Iowa side of the river but the handling of the shipping and delivery is taken care of by R. W. Clement, local agent. This has served to keep the clerical force extremely busy in the past weeks.

John and Claus Jess of Omaha were in the city for a short time Sunday to visit with the old time friends.

Death of Well Known Resident of Elmwood

Mrs. Louise Pieper Called to Last Reward—Active Figure in Church Work.

Louise Pieper nee Boemeier, was born July 20, 1863 at Schweicrup Lippe, Germany. She was educated in the German public schools and was baptised, instructed and confirmed in religion in the Reformed Church. Her parental home was a real Christian home. Her parents were converted folks. They had family worship in the morning and in the evening also father would withdraw for secret prayer. The preachers of the Evangelical church were welcomed into this home to stay over night, to pray and to preach all of which had a blessed influence in the lives of the children.

Some of the children had migrated to the United States of America in the spring of 1883. The two youngest daughters, Minnie and Louise also came to their sister in Hulbard, Iowa. Having a brother in North Dakota, they left in 1884 for that state. Here they attended the services of the Evangelical church. They became converted, joined the church, were greatly interested in all of its activities and supported liberally.

In April, 1889, Louise was joined in marriage to Rev. H. Pieper of the Nebraska Conference of the Evangelical church. To this union were born twelve children, six sons and six daughters. One son and one daughter preceded them into eternity. Her home life was a busy one, but she loved the children and to care for them was to her a service of love. She was greatly interested in their earthly and heavenly welfare, that they should receive their education in the public schools, attend all church opportunities, such as Sunday school, programs, catechetical instruction, revival meetings, in short all church meetings.

In this home always the greatest care had to be taken in making all ends meet financially and saving for a "rainy day." Then most of the parsonages were small and primitive in style, which made it often very embarrassing, especially if extra preachers had to be housed which often occurred. But she met it all with Christian fortitude. She was healthy and of a practical turn of mind. She enjoyed reading stories in the German and English language. She also loved flowers greatly and all of nature's scenery, God's great creation.

Sister Pieper was also greatly interested in all church work and gave as much of her time as family duties would permit. She was for some years teacher in the Sunday school and president of the W. M. S. Although always busy she also knew when to rest, which greatly preserved her strength. After she had moved her family twelve times in thirty-eight years she was glad to move to Elmwood into her own modest home, her husband's health having failed and was compelled to retire from the active ministry in the spring of 1925.

For some years Sister Pieper was ailing from heart trouble and in connection with this came an appendix attack in May of this year. This condition formed a physical crisis in September of which she passed out of this life Sept. 26, 1934 in the Bryan Memorial hospital, Lincoln, Nebraska, age 71 years, 2 months and 6 days.

Funeral services were conducted from the Evangelical church in Elmwood and then laid to rest in the Elmwood cemetery awaiting the resurrection of the redeemed. She leaves to mourn, her husband, four sons, five daughters and ten grandchildren.

RETURN TO THE WEST

Mrs. J. J. Adams and mother, Mrs. Edward Martin, of Sheridan, Wyoming, who have been visiting here for some time, departed Tuesday for Lincoln where they spent the day and then continued on to their home in the west. Mrs. Martin has spent a number of weeks here with her granddaughter, Mrs. Robert M. Walling and was joined here by Mrs. Adams, mother of Mrs. Walling, for a short time.
