Life of Roy Cochran Has Been Busy One

Since Boyhood Days on Cass County Farm, Democratic Candidate Has Been in Active Service.

Roy Cochran was born on a Cass county farm forty-eight years ago. When a small boy he crossed the state with his father in a covered wagon.

The destination of the Cochran family was a new home on a Lincoln county farm between Brady and North Platte. Their first home was a sod house, and one of the high spots of his boyhood was when the dirt floor of the soddy was covered with a wooden floor.

The rural school near the farm was a small one-room soddy. Roy Cochran's school year was just the reverse of the present school year. He attended school three months during the coldest winter months, and worked the other nine.

The farm home was situated near the banks of the Platte river. The present which made Roy Cochran the happiest of any he had, or ever will get, was a pair of skates. He learned to skate on the Platte river with a pair of assorted skates, one of which was three inches longer than the other.

When he was twelve years old he spent all day Christmas shucking corn and happily anticipating the Christmas celebration which was to be held in the little sod school house for every one living in the neighborhood. He knew it had been a hard year for the family and didn't really expect a present, but it didn't do any harm to hope.

For five happy years he rode his pony five miles a day back and forth to the Brady high school. High school days over the faithful pony was still to play a big part in his career. Hearing of a farmer living some distance away in the sand hills, who needed a horse, he rode out to his farm, sold the pony for seventy dollars, and walked back the twenty miles to board the train for Lincoln.

The pony money supplemented by almost every kind of work furnished the capital for his university education. He was graduated from the Civil Engineering department in 1910. His first engineering job was working for the Santa Fe. He was hired for thirty-five dollars a month.

He left the Santa Fe to become a surveyor in Lincoln county. He was elected twice on the Democratic ticket, the second time by an increased majority, although Lincoln county was then a Republican stronghold.

In 1915 he began working for the Department of Public Works. His first job was a state bridge inspector, and under his supervision the beautifully arched steel bridge on the Lincoln Highway east of North Platte was built.

In 1917 Governor Keith Neville made him deputy state engineer. War was declared soon after he came to Lincoln, and although above draft age he entered the first training camp at Fortress Monroe.

FEEL TIRED, ACHY- "ALL WORN OUT?" Get Rid of Poisons That Make You Ill

IS a constant headache keeping you miserable. Do you suffer burning, scanty or too frequent urination; attacks of dizziness, rheumatic pains, swollen feet and ankles? Do you feel tired, nervous—all unstrung? Then give some thought to your kidneys. Be sure they function properly, for functional kidney disorder permits poisons to stay in the blood and upset the whole system.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They help the kidneys cleanse the blood of health-destroying poisonous waste. Doan's Pills are used and recommended the world over. Get them from any druggist.

among the first of the American Expeditionary Force. He served in the army eighteen months, coming out with the rank of Captain in the Coast Artillery.

Upon his return from France he was married to Aileen Gantt, the granddaughter of Chief Justice Daniel F. Gantt, a pioneer Nebraskan. At the time of their marriage, Mrs. Cochran was county superintendent of schools in Lincoln county, a position which she held for eight years.

In 1923 Governor Bryan appointed Roy Cochran state engineer. He has served in this position continuously thru the Democratic and Republican administration up until he accepted the filing for nomination for governor of Nebraska, the 3rd day of July, 1934.

STUDY MOLASSES AS FEED

Washington.—Secretary Wallace said the department of agriculture was studying the possibility of using molasses made from surplus sugar cane in insular areas as livestock feed in this country. The proposal for such use was submitted by representatives of Philippine island producers, the secretary said.

AAA Administrator Davis endorsed the plan saying that use of molasses from this source for feed purposes would be in keeping with the adjustment administration policy of drawing such unneeded surpluses to supply deficiencies whenever this can be done.

Chicago.—William Southern, Jr. of Independence, Mo., attacked the "spoils system" in relief administration before the Inland Daily Press association convention, and urged the editorial "spotlight" be trained on relief abuses.

Ask Increase in Funds for the Upper River

Mississippi Valley Association Seeks $15,000,000 More for Upper River Channel.

The Mississippi Valley association is anxious to see at least 15 million dollars more allocated for upper Missouri river channel development this fall, said Lachlan Macleay, executive vice-president of the association, at Omaha from St. Louis yesterday.

He conferred with C. E. Childs chairman of the traffic committee of the Mississippi Valley association, and addressed a luncheon meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce waterways committee. Rufus E. Lee, chairman, presided.

Mr. Macleay urged big delegations from Omaha and the entire Missouri watershed at the annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley association in St. Louis, November 26 to 27. Speakers will include Secretary of War Dern, who now is on an inspection trip down the Mississippi valley; Transportation Co-ordinator Eastman, United States senator and congressmen from central western states, and leading industrialists of the area.

"The upper Missouri channel ought to be finished and in use two years from now," he said. "Army engineers are working at top speed on present projects and could continue at a fast pace. There is no reason why this work can't be finished without delay and the benefits made available to our shippers."

"Until we can get low-cost distribution for our heavy products," he continued, "industry in this section cannot reach extensive markets in competition with seaboard and great lakes centers."

"We are anxious to develop industry in the midst of agriculture. That's the proper way."

'BLACK LISTING' IS DENIED

Washington.—The postoffice department denied that it had "black-listed" officials of air transport companies whose airmail contracts were annulled last winter on the grounds of collusion. In a statement replying to the testimony by Colonel Lindbergh before the federal aviation commission, Harilee Branch, second assistant postmaster general, disputed Lindbergh's assertion that the air transport officials had been given no opportunity to prove whether they had been guilty of wrong-doing in previous airmail contract lettings.
