

Nehawka

Julian J. Pollard was called to Omaha on last Monday, where he was looking after some business matters in connection with the business he operates in Nehawka.

W. T. Schlichtemeier was shelling and delivering corn to the Nehawka Farmers elevator on Monday. Harry Reed was assisting with the shelling and delivery of the grain.

Wilmer Harschman has been having quite a time with a number of boils which have persisted in appearing over his body, the last to come selecting a location on the point of his chin. This one is getting well now and he is hopeful the seige is over.

Their Cars Collided

While James Miller was returning from a trip out in the county and was driving along he met a car going in the opposite direction, driven by Adolph Hansen. As they assayed to pass each other, in some way the cars collided, damaging each car to a considerable extent. The occupants were not injured beyond being slightly shaken up. Responsibility for the collision was agreeably settled and both gas buggies are being reconditioned and made ready for travel.

Suffered Badly Injured Arm

Last Sunday when Dan Anderson was cranking his car, a premature explosion in the firing chamber caused the crank to kick backward, bruising his arm very severely. Dr. Brendel, of Avoca, was called and had the patient removed to Nebraska City for an X-ray picture which revealed there had been no bones fractured and the damage was confined to the severe bruising of the muscles and tissues of the arm. Mr. Anderson will have to go without using the arm for some time.

To Have Modern Model Home

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McReynolds are at this time completing the remodeling of their farm home, which is being changed and rebuilt according to the ideas of the architectural service of Successful Farming, a farm paper published at Ames, Iowa, by the Meredith Publishing company. The plans for this work were drawn by Architect H. E. Walker, of Manhattan, Kansas, who worked in conjunction with Miss Loper, of Lincoln, head of the 4-H club work in the state of Nebraska. The work of changing and remodeling has been in progress since the early part of last September.

Miss Ellen Pennell, employee of the Meredith Publishing company, of Des Moines, together with the paper's staff artist and photographer, were at the McReynolds home last Saturday, taking various exterior and interior view pictures of the house, which will be published in the April issue of Successful Farming.

As an example of the efforts at cooperating, the Kalamazoo Stove company, of Kalamazoo, Michigan, one of the magazine's extensive advertisers, contributed the heating plant for the new home, which they also had installed, the work of installation having but recently been completed.

Mrs. Rough Improving Nicely

Stewart J. Rough was a visitor in Lincoln last Sunday, where he went to see Mrs. Rough, who is convalescing following a siege of illness that has extended over several weeks. Mr.

Rough was well pleased with the progress his wife has been making since he last saw her, and he has the assurance of attending physicians that she will be able to return home in the near future. That is pleasing news to the couple and as well to their many friends.

Meets with Painful Accident

After Dr. Henry Walters had made a call north of town and was returning home last Sunday, as he was passing the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Troop, where the roads were rather rough, he got his car into a rut and in endeavoring to get it out, it left the roadway and headed for a ditch at the side of the road, rolling over a couple of times as it went down the embankment, before coming to a stop at the bottom of the ditch. The car was badly damaged and Dr. Walters suffered numerous bruises, also receiving a cut on one of his legs.

Monday the car was resting at the garage of Clarence Hansen awaiting its turn to be repaired and the doctor was resting at home, getting some of the soreness out of his muscles. He was able to resume his practice on Tuesday, however.

Three Hundred Years of Public School System

First Public School Established in 1635 at Boston—Teachers to Observe Anniversary.

Three hundred years of public high school education are to be celebrated during the coming year under the direction of the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association.

In 1635, Boston Latin School was founded, to give free instruction at public expense to all who desired to study Latin in preparation for the professions of law, navigation, medicine, and theology.

In 1935, about 5,000,000 boys and girls in 20,000 schools benefit from the tradition of public education that was established then. Today they study hundreds of subjects in preparation for almost every occupation in society. Their culture still depends heavily on the remote civilization of the Mediterranean, but it is also enlivened with studies which are as fresh as Shakespeare and Milton were in 1635.

But in one impressive respect, the high schools of today have failed the hopes of Boston. Hardly more than half the students of high schools are today enrolled in high school. While the privilege is theirs in theory, practical economic circumstances forbid them to attend. There is also the lamentable failure of many schools to adjust the courses of study to take care of the groups who wish to study for trades rather than for professions which call for college training.

Many young men and women, finding no place for themselves in industry or in society, are drifting into sloth, ignorance, and crime. At the same time, many people blame this social disgrace upon society's servant, the schools. They decri learning at public expense and call for a program which would force every student to pay his way.

With these conditions in mind, the Celebration Committee has established the following objectives for the celebration, with the American tradition of public education for democracy as the basis.

1. To help the public to know the aims and achievements of high school training.
2. To advance the cause of universal education as the cornerstone of democracy.
3. To raise the level of high school education by publicizing its greatest advances.
4. To increase high school enrollment by providing aid to the financially underprivileged and by adjusting the courses of study to democratic needs.

Plattsmouth high school expects to contribute its part to the observance of this important event in the history of the American public school system. Mr. Patterson is chairman of the committee on observance in district No. 2 of the state teachers association.

OPPOSE THIRTY HOUR WEEK

New York.—Opposition in the steel trade as well as among consumers of steel, to proposed legislation for a thirty hour week in the industry, is indicated in reports to the American Iron & Steel Institute.

"Steel mill employees," the announcement stated, "are reported to be generally against the measure because the fear it will result in a reduction in weekly earnings or in freezing those earnings at existing levels. Management of the steel industry is fearful that the difficulties attendant upon six hour day operations would be unsurmountable, and would cause contraction of markets."

Consumers of steel are represented as feeling certain that the thirty hour week would make for substantially higher prices of finished products, and as an example, estimated the added direct cost of making steel at more than 100 millions in 1934, had the thirty hour week been in effect during that year.

WHITE COLLAR WAGES UP

State FERA Supervisor Ogden revealed that "white collar" workers on relief projects in the state have been paid twice the wages ordinary employes on relief jobs receive. In a report on the professional work program in Nebraska Ogden said:

"The remuneration for professional project jobs was about twice that of the ordinary work relief job, in order that white collar workmen might live more nearly on the scale to which they were accustomed."

Ogden said 1,943 persons have been employed on twenty-three different types of professional work projects in the state since last August.

RFC Reports Profit from Its Operations

Earning of $26,000,000 in 1934 Announced by Reconstruction Corporation Chairman.

Washington.—A healthy financial condition with net earnings of $26,000,000 in 1934 was reported by the Reconstruction corporation in formally asking congress for authority to bolster the real estate mortgage market and help railroads to reorganize.

Chairman Jones, in making the report, said that since its organization in February, 1932, the corporation had made $65,175,963 in profits.

The chairman recommended congress grant authority for the corporation to extend the time for repayments from five to ten years, so that, he said, money which otherwise would be paid the government might be used to aid recovery. The RFC expires on Jan. 31 but the administration already has planned its extension for two more years.

"With bank repair approximately completed," the report said, "the objects which we believe still need special assistance by the RFC are:

1. A continuation of commodity loans thru the Commodity Credit corporation.
2. Nationwide assistance to real estate mortgages.
3. Assistance to railroads on a secured basis.
4. Industrial loans for modernization and replacement of plant and equipment, including in some instances composition of debts on a basis that will enable the borrower to continue operations.

The RFC said 61 percent of all loans made by it had been repaid, including those to 944 banks which closed after getting the cash. "We think," Jones said, "we can be of very real nationwide assistance by helping to promote and revive a market for real estate mortgages not necessarily eligible thru the farm credit or home owners' lending agencies and with the federal housing administration as well as public works in construction projects—all on a sound basis."

"A very large part of our population has some direct or indirect interest in real estate and anything that can be done toward restoring a sound loan value or market value for real estate mortgages will be helpful to a vast number of people."

Otto Schafer & Son REX YOUNG, Auctioneer. MURRAY STATE BANK, Clerk.

Murray

John Stone had the misfortune to lose one of his valuable horses a few days ago, and the loss is keenly felt. Chester Sporer and wife, of near Mynard, were in Murray on last Tuesday, doing some shopping as well as visiting with friends.

Otto Wohlfarth, of Plattsmouth, was a business visitor in Murray last Tuesday and was meeting with a large number of his friends.

Guy Wiles of near Plattsmouth was a business visitor in Murray on last Wednesday evening calling on friends as well as looking after some business.

Parr Young and wife were in Weeping Water last Monday afternoon, where they were visiting with relatives of Mrs. Young and looking after some business matters.

Harvey Gregg and Tom Tilson, who are at this time building a home for Mr. Tilson, have the building so far along that they began placing the roof on the house last Wednesday.

Ralph Kennedy and L. A. Webber have just completed an auto trailer house which Mr. Webber is now using for a residence over in Sarpy county, where he is working on the river.

Lucian Carper was in Union last Monday morning, going down to see the wrecking crew place the derailed locomotive back on the track and also viewing the scene of the wreck that occurred early that morning.

The Social club of Murray and vicinity were meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Albin, where a very pleasant afternoon was had, including a social hour and the delicious lunch served by the hostesses.

Frank Dill, who resides near Mynard, was a visitor in Murray Tuesday afternoon. He had just shipped some cattle to the Omaha market and came to Murray to deposit the proceeds of their sale to his credit in the Murray State Bank.

Eugene Roddy, the rural mail carrier out of Murray, who has been sick for some time, is reported as being somewhat improved, but not as yet able to return to his work, which is being looked after by Harry Albin, the substitute carrier.

L. D. Cresser of the Garage of Murray, was in Omaha on Wednesday of this week, where he secured a new Pontiac car, bringing it home with him and now has it on exhibition in the show room of his garage. Better drop by and see this new beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Greene and their little son were visiting in Murray and also looking after some matters of business on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Greene is engaged in business at Union, being a partner of Phillip F. Rihn in the firm of Rihn & Greene.

M. G. Churchill, who does a great deal of papering and decorating, has just made a display rack for his paper books which he can take to the home of his patrons, aiding much in the showing of his samples. He has the 1935 books now ready for display.

Lyle Lawton, a hustling young man, with no assistance other than his own efforts, secured a position with the Federal Home Loan corporation and is liking his job very much. With the large number endeavoring to secure jobs through political pull or recommendation, the success of this young man in "connecting" is all the more proof of his ability.

Last Monday, with the weather unduly cold, the car of A. A. Young did not want to work, but he kept at it until it did work, whereupon he drove to Plattsmouth to look after some business matters. Incidentally it was Albert's fifty-fourth birthday, which is just another day in the lives of busy folks like him. Congratulations, and best wishes for many more!

Undergoes an Operation

De Forest Philpot, who has been in very poor health for some time, following a severe attack of appendicitis, was taken to an Omaha hospital a few days since, where he underwent an operation for the removal of the offending appendix and also gall stones, which have been bothering him a great deal of late. His brother, W. J. Philpot, was up to see De Forest on Tuesday and found him resting nicely.

Some Better Now

The little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lindner, who has been so sick for more than a year, is reported as being some better at this time and hopes are entertained that it will again be restored to health.

Mistaken for Kidnapers

Two farm boys residing southeast of Murray were out hunting coon a few days ago, when they were sighted by government men who supposed they were members of a gang of kidnapers, or "somepin" as Amos would say. So the government men arrested the boys and held them until they

Will Make Home in Iowa

James Hoeschar departed a few days ago for Iowa, where he will work on a farm for Mr. King, located some 8 miles north and a little west of Shenandoah. While it is some distance from town, it is not too far for Jimmie to go to attend the Christian Bible school at Shenandoah. Jimmie is liking his new home very well.

Will Reopen Cafe Saturday

Harry Albin, who has had the cafe closed for a few days in order that the interior might be changed and redecorated, will be ready for the opening Saturday. The interior has been all changed with booths being placed along the east side of the room while on the west there will be tables for the serving of food and beverages. At the re-opening there will be music and an opportunity for those who desire to dance.

Receives New 1935 Pontiac

L. D. Cresser of the Garage of Murray yesterday received one of the new 1935 six cylinder Pontiac cars, which he now has on display on his show room floor for the inspection of the public. This car, which is described in detail in a large ad appearing in this issue of the Semi-Weekly Journal, is surely a beauty and is seemingly just about the last word in motor car development and perfection. It has the new drop rim 48-spoke wheel, with a combination worm and roller type steering gear that will absorb road jars and jolts. The frame is rigidly constructed and the cooling system is of the celebrated cross-flow type that Pontiac has featured for a number of years. The electrical system is the famous Delco-Remy, with a sturdy 15-plate battery capable of turning the motor over 45 times per minute in zero temperature. The motor is a six cylinder L type, capable of making 80 miles per hour at 3,600 revolutions per minute. The cylinders are 3 1/2 inch bore and the stroke of the pistons 3 1/2 inches, with a displacement of 368 cubic inches, to provide plenty of power and yet operate on a minimum gasoline consumption. The bodies are the new solid steel turret top Fisher construction with a safety glass windshield and all doors locking on the inside. The car has an over-all length of 187 inches, with a long wheelbase. The height has been reduced to 67 1/2 inches, holding the center of gravity nearer the ground, and the width is 69 1/2 inches, providing unexcelled riding comfort. The crank case capacity is six quarts. A great many other refinements are described in detail in the booklets that may be obtained at the garage. Better drop in and look over this new car, regardless of whether you are planning to buy a new one this year or not, for you will surely be interested in the many new features Pontiac is showing.

Denver.—Two Montana women had been listed as victims of a cold wave that broke after engulfing the eastern Rocky mountain region four days in temperatures as low as 56 below zero. Livestock men feared there were heavy losses in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and northern New Mexico.

The reported deaths were those of Mrs. B. L. Series, 69, who died from exposure only a few hundred feet from her farm home near Valier, Mont., and Mrs. Delbert Land, who died in a truck while being taken over snowy roads to Kalispell, Mont., for an emergency operation.

They're Both Fan Dancers, But—

When the pastor of the Unitarian Church at Milton, Mass., announced an entertainment featuring a fan dancer a large audience responded. But as these pictures show, there are fan dancers and fan dancers. Miss Alice Ray was the church fan dancer and clad quite differently than was Sally Rand (lower) when she won fame and fortune with her "art" at the Chicago fair.
