Wheat Contracted Acres are Not Affected

Only for Corn Reduction Have the Regulations Been Changed for 1935 Program.

Changes in the 1935 corn-hog contract which do away with corn "contracted" acres has no effect upon the wheat contract which is still in force, Elton Lux, extension editor at the college of agriculture, has informed wheat allotment committeemen. The wheat contract, originally signed in the fall of 1932, is a 2-year contract and applies to wheat seeded in the fall of 1933 and the fall of 1934 and for harvest of 1934-35.

County wheat control associations, Lux said, notified their members last fall when they planted their wheat for 1935 harvest that they were to lay out 10 percent of their wheat base as wheat "contracted" acres. These acres may be used for production of pasture or hay but not for growing of any grain or seed crop. Land which ordinarily would have been planted to wheat in the fall of 1934 or the spring of 1935 will qualify as wheat "contracted" acres.

Regarding compliance, Lux says several Nebraska associations have indicated they would like to get the check as soon as possible, while some other associations are inclined to wait until about the end of spring wheat seeding time before measuring the land and contracted acreage. W. H. Brockaw, state AAA administrator, is expected to get a report from each county association within the next few days on compliance, and make plans to conduct district and county training schools for wheat supervisors well in advance of the time when the work will be done in the field.

Many farmers have asked that their wheat land be measured before corn planting time, so they can make use of whatever extra acreage of wheat they may have seeded. Some farmers in eastern Nebraska also have reported good stands of volunteer wheat and have asked what they expect to do with this wheat in the spring. Under the wheat contract, any extra acres of volunteer wheat will have to be transferred into pasture before harvest time.

MURDER VERDICT HASTENED

Ottawa, Ill.—Mike Cardines, 40, was tried and convicted of murder in two hours. A circuit court jury deliberated only 10 minutes, finding Cardines guilty of murdering his friend, Agapito Medina, but holding him insane at the time of the act and insane at the time of trial.

Enjoyed Day at Home.

State Representative George E. Nickles and wife who are making their home in Lincoln during the session of the state legislature, were spending the week end in Murray and were meting with friends while here. He has just returned from a trip to Washington, D. C. where he served on a committee representing Nebraska in a conference on relief.

NEGRO GHOUL MUST HANG

Cleveland, Miss.—James Coyner, Negro ghoul, was convicted of the murder and mutilation of Mrs. Aurelius B. Turner and sentenced to death by hanging. Judge Alcorn set March 5 for the execution. The giant Negro's trial lasted only one day.

National guardsmen, who turned the Bolivar courthouse into a fort to preserve law and order, prepared to leave before midnight to place Coyner in the Jackson, Miss. jail for safe keeping.

District Attorney Rice, displaying three pieces of human flesh to the jury, made a dramatic plea for conviction. Coyner, also known as Alonzo Robinson, did not take the stand. The state relied largely on the confession he allegedly made to Jackson, Miss. officers that he killed Mrs. Turner and her husband at their home near Cleveland, Dec. 8, and cut pieces of flesh from Mrs. Turner's body.

STEAMSHIP SINKS FERRY

Vancouver, B. C.—The prow of the 2,099 ton Canadian Pacific steamship Princess Alice knifed out of a dense fog here, slashed into West Vancouver ferry No. 5 and sank the smaller boat in eight minutes, with the loss of one life.

Mrs. Martha S. Burritt of Vancouver, one of the seven ferry passengers, was imprisoned on crushing timbers in the rear cabin of the craft. She went down with it despite the desperate efforts of Capt. Darius Smith, who hacked at the door with an ax as long as the ferry remained afloat.

POPULATION SHOWS JUMP

Washington.—You can take it from the census bureau that, surprisingly, the population of the United States has jumped up nearly 20,000,000 since 1930. The latest census estimate places the population at 141,547,000 people, compared with the 1930 census of 122,775,046.

This fact was disclosed when the state department asked congress to increase by $1,127 the appropriation for American membership in the Pan American union. Contributions by each member nation are on the basis of $1.20 per thousand population.

Government Plans Withdrawing Farm Lands

Seven Million Acres Planned to be Purchased by National Government to Aid Distress.

The plans for the purchase and withdrawal from cultivation of 7,000,000 acres of unprofitable farm lands by July 1st, was the subject of discussion by the leaders in the administration. The proposition is to assist in finding a place for stranded populations, both rural and urban.

At the same time, Lawrence Westbrook, assistant federal relief administrator, gave his unqualified endorsement to the proposal by the commerce department's business and advisory council for a $2,500,000 revolving fund to aid in the decentralization of industry.

"It fits in with the plans we've made," Westbrook said. He directs the rural rehabilitation experiments at the relief administration. The problem of finding a place for the inhabitants of the 7,000,000 acres the government intends to buy probably will revolve upon him.

The rural rehabilitation unit has concerned itself primarily with the problems of the farmers on submarginal lands or with rural groups that are underprivileged.

Subsistence homesteads, under Secretary Ickes, has established several projects looking to the relocation of city unemployed having no prospects of immediate jobs.

The relief administration and the AAA have allotments totaling $73,000,000 to purchase submarginal land and they have been quietly purchasing land for some time.

Approximately 45,000 people will be directly affected under the purchase program now under way, according to the best official estimates. They are being moved to better farming areas if they are willing to attempt a fresh start. Officials said that there would be no enforced transfers.

ANNUAL CHINESE NEW YEAR

New York.—With the dancing of dragons and unicorns in the flag decked narrow streets of New York's Chinatown the annual Chinese new year celebration ushered in the year 4,639. Tom-toms beat and throbbed incessantly as the grotesque papier-mache dragons descended from the upstairs headquarters of the Hip Sings and the On Leongs, the two major tongs of Chinatown, and danced in crowded Mott, Pell and Doyers sts. Under each dragon head a tireless oriental pranced and bowed, while an escort from his tong upheld the dragon's long and sinuous tail of painted cloth.
