Home from the Hospital One of these recent cold nights, when Lucean Banning went to bed, he took a warm iron with him, and by the way, the iron was warmer than he had supposed and thereby hangs a tale, for he suffered burns on one of his feet which became infected and in order to prevent a more serious condition, Lucean went to the Clarkson hospital in Omaha, where the burned foot was cared for. His condition has been improving and he was able to return home from the hospital last Saturday with the foot practically well again. In fact, he had the promise of the physician at the hospital that in a few days it would be entirely well and he would be able to resume his usual avocation.

NO FIAT MONEY FOR BONUS Washington.—An effort to sell to the country the idea that the Patman cash payment of the bonus bill would not require the issuance of fiat currency was made a part of the strategy plans of the bill's backers. Twenty-one house members met for nearly an hour mapping out their battle for the Patman bill and against the bonus proposal of the American Legion. They agreed that their first job was to convince the country that the Patman bill would require neither the issuance of "fiat" currency nor "greenbacks."

The Patman bill calls for the issuance of new currency, against present metallic reserves, to pay off the $2,100,000,000 bonus. The legion bill does not specify how the money should be raised. However, there was some talk about inserting a tax in the legion bill so that it would be brought up on the floor under procedure which would prevent offering the Patman plan as a substitute. The Patman bill would not be germane to a tax bill.

Father and Son Banquet is Held at Nehawka

Boy Scout Troop of That Place Honor Guests at the Banquet Held at City Auditorium.

From Wednesday's Daily Last evening the men's brotherhood of Nehawka were hosts at a Father and Son banquet held at the city auditorium and in which the Boy Scout troop of that place were especially honored by the fathers of the community.

The men of the community had prepared the banquet and conducted the serving of the fine repast, which was one that all will long very pleasantly remember as an occasion of real merit and interest.

There were some twenty-five of the Scouts in attendance with Superintendent Stimbirt of the Nehawka schools as the presiding officer, he also being the scoutmaster of the troop.

Attorney J. A. Capwell of this city was introduced and gave a short talk to the fathers of the community and the Scouts, presented in his usual clever and entertaining manner, which was received with a great deal of pleasure by all of the banquet party.

The address to the Scouts was given by E. H. Westcott of Plattsmouth, who has since the earliest days of scouting been active in the work in this city and community. Mr. Westcott based his remarks on the Scout laws on which rests the fine character making functions of the Scout to add to the fine physical program of outdoor work and exercise that is a part of the Scout program in every community. The address of Mr. Westcott was most impressive and one that all of the members of the Scout troop as well as the banquet party felt was a message that all will long remember.

RIVERVIEW CLUB NOTES The Riverview club held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Gayer. Due to an extremely long session, an all day meeting was held. A delicious covered dish luncheon was served, which all did ample justice to.

Most members and one visitor, Mrs. Ellen Spangler, group chairman, were present. A very interesting and instructive lesson in rug making and weaving was very efficiently given by our substitute leaders, Mrs. Lloyd Lewis and Miss Elsie Hoyt.

An all day quilting was arranged February 12 at Mrs. Gayer's. Also plans for a valentine party to be held at the home of Mrs. Georgia Creamer.

Everyone had a most enjoyable day and the club will meet again with Mrs. W. J. Hike in March. REPORTER.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Tigner in the vicinity of Mynard, was the scene of two very pleasant social events the past week. On Saturday night a group of the friends dropped in to spend the evening with the host and hostess, the evening being spent in cards and games. At the midnight hour a dainty supper was served by Mrs. Tigner to add to the pleasures of all of the members of the jolly party.

On Tuesday a party of some twenty of the friends with well filled baskets came to the Tigner home to give the members of the family a pleasant surprise. The evening was spent at pinocle and other games that made the time pass most delightfully until late in the evening when the fine supper was served and the members of the party departed for their homes voting Mr. and Mrs. Tigner excellent entertainers.
