

State Men Here to Check Up Old License Plates

Making Trip Over County to Locate Those Who Are Driving Under Old Licenses.

Those who are operating trucks or cars under license plates of the 1934 vintage are in for more or less trouble as the result as state representatives arrived here Wednesday to make checks on those who have been following this practice.

The officers Wednesday made a check in the vicinity of Union and secured several persons who had failed to secure the necessary plates to operate their cars.

The procedure is to see that the proper license is secured and in some cases prosecutions are made for the violation of the state law that provides for the use of the proper license plates.

The officers work over the state and cover all counties at some time of the year to check up on the licenses and see that the law is not violated.

See the goods you buy. Catalog descriptions are flowery enough, but how about the goods when you get them?

Farmers Must Wait for Refund of Loan Fees

Commissioner Bollen's Colleagues Seek to Place Blame on Him for the Delay.

Rail commissioners Drake and Maupin Friday denounced as delaying for an indefinite period the time that farmers will get their corn loan inspection refund the action of Commissioner Bollen is going into court seeking an injunction permanently halting the operation of the bill passed by both houses. Commissioner Bollen retorted by saying that it will shorten the time since the decision in the case will settle all disputed questions, and that State Treasurer Hall had told him he would not draw the $123,000 warrant because it was not drawn as an appropriation bill.

"This injunction action is not a surprise to the majority of the commission," said Drake. "This will now delay the refunding of this money to the farmers. It is a fair example of the lack of co-operation in the corn loan program from the start, a matter which we had to overcome at all times."

The legislature passed this law with only one dissenting vote, and Governor Cochran signed the bill immediately. The attorney general rendered an opinion that there were no legal obstacles to the method of payment. This commission on Tuesday unanimously approved the plans of procedure, and ordered the necessary blanks. There was no dissenting vote, but now one member throws this money wrench into the procedure. The farmers should know who is holding up the return to them of surplus funds.

The commission was ready to begin work of refunding the excess fees in the corn loan," said Maupin. The proper blanks were ordered by unanimous vote of the commission. The commission unanimously instructed its accountant, Mr. Rund, to prepare the lists, employ the clerical help and rush the work. The whole plan of procedure was unanimously agreed to, and the commission adjourned. Now comes one member, previously agreeing to the plan, with a petition for an injunction, restraining the commission from paying 43,000 farmers the money that rightfully belongs to them.

"I hope those farmers and all other citizens of Nebraska, will understand why the work of refunding these excess fees is being unduly delayed. It is merely one commissioner trying to impose his will upon the other two commissioners, and making trouble when he falls."

Mr. Bollen said that he has satisfied himself that there are legal obstacles in the way, and that he is not accustomed to substitute another's judgment for his own. The law places upon him a legal liability for the safekeeping of the money that he is not willing to assume.

Bollen and State Auditor Price, who is the defendant, agreed to stipulate in the Lancaster county district court for immediate hearing of the suit, and hoped the hearing could be set for early next week. The case probably will be appealed to the supreme court.

While still weak from the effects of the operation it is hoped that the patient may soon be able to be on the highway to complete recovery from her trouble.

Tax Receipts Reveal Gain in Federal Income

Federal Revenues May Reach Estimates for the Year Made by President Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt's revenue estimates for the current fiscal year became a step nearer realization with an announcement by the treasury that receipts through February had amounted to $1,913,465,375—a gain of $341,479,065 over the comparable period of last year.

The annual budget message estimated the year's receipts at $3,197,000,000. Receipts for the first eight months of the period have been at the rate of $239,000,000 monthly, which would indicate total receipts for the year of only $2,869,000,000 if the present rate were maintained.

However, treasury officials said that the remaining months are among the most lucrative, due primarily to the fact that the first installment of income taxes on 1934 incomes are due in March, a levy which is expected to return at least 300 million dollars before March 31.

Says Prosperity Sign

On this basis, responsible officials are known to believe strongly that the budget estimates will be reached. On Capitol Hill, the treasury figures evoked even more robust enthusiasm. Speaker Byrns declared "we're out of the depression," and then added:

"There's nothing gives a better indication of the true condition of business than tax payments."

Other democratic leaders said they believed congress might not be confronted with the necessity of immediately laying new levies.

In line with this, a move to prevent re-enactment of the federal excise tax of 1 cent a gallon on gasoline which expires in July was under way in the house.

Liquor Estimate Close

Meanwhile, the treasury reported that February's tax receipts amounted to $181,620,797, a gain of $7,584,961 over the same month last year.

Alcoholic beverages have returned $267,340,274 during the first eight months of the present fiscal year. In his budget message the president estimated all alcoholic beverage taxes for 1935 as $92 million dollars, while returns of $390,670,000 are forecast on the basis of eight months' receipts.

Tobacco taxes have returned $309,350,035 for the fiscal year to date, an increase of $26,405,591 over last year, while the manufacturers' excise or "nuisance" taxes, which it is proposed to continue, brought $217,634,172, a decrease of $47,308,697.

ASK COUNTY RECOGNITION

Omaha.—Members of the state assistance board, meeting here with Federal Relief Administrator Hayes, decided to send to all county clerks a letter asking their county boards formally to recognize the authority of the state body to administer relief funds from county sources. The letters will be sent out next week. Action by the counties is necessary, it was said, to conform to the state law passed in February, which recognized the state committee as the official agency for supervising expenditure of all relief funds.

Members attending the meeting were Frank D. Throop, Lincoln; Gene Huse, Norfolk; Frank Colfer, McCook, and Dr. F. W. Heaghey and Mrs. W. J. Hotz of Omaha. A. F. Buechler of Grand Island and Herman Holm of Omaha were not present. In the afternoon the board members were taken on a tour of government offices.

NO PUBLIC WORKS RULE

Washington.—Representative McLaughlin informed Chancellor Burnett of the University of Nebraska that no rules would be established for future public works until the new work relief bill passes congress in its final form. Chancellor Burnett had asked McLaughlin for suggestions as to how the university might obtain funds to carry on a building program, in view of the state's inability to match funds. With the work relief bill still pending in the senate, McLaughlin said it was impossible to state what regulations will be adopted.

FINE FIGHT CARD

The sport lovers of the community had a fine treat afforded them Thursday night at the Boy's camp north of this city, five boxing matches serving to entertain the large crowd that had gathered from the camp as well as Plattsmouth to witness the clever work of the young boxers.

Stanley Richardson, Omaha, served as the referee and George Lynch of Bellevue and William Shea of this city were the judges of the various bouts.

In the opening three round bout Bill Allen won the decision over Steve Messies, both 165, being members of the camp.

Arthur Due, 104, won a technical knockout over Paul Heffelfinger in the second bout of the evening and which was a real battle.

In the third bout of the evening Elmer Newton, 134 of this city and Stanley Ratay, 130 of the camp, fought a fast and furious four rounds to a draw and Newton has asked for a return match with his opponent.

In the fourth contest of the evening Tony Bacca, 130 of the camp was awarded a technical knockout over Russell Arnold, 135 of this city, in the third round, the camp boxer finding the chin of Arnold to daze the clever Plattsmouth boxer and take the decision.

The main event of the evening was a lightweight battle between Jack Reno, 138 of the camp and Earny Newton, 142 of this city. This was a very clever four rounds of boxing and in which both fighters showed well. The fight was declared a draw.

Next week the preliminaries will be three rounds and the main event of four rounds.

Six Dead, Thirty-Four Injured in Conflagration

A celebration marking the success of a school show by Northwestern University students at the Club Rendezvous in suburban Chicago, ended in tragedy at an early hour Sunday morning when fire broke out in the club. Six persons were burned to death and 34 seriously injured. The fire was attributed to an over-heated toaster. Crepe paper streamers and wall decorations caused the blaze to spread to all sections of the large room almost instantly. Many were trapped as the frantic guests jammed the main door, which opened inward instead of outward. The top photo shows investigators looking over the ruins; lower, exterior view of club.
