Overwhelming Vote in Favor of Wheat Control

Check of Vote Is Complete in Eighteen of the Thirty-Seven Voting States.

Kansas City.—The AAA's plan to continue its wheat control program for another four years has won overwhelming approval of farmers in all of the thirty-seven states which voted on the proposal.

The total vote in eighteen states which have completed a check of Saturday's vote shows: For the plan, 357,877. Against, 49,563. Other states reported the margin for the control plan was highly favorable, although final figures are not yet available. Farmers who had signed wheat contracts for the last two years and non-signers both were eligible to vote, and in both classifications the vote ran in favor of the plan.

Kansas, into which the AAA poured approximately $40,000,000 last year on wheat contracts, was typical of the vote generally. The tally there ran 63,817 to 7,131 among the contract signers and 5,959 to 2,603 among non-signers. Under the plan, any farmer who signed a contract may abrogate it at the end of two years and the secretary of agriculture may end the contract at the end of any given year.

HOLD UP CROSSING WORK

Details of Nebraska's grade crossing elimination program will be withheld, pending definite instructions from Washington as to scope of federal plans, State Engineer Tilley said. The state highway department has prepared plans and estimates on numerous possible crossing projects.

"But they are entirely tentative until the federal government advises definitely as to requirements, what types of crossings are eligible for improvement and the funds which may be spent," Tilley said. It has been indicated, the engineer said, that the crossing elimination will apply only on main line railroads.

"To date we have no information as to classification of 'main line roads' under federal specifications. Any attempt to outline a list of probable improvements now would be mere speculation."

Plans for the Fremont tunnel, announced Thursday, are being advanced, Tilley explained, because it is felt that project will fall under provisions of any program the federal government approves. The flow of highway and railway traffic is extremely heavy at Fremont, he said, and the railway will undoubtedly be classed as main line.

Six New Jobs in the Federal Works Setup

Senator Burke Asks Nebraska Congressmen to Suggest Men for District Posts.

Washington.—Nebraska congressmen will aid Senator Burke in establishing the new works progress administration setup in the Cornhusker state with recommendations for the six district administrators.

Selection of a state administrator is expected to come soon after the arrival of Governor Cochran who will confer with Senator Burke and Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief and works progress administrator.

Meanwhile, the four democratic representatives from Nebraska went into a flurry of activity after receiving word Senator Burke would welcome suggestions for the district administrators. Reports were heard that the district administrators would receive a $3,500 a year salary, with the state administrator's salary expected to be around $5,000.

Representative Binderup sent out about twenty-five telegrams to leaders in his district asking for suggestions for outstanding men who might fill the post satisfactorily. Congressmen generally were mulling over the lists of democratic leaders with executive training who might set up machinery to speed men from relief rolls to job under the $4,000,000,000 federal program. One Nebraskan said the congressmen would be anxious to get the best possible men to avoid any criticism of the method of handling the program. No indications were forthcoming as to who might be recommended for the district posts.

WESLEYAN HOLDS IVY DAY RITES FOR ITS SENIORS

Lincoln, Neb., May 30.—Raymond Wilhelm of Chapman, president of the Nebraska Wesleyan university senior class, today presided over traditional ivy day ceremonies at the school. Paul Rieber of Hastings delivered the senior oration and the class poem by Adeline Sar of Wakefield was read by Marion Leedom of Gordon.

The Wesleyan band, played for the academic procession and Paul Maves of Burwell, class chaplain, offered the invocation.

Music was furnished by the senior octet: Phyllis Gordon of Friend, Eleanor Ware of Wakefield, Laurel Kendall of Kearney, Catherine Arthur of Comstock, Warren Blintz of Scotia, Coral Hadsell of Lincoln, Alfred Boberg of Clark and Edward Weaver of Genoa.

Nebraska is one of but very few states that has no bonded indebtedness.

LADIES TOGGERY

The Shop of Personal Service—Plattsmouth

The new officers announced their year.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Shepler and son, of Springfield came over Sunday for a short visit here. Mrs. Shepler and son Bob accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Schulling to their home at Raymond for a few days' visit there, all returning home in time for Memorial day.

Norman Peters and C. A. Bremer and family, who have been visiting at the Peters home for the past week, were visiting for the day at the home of Beyle Lewis and family at Verdun. Mrs. Lewis is a sister of Mr. Peters and daughter of Mrs. Elsie Peters.

The first free talking picture show was presented Saturday night, May 25, with a large crowd present. A free show will be presented each Saturday night throughout the summer. These shows are being made possible thru the co-operation of the Greenwood business men.

Mrs. Dudley Wiggins of Plymouth, Indiana, and her brother, James Hoham and wife, of South Bend, Indiana, called on Mr. and Mrs. Ben Howard and Mrs. Ruth Dyer last Wednesday. Mrs. Wiggins will be remembered as Miss Mollie Hoham. It has been about forty years since they left here.

Henry Wilken, the barber and decorator, has been painting the interior of the cafe of Phillip Reese and putting it in very fine condition. Mr. Reese is conducting a very neat and clean place and with the new decorations which have just been made, the place will be all the more inviting.

Received Good Price for Hogs
E. L. McDonald was a visitor in Omaha on Thursday of last week, where he had a load of hogs on the live stock market that were of very fine quality and brought $9.65 per hundred. Besides conducting the store here, Mr. McDonald has been hustling to keep up with the feeding and caring for the live stock and has been able to succeed while those who hap-hazardly care for the duties of farming and stock-raising frequently make a failure of it.

Prepared Wreaths for Graves
Last Tuesday evening the American Legion held a meeting at the I. O. O. F. hall, where, with the Legion Auxiliary they made the wreaths for the veterans' graves. The program for the Memorial Day services was also completed. The meeting was well attended. Following the business session, the ladies had a lunch ready and the Legionnaires helped them to enjoy it. It was reported that the poppy sale was not as large as some years.
