Reemployment Service Offers Farm Laborers

Twenty Thousand Registered With Bureau and Available for Farm Labor Over the State.

Due to the lateness of the planting season and the apparent bright future in farm conditions caused by our plentiful rains, it appears that there will be a large demand for qualified farm hands.

Francis V. Cornell, state director of the national reemployment service, requests that agriculturists continue their cooperation in employing farm labor.

There are now available 20,000 excellent farm hands registered with the National Reemployment Service in the State of Nebraska.

District offices are located in the following cities: Fremont, Omaha, Lincoln, Columbus, Grand Island, Hastings, North Platte, Scottsbluff, O'Neill and Alliance. In addition to these district offices, there are 68 county offices with a local representative, who will be glad to supply any farmer with farm labor.

The National Reemployment Service is operated under the U. S. Department of Labor, and offers a free service to employer and employee.

PEERLESS DROP GAME

Thursday evening the Cardinals, fast kittenball team composed of young men of west of this city, took the Donat Peerless team by the score of 16 to 13 at Athletic park.

The Peerless suffered from massed attacks in the sixth inning that sent their opponents into a comfortable lead behind the excellent pitching of Kaffenberger, who retired eleven by the strikeout route and gave three passes. Rummel and Forbes each donated four free tickets to the Cardinals and were unable to strike out any of their opponents.

The box score of the game was as follows:

Table with columns: Cardinals, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Rows include Saxon, H. Meisinger, Thierolf, Salsburg, Lohnes, Helm, Sprick, Kell, Davis, Kaffenberger, Hennings.

St. John's School Holds Its Closing Exercises of Year

Class of Twelve Graduated From the Eighth Grade Last Evening— Give Fine Program.

The St. John's parochial school held the closing exercises of the school year Tuesday evening at the Knights of Columbus hall before an audience that filled the seating capacity of the hall and made necessary many standing.

The entertainment was also the occasion of the graduation of a class of twelve young people from the school, who after eight years of faithful school work under the guidance of the teachers of the Ursuline sisterhood and are now ready to take up their future work in the high school.

The salutatory of the class was given by Miss Harriett Case, who welcomed the parents and friends on behalf of the graduating class of the school to the very pleasant entertainment that had been prepared for them.

The active program was opened by a very clever skit by the pupils of the fifth grade of the school and which showed the careful training given them by the teachers.

The boys of the school presented a very entertaining three act play, "The Boy Scout Hero," in which was depicted the true spirit of a Scout in doing a good turn each day and in the punishment of snobbishness among the members toward their associates. In the play there was a great deal of clever comedy given by James Sandin, Elmore Brink and James Webb. The members of the cast comprised James Webb, Elmore Brink, Stuart Sedlak, Theodore Libershal, Albin Chovanec, Leo Hiskett, Matthew Sedlak, James Sandin, Harry Shiffer, Bernard Kubicka, Donald Otterstein, Edwin Hiber, Dennis Hiskett, Jerry Downs, Francis Kvapil, Leonard Sikora and John Hiskett.

The primary grades of the school also presented a clever little skit and in which the youngsters received a fine response from their audience.

The older girls of the school were presented in a three act play, "The Charly Puppl," and in which Betty Jo Libershal was cast in the leading role of the school pupil who was supposed to be the charity pupil but in reality was the daughter of a wealthy lady that in the closing act saved the school by an endowment and wiped out all indebtedness. The cast of this clever play comprised Alice Bennett, Betty Jo Libershal, Josephine Wurga, Mary Kvapil, Harriett Case, Alice Rea, Helen Sikora, Anna Aitschaffi, Rita Berlett, Betty Ruffner, Mary Pittman, Renee Brown, Betty Messersmith, Helen Heigl, Clara Pittman.

The fourth graders of the school presented the "Labor Convention," a short skit that which was one of the clever features of the evening and excellently given.

The valedictory of the class was given by James Lawrence Webb, who in behalf of the class membership traced the years of their pleasant associations from the first days of the school to the present hour of graduation and the entry on a new epoch in the lives of the young people. The class speaker told of the feeling of gratitude that the class felt for the unselfish and untiring efforts of the sisters of the school in their instructions, the sacrifices of the parents in keeping them in school and to Father, Agius for his religious training as well as the instructions of the teachers that had given them a spiritual foundation for their educational work. The valedictory was splendidly given and an impressive farewell to the class associations of the St. John's school.

Father George Agius, pastor of the St. John's church presented Superintendent L. S. Devoe of the city schools as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Devoe in his remarks gave the highest praise to the splendid work of the Ursuline sisters who form the faculty of the school, pointing to the high standard of scholarship that had been marked in the pupils of the St. John's school and which was shown in the many honors that they had won in competitive events with other schools. He praised also the students that had come to the city high school to complete their educational work as outstanding. Mr. Devoe stressed the necessity of the fundamentals of education that are received in the grade schools and which fit the student for further advancement in educational lines or the active duties of life and the necessity of education to the well balanced education. Mr. Devoe also praised the American spirit of tolerance and fellowship that was one

CHARLEY CURTIS SAYS THAT DOZEN MEN COULD BEAT F. R.

Washington, May 30.—An assertion that there are "at least a dozen" republicans who could defeat Franklin D. Roosevelt in the 1936 presidential campaign was made today by Charles Curtis, vice-president in the Hoover administration.

In an interview Curtis, a political campaigner for 40 years, said he was planning a tour that would take him as far west as New Mexico shortly but would not say whether the journey was for any political purpose. "With a good campaign we will carry the country at the next election," he said. "I expect to be in the campaign but not as a candidate for anything."

He spoke of the supreme court's NRA decision as "a good talking point" for the battle. "It's one of the outstanding issues," he said.

BURY RED OAK CRASH VICTIM

Red Oak, Ia., May 30.—Masonic and military rites were held at Red Oak Thursday for James Garner Telfer, 34, killed in an auto accident Tuesday near Ponca, Neb. He was a son of the late Alex Telfer, retired Methodist minister.

Young Telfer was a graduate of the Red Oak high school and Iowa State college. He was a member of the Masonic lodge, American Legion, the Forty and Eight and Methodist church. He was a salesman for the J. D. Adams Co., of Omaha. Two brothers and a sister survive.

FILES A $250,000 SUIT IN "WIFE SWAP" CASE

Los Angeles, May 30.—A new tangle involved principals in Los Angeles' famous "wife swapping" case yesterday when Mrs. Leah C. Sewell filed suit for 250 thousand dollars damages against Mrs. Jane Emerson, charging she alienated the affections of Barton Sewell, wealthy yachtsman. Mrs. Sewell charged that Mrs. Emerson, by means of "blandishment, flattery and protestations of love" induced Sewell to leave his home and take up an illicit association with her.
