Telephone Company Names New Commerc'l Head

J. A. McKinzie of Lincoln Will Be District Manager of All Commercial Plants in Lincoln Dist.

J. A. McKinzie, district manager in charge of plant-traffic activities, eastern division of the territory served by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company, since February 1, 1934, has been named district manager in charge of all commercial, plant and traffic activities in the Lincoln district. This announcement is made today by H. F. McCulla, general commercial superintendent of the company.

In his announcement, Mr. McCulla said in part, "This organization change is being made at this time in order that our company may better serve the needs of its subscribers. At the same time rapidly changing business conditions pointing definitely to a material improvement during the coming months cause us to re-organize our company to better meet these conditions. The new plan of organization will permit the district representatives of our company to keep closer contact with the communications needs of our territory and to better serve our customers."

Mr. McKinzie has been identified with the telephone industry since 1915 and this promotion comes to him in recognition of his splendid record with the company and his ability to assume greater responsibilities, according to Mr. McCulla.

In his new position as district manager of the Lincoln district of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company, Mr. McKinzie will have direct supervision over the following counties: Saunders, Saline, Cass, Otoe, and the south half of Lancaster. He will make his headquarters in Lincoln, assuming his new duties immediately.

RETURNS FROM WEST

From Wednesday's Daily
S. S. Gooding who has been spending the past two weeks in west Nebraska and eastern Colorado, returned home this morning after a most interesting visit that covered a large part of the flooded districts of Nebraska. Mr. Gooding first visited at Alliance and Bridgeport, later going to Sterling, Colorado and then returning to Chappel, Nebraska, where he was a guest of a cousin, J. Archer and other relatives there and at Big Springs. Later he visited at Sidney and also a short stay in Denver.

Mr. Gooding took the trip through the Republican valley, swept by the recent flood and states that the destruction there is beyond words, houses demolished, trees torn out and scattered along the course of the flood and vast layers of silt and refuse scattered over once fertile farming lands. In that section the Burlington railroad suffered very heavy losses in tracks and bridges torn out. In some cases Mr. Gooding states, the heavy steel rails were bent and twisted by the force of the flood waters.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Kenneth McCarthy, who has been engaged in river work near this city, was operated on this morning at the St. Joseph hospital at Omaha. The operation which was performed by Dr. L. S. Pucelik of this city, was for the removal of a piece of shattered bone from the right knee, the right leg having been fractured on Monday. The accident occurred while Mr. McCarthy was engaged in work on the river and the injured young man was taken on to Omaha to be cared for. He is doing as well as possible and it is hoped that he may soon be able to return home.

Prepare for Conservation Work in Cass County

Personnel of Officers for the New Camp to Be Located Near Weeping Water Arranged.

The personnel for the new camp to be erected at Weeping Water is now organized and in readiness for the completion of the camp buildings and the movement of the workers into the Cass county area for their conservation work in all parts of the county where needed.

The camp will be maintained as a part of the Emergency Conservation Works system in Nebraska and will be occupied with the matter of the soil conservation in Cass county.

The camp will be known as Camp SCS-7.

The personnel of the camp as announced will comprise the following: Superintendent—Homer A. Wendling.

Technical Foreman Engineers—Hubert T. Heigele,
Junior Technical Foreman—James C. Carrigan.

Junior Foreman—William J. Morray.
Junior Foreman—James E. DeLaney.

It is expected that part of the buildings will be completed this week and by the end of thirty days the conservation work will be on in full swing over the county and the 235 members of the camp well established in their new quarters.

PREPARING TO MOVE

At the July Legion meeting to be held Friday night instead of Thursday, the task of moving back to the Legion community building from the rooms in the Bekins building that have been occupied the past eight months, will be undertaken. The Legion gave up its building last August to provide a place for the government engineering office, which has now been moved to other quarters.

The task of moving equipment back to the building and re-assembling the stage, etc., will be no small job, but the ex-service men will tackle it with the same determination that they exhibited when chasing the forces of Kaiser Bill back in 1917-18 and make short work of the job.

The return of the building will permit its general use by the community for banquets and all sorts of entertainments, and supply a need that has been keenly felt during the nine and a half months it was in other hands.

Burlington System to Relocate Lines in West

Road May Spend 2 Million Dollars for Expected Changes in Flood Region.

Definite plans for relocating its lines so that there will be no repetition of the recent disastrous flood which caused several millions damage to the road in southwest Nebraska, will be launched this week by Burlington officials following an engineering survey of the region.

"We are prepared to spend $2,000,000 to remap some portions of our track in the flood zone, and this conference will decide just what changes will be made," said Ed Flynn, vice president, in charge of the party of six officials who inspected the region.

The "conference" referred to by Flynn will consist of informal talks between members of the touring group and rail officials in the flood area. Flynn expects to spend until Wednesday or Thursday inspecting temporary adjustments already made. Traveling as far west as Wray, Colo., the party will return by way of Superior and will confer at Orleans, with F. R. Mullen, general superintendent of the Lincoln, Omaha and Wymore division, who has been directing activities in the flood area for nearly a month.

Flynn would not commit himself as to specific changes of the line, other than to say that a seven mile stretch from Holbrook west to Cambridge would be moved from bottom land to higher ground so that it will "swing around the bluffs."

As for general conditions of the road, Flynn declared that June business was about on par with that done last year at this time. A normal corn crop and an output of about 40 million bushels of wheat was his prediction for Nebraska. Flynn said he had seen little evidence of black rust in Iowa, but expects to know definitely how serious is the menace in this state. Flooding of the Des Moines river last week was rather "insignificant" as compared to the Nebraska disaster, altho the Iowa flood cost the Burlington $15,000 to $20,000, Flynn said.

TALKS ON WASHINGTON

The Rotary club at their luncheon Tuesday had a very interesting talk from Attorney A. W. Farmer, who has just recently returned home from a two weeks visit at Washington, D. C., giving his observations of the nation capitol city and the notable figures that he had enjoyed seeing in the sessions of congress. Mr. Farmer gave his reaction to the observations of the national leaders as he witnessed the senate and house in handling many of the very important matters that had come up while he was in Washington.

Dr. H. G. McCluskey, the new president of the club, made the announcement of the various committees for the year and which will start at once functioning in the carrying out of the Rotary program.

The usual songs were enjoyed by the members of the club as a part of the regular session.

Chas. Kennedy Dies from Injuries in Auto Wreck

Death Comes at 4:30 Tuesday Afternoon to Unfortunate Man—Body to Be Taken to Missouri.

Charles Kennedy, 45, who was severely injured last Saturday afternoon in an auto wreck south of this city, died Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 at the University hospital at Omaha where he has been cared for.

The victim of the accident suffered the fracture of his right arm in such a severe manner that it was necessary to operate and amputate the member Monday. He also suffered a great deal from loss of blood and a back injury that made his case very critical from the time he was taken to the hospital.

The patient has gradually grown worse in the last two days until hope of his recovery was given up by the attending physicians.

The deceased was unmarried and leaves to mourn his loss the parents and other relatives who reside near Missouri City, Mo., to which place the body is to be taken for interment.

Mr. Kennedy had been engaged here in river work for several months and was returning from Union where he was working when the fatal accident occurred.

GIVE FINE CONCERT

Saturday evening the auditorium of the Plattsmouth public library was the scene of a very delightful musical treat in the recital of the violin pupils of Mrs. Grace Ledy-Burger, well known Omaha instructor, who has conducted classes here for the past several years.

The platform was bright with the summer flowers that added their charm to the scene and made a fine setting for the excellent program.

The young people that took part in the program did exceptionally well and made a deep impression on the audience for their artistic work and the careful training of their talented teacher was reflected in the work of the young artists.

Mrs. Berger played the accompaniment for the various numbers of her students.

Those who took part in the program were Shirley Leonard, Helen Parkus, Billy Reddie, Robert Hayes, Edna Mae Petersen, Beatrice Knofleek, Billy Evers, Rachel Robertson, Wallace Terryberry, Alice Hiatt, Mildred Knofleek. The violin ensemble comprising the members of the entire class also gave several fine numbers. Master Billie Reddie was also presented in a piano selection that was delightfully given.

The members of the class joined in the presentation to Mrs. Burger of a very handsome bouquet as an appreciation of her services.
