Methodist Church Has a Fine Program

Visitors From Louisville Church Are Here to Take Part—Will Form a County League.

The First Methodist church Sunday had a very fine program on Sunday morning that covered the Sunday school hour, the morning service and the program that followed immediately after the close of the regular service.

The church had invited the young people of the Methodist churches of the county to join them at the services, but the weather prevented several of the groups from attending and only the Louisville members responded, their delegation being headed by Mr. and Mrs. E. Sundstrom as sponsors.

The members of the party attended the Sunday school service and had the pleasure at the morning service of the inspiring address by Rev. C. O. Troy, one of the finest that this gifted speaker has given to his congregation and which was one that all will long remember.

The young people's program that was held following the regular service was presided over by J. Howard Davis, superintendent of the Sunday school and the group singing led by Mrs. E. H. Wescott with Mr. Wescott at the piano and with L. S. Devos as the master of ceremonies.

The classes that took part comprised the boy's class of Mrs. Adelaide Boynton, the high school girl's class of Mrs. E. H. Wescott, the business women's class of Mrs. Zeila Trout, as well as the younger men of the Y. M. B. C. Some very fine talks were given, that of Mr. Elmer Sundstrom of Louisville being especially inspiring and he was selected as the sponsor of a county wide young people Methodist league, with Donald Cotner as the local representative.

During the program Donald Cotner gave a very delightful saxophone solo.

The ladies of the local church had arranged a fine luncheon that was served to the young people and was a much appreciated feature of the meeting.
