*NEW SYSTEM OF TAXATION

Denver.—A complete new system of taxation was urged by M. J. Desmond, deputy state auditor of Minnesota, who spoke at a national convention of state officials.

"Confiscating wealth under the guise of redistribution is the worst tax technic this country has ever experienced," he said. "It not only is unfair, it also strangles business. We must find a new system for taxation. Real estate is being taxed far beyond its value. There must be some other source of money for government. Unless the tax burden is equalized, there will be an uprising of taxpayers in this country. The people will demand not only that taxes be reduced, but they will want taxes slashed to a minimum. The legislators of the country should adopt the simple maxim of 'live and let live' instead of the current clichés about soaking rich or soaking the poor."

A JUNKMAN'S offer will be mighty small reimbursement if your car becomes wrecked in a collision. But an insurance policy will pay the value of the car BEFORE the collision.

What Does Future Hold for Miss America 1935?

Once more scores of attractive young women from all parts of United States are gathering at Atlantic City to compete for the title of "Miss America 1935". History has proved that many of them face disillusionment and heartbreak. Even the winners are often losers. Hopeful of winning fame on the stage or in the movies, many try their luck on Broadway or in Hollywood, only to meet with disappointment and defeat. Few weeks pass but what the headlines carry the tragic tale of some beauty who has taken the easiest way out. Some of those who were selected to represent their home states and cities are shown above. What does the future hold for them?

Name Lincoln Man to Head Church Group

Nebraska Methodist Laymen Elect Dr. F. M. Gregg; Other Officers Are Selected.

F. M. Gregg, Ph. D., of Nebraska Wesleyan university, Lincoln, Friday afternoon was named president of the Nebraska Methodist Layman's conference, meeting at the Hanscom Park church at Omaha.

Other officers named Friday afternoon were Henry Greenlit, Hastings, vice president; Frank M. Miles, Lincoln, secretary, and Mrs. C. H. Randall, Randolph, treasurer.

Greenlit was named chairman of a committee of seven delegates to the national laymen's conference in Columbus, Ohio, in May, 1936. Other delegates were Dr. W. F. Callias, Omaha; Miss Ella Watson, Lincoln; Walter S. Rogers, Ainsworth; Frank Dafoe, Tecumseh; Mrs. F. G. Pennington, Wymore and W. W. Reed, Rosalia.

Bishop Leete Speaks.
Alternate delegates are Mrs. J. Floyd McLean, Lincoln; W. Edgar Gates, Lincoln and Isaac J. Nisley, North Platte.

Conference delegates Friday morning heard Bishop Frederick D. Leete speak on fundamentals of spiritual wealth.

Using as his theme, "God's Rich People," supplemented by the text, "Thou Art Rich," from Revelations, Bishop Leete correlated economic rules with basic religious precepts.

Upholds Profits.
"There can never be prosperity," he said, "without wealth and profit. Destroy wealth, and you injure the poor. Destroy reasonable profits, and you stop employment and reduce all to beggary."

"It is not wealth," Bishop Leete emphatically stated, "but the evil love of wealth that is condemned by the Bible."

Declaring that swollen incomes and bonuses received by corporation officials encourage Communism and economic agitation and ultimately lead to the destruction of life, liberty and religion, Bishop Leete said: "Honorable corporation officials argue that it is just as honest to get money by bullets as by ballots and proxies."

Hold Conference.
A closed United conference business session followed the devotional address. At the conference in the church parlors at 8 a. m. devotional exercises were led by W. S. Rogers of Ainsworth, Neb.

At the afternoon session, which convened at 2 p. m., the chief address was made by Dr. Frederick Carl Eislen, Chicago.

REVOLUTIONIZED FARMING

Not so many years ago agricultural cooperatives were regarded with suspicion. Some believed that they could produce nothing worth while, they were needless "luxuries." Others thought they would merely waste time and money of their farmer members.

Today the cooperative has come into the "necessity" classification so far as the progressive farmer is concerned. The time he gives to it is nothing compared to the benefits he receives. And the money he contributes in dues is returned to him many times over in more stable markets, and better prices for his produce.

The cooperatives have slowly, quietly and effectively caused a virtual agricultural revolution. They have gone a long way toward taking the guess-work out of farming—wherein each producer raised as much as he could, irrespective of markets or demand, and sold it for what he was offered. The old-time farmer was at the mercy of the middleman—the modern farmer, with his organization doing the talking and bargaining for him, has applied proven business methods toward achieving a better place in the world.

Cooperatives have made a great record during depression—and when better times return, they are going to show the country what real agricultural progress means.

OPEN NEW OFFICES

To meet the increasing demand for direct telegraph service to western Nebraska and southeast Wyoming, the Postal Telegraph company opened on September 1, twelve new telegraph offices, giving 24 hour service, in western Nebraska, and five in southeastern Wyoming, according to an announcement made here today by H. F. McCulla, general superintendent of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company.

The headquarters for this group of offices will be located in Scottsbluff, and will be operated by the Platte Valley Telephone company. The offices will be located at the following points: Bayard, Broadwater, Gering, Lisco, Lewellen, Lyman, Melbeta, Minatare, Mitchell, Morrill and Oshkosh, in Nebraska; and Guernsey, La Grange, Lingle, Torrington and Yoder, in Wyoming.

"These additional offices will give our customers complete telegraph coverage in this section of Nebraska and Wyoming," stated Mr. McCulla.

The Battle Against Car Gas Goes Forward

37,000 Motorists Warned of Invisible Poison Monoxide Gas as Cause of Accidents.

Sponsors of the nation-wide Highway Safety Campaign launched in August, which concentrated on carbon monoxide gas as the unknown quantity back of many road disasters, are continuing their crusade into September. Last month more than 37,000 motorists learned in detail the dangers of fumes through free exhaust gas tests on a Power Prover at service stations, a motor analysis which will remain open to the public until October 1. Alarming conditions were exposed in 60 per cent of the cars tested. These include leaky exhaust systems and high percentages of monoxide gas discharged from the motors, unnoticed details which have caused many accidental deaths thru their sleep-inducing effects on drivers.

With state motor vehicle commissioners and safety authorities endorsing the personal contact method of combating the perilous gas, 10,000 safety crusaders are being kept in the field to acquaint drivers with the opportunity to discover if their cars endanger them. In New York, C. A. Harnett, Motor Vehicle Bureau head, said, "We have taken cognizance of these fumes as a real menace. In observing the rules of safe driving, motorists should not overlook this invisible danger."

NORRIS IMPRESSED BY DAM

Norris, Tenn.—In shirt sleeves, Senator Norris scrambled over the giant dam which bears his name, took a motorboat ride on the fastfilling lake behind the dam, and described it all as "impressive and grand."

"I am wonderfully impressed with the project," he said. "I can't suggest anything that I think would improve the work on Norris dam, and I have inspected a great many dams. They are ahead of the schedule and the cost is way below estimates."

In an interview Norris charged that "powerful utility holding companies in the United States are preparing to bring heavy financial pressure to bear to defeat the re-nomination of President Roosevelt. But if the democrats renominate Roosevelt, there is no question but that he will be re-elected." e

NURSES IN MEMORIAL RITES

Nebraska City, Neb.—Memorial services for the late Martha Taylor, for twenty-five years in charge of the state nurses' registry at Lincoln, featured a district No. 3 meeting Thursday of the Nebraska State Nurses association.

In a program given in the chapel of the state school for the blind, Miss Esther Heafey and Dr. D. D. Stonecypher, both of Nebraska City, spoke. Miss Frieda Penfold of Lincoln, district president, was in charge. More than forty-five nurses from southeastern Nebraska were here. The Otoe County Nurses association was host to the meeting.

MEETING PUBLIC'S CHALLENGE

Time and again during recent years the public has challenged the railroads to improve service in many ways—and every time the rails have met the challenge, as Dr. C. S. Duncan, economist, Association of American Railroads, recently pointed out.

The people want speed. Every year witnesses faster travel between major points—and developments in the direction of diesel and electric power, coupled with stream-lining, promise much for future achievement.

They want safety. According to the National Safety Council, railroads have one fatality for each 400,000,000 passenger-miles—as compared with a fatality for each 11,000,000 passenger-miles on our highways.

They want comfort. Few homes or hotels are as comfortable as the modern, quiet-running, air-conditioned, perfectly balanced railroad car.

They want dependability. They have it now—interruptions in railroad service, no matter what the climate or the operating conditions, are very rare.

They want adequacy. The capacity of railroad carriers is not half used today. They have abundant tracks, equipment, terminal facilities and a network of lines embracing every part of the nation.

They want economy. Railroads provide the cheapest available form of mass transportation, both for persons or goods, comfort and service considered.

So it goes, all down the line. The rails are not only meeting the public's needs and wants—they are anticipating them. Railroad progress is never ended, and the march toward better, more flexible, more inexpensive service knows no halt.

VISIT IN CITY

From Thursday's Daily James Stander and nephew, Frank Stander, of Louisville, were in the city today to look after some matters of business at the court house and visiting with their friends here. The Standers have long been identified with the business life of Louisville and Frank Stander is now engaged in the store of which his deceased father, P. C. Stander was so long a member.

Advertising will stimulate business during so-called dull seasons of the year. Try it as a tonic for your business.
