George A. Pfeiffer, President of the Richard Hudnut Co., and Its Subsidiaries Here.

George A. Pfeiffer, president of the Richard Hudnut Co., which with its subsidiaries forms one of the largest corporations in the east, arrived here today to visit with relatives.

Mr. Pfeiffer is a guest at the home of his nieces, Misses Mia and Barbara Gering and Mrs. Henry Herold and family while here.

The Pfeiffer company has an international organization as they have branches in Paris, London, Berlin and other European cities where the preparations from their formulas are prepared for distribution in the various countries. In their holdings are the Hudnut lines of perfumes and preparations as well as the Warner's Golden Medical Discovery and a large number of other patent medicines, making one of the largest business organizations in the world.

HOME MAKERS EXTENSION CLUB

The Home Makers extension club met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. Howard Davis on high school hill, a very pleasing number of the members being in attendance to enjoy the excellent program of the day.

The lesson of the meeting was on "Cooking Vegetables," many of the old and new recipes being given most interestingly by the efficient project leaders, Mrs. Everett Noble and Mrs. Otto A. Keck.

The meeting was closed with the serving of dainty refreshments by the hostesses, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Edgar Newton.

RETURN FROM IOWA

Mrs. J. F. Clugy and daughter, Mrs. Hazel Jameson, have returned home from a motor trip to Iowa, where they visited for a short time with a sister and brother of the late Mr. Clugy, residing at Clarinda. They experienced a great deal of rain on the trip back home, but report a very pleasant visit.

Deny Dealers the Right to Gas Tax Moneys

State Officials Say That Supreme Court Has No Further Jurisdiction.

Attorney General Wright filed with the supreme court Tuesday a brief in support of his motion to dismiss the claim of the Nebraska Petroleum Marketeers to the more than a million dollars now in the hands of the state treasurer, the proceeds of the extra cent a gallon gas tax which the supreme court recently held had been illegally collected. The dealers in gasoline say that as they paid the money in the first instance, they are entitled to a court order for its return to them. In order to avoid the charge that they will pocket it after collecting it from the consumer, the dealers say in the event the court determines that any part of the fund be paid to the purchasers, they will return it to them. They say that having been illegally collected, the money constitutes a trust fund to which they are entitled. The motion will be argued Thursday.

In his brief the attorney general says the court lost jurisdiction of the action when it decided the law was invalid; that it has no original jurisdiction over the proceeding in its present status, the case having been originally brought by a taxpayer and the dealers having intervened in an effort to have the law declared invalid; that they have no interest in the litigation, therefore, other than as persons who have paid the tax for fuel used by them; that they cannot sue on behalf of anyone but themselves; that the suit cannot be maintained as a class suit, and that the court should dismiss the action.

VISITS IN CITY

Hon. George E. Nickles, representative from Cass county, was in the city Tuesday afternoon from his home at Murray to visit with his brother and sister, Lee and Miss Etta Nickles and the many friends in the city. Mr. Nickles is preparing to take part in the special session of the legislature that opens next Monday at Lincoln, and as chairman of the finance committee will have a leading part in the proceedings.

Special Session of Legislature May be Lengthy

Governor Cochran Includes Sixteen Items Listed for Consideration of Legislature.

The "one week" special session originally contemplated by Governor R. L. Cochran was transformed into a prospective marathon in the minds of some legislators at Lincoln Tuesday.

The governor listed 16 items, including one with 11 subdivisions, in his formal call to the lawmakers to meet at noon next Monday.

A glance at the list evoked from Representative W. H. O'Hara (dem.) of Laurel, speaker of the house of representatives, the appraisal, "It looks like a long task."

At least 11 new members will appear in the legislature. New resignations Tuesday were from Senator W. C. Bullard (dem.) of McCook, because of a WPA position, and Representative M. L. Dowell (dem.) of Salem, because of illness. Choices for nine of the places have been made by county or district party committees.

Although the proclamation included a variety of subjects, it was drafted so that, in the opinion of the attorney general's office, the legislature cannot enact any new forms of taxes to finance social security benefits.

Cochran said he would prepare a special message to the joint session of the legislature on its first day and would deliver it in person.

16 Items on List.

The items in the proclamation, mailed to each of Nebraska's 33 senators and one hundred representatives, follows:

1—Legislation for social security as follows: Old age pensions, blind pensions, unemployment compensation, aid to dependent children, maternal and child health services, services for crippled children, child welfare service, vocational rehabilitation, public health work, unemployment and home relief, revenue and appropriations for the program. (Limited to proceeds of 1 cent gasoline tax, share of liquor taxes, and $2 head tax for pensions.)

Milton C. Murphy, assistant attorney general in charge of drafting the social security bills, said the proposed acts, probably five or six in all, would be ready by Wednesday or Thursday. He said no bill for unemployment insurance was being drawn but that it would be left to the legislature itself.

To Validate Tax.

2—Legislation to make valid the $1,113,218 collected between February 28 and September 20 from the one cent a gallon extra tax on gasoline.

3—Legislation to re-enact the one cent gasoline tax for relief and social security purposes in the future, together with a definite statute of limitations on the tax.

4—To provide that a report of the investigation into the state banking department be made to the special session. Governor Cochran said, in commenting on the matter, that a transfer of judicial receiverships from E. H. Lufkart, former bank head, to Ben N. Saunders, present head, was contemplated.

A Back Tax Bill.

5—Legislation for the acceleration of delinquent tax payments by remission of interest, penalties and costs, or otherwise. The Cone delinquent tax installment payment law, invalidated last spring.

6—Repair the law establishing the state real estate commission.

7—Appropriate gasoline tax funds derived from airplane fuel to the aeronautics commission.

8—Emergency appropriation of $42,827 to the Nebraska national guard for its three expeditions this year, plus a few other items connected with the Omaha street car strike.

Authorize Bonds.

9—Repair the two laws passed by the last session making payment of taxes on a motor vehicle mandatory before issuance of a license.

10—11 and 12. To empower counties, cities and villages to issue and sell bonds for federal projects already applied for. The bonds would be financed by gasoline taxes available to those political subdivisions. Also to authorize special assessment bonds for storm and sanitary sewers under federal programs. Also to require counties which have outstanding road bonds (Douglas and Scotts Bluffs only) to put all shares of gasoline tax to retire bonds issued for works projects and the old road bonds.

13—Legislation empowering cities and villages to condemn, appraise and pay damages by a bond issue for property in construction of viaducts

To Aid Armories.

14—Legislation empowering cities and villages to acquire real estate for state armories to be built with state or federal funds.

15—Legislation with reference to the use of Ethyl alcohol blends in motor vehicle fuels.

16—Appropriation for salaries and expenses of old age pension commissioner and staff, and for expenses of special session.

RESTRAIN LIQUOR BOARD

District Judge D. W. Livingston at Papillion Monday afternoon issued a restraining order against the state liquor commission from interfering with sale of liquor by two Spary county night clubs in the first legal test of the recent legislature's liquor control bill.

The provision under attack is that barring sale of liquor outside city limits.

Bert Hiatt, proprietor of the New Modern night club on Highway 75, four blocks south of the Omaha city limits, and J. W. Marshall, one time Plattsmouth man, operator of the Walnut Grove club, Fort Crook, were the plaintiffs to whom the injunction was granted.

The writ prohibits all persons connected with the liquor board from interfering with liquor sales, and also excludes interference by either Sarpy County Attorney R. J. Nickerson or Sheriff Henry Mundell.

W. E. Lovely, Omaha and W. P. Nolan, Papillion, are attorneys for Hiatt and Marshall.

FIX ROAD DAMAGES

Tuesday afternoon John McKay, Weeping Water, James Stander, Louisville, Andrew Schliefert, Manley, were in the city looking after some matters at the court house. The three well known Cass county men form the board of appraisers to set the damages for the construction of a new road leading to the Young cemetery south of this city. The proposed road is through farm land owned by T. H. Pollock, of this city. The board in their report set the amount of damages to be recovered by Mr. Pollock at $860. The action of the appraisers will be taken up by the board of county commissioners at their November session which will open on November 5th, and action taken in regard to the report of the appraisers.

HAVE FINE MEETING

The Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Cloidt with Mrs. Cloidt as hostess.

A pleasing number of the members were in attendance as well as two guests being present.

The business meeting was held and the Heart Sisters were again chosen for the year.

In the course of the evening Miss Wilhelmina Henrichsen gave a very interesting account of her vacation trip to California. Miss Henrichsen's remarks were much enjoyed as were the pictures and souvenirs she showed.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Howard E. Brookings a few days ago made the purchase of an Oldsmobile, getting the new car through the agency of Bert Jamison.

Leonard Nickle of Denton and the family were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of their friends Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Amick of Weeping Water.

Mrs. Olive Murtey, widow of the late Thomas Murtey has been very seriously ill at her home in Weeping Water, but is reported as showing some improvement at this time.

The Weeping Water football squad went over to Talmage last Friday where they played the team of that place with the result that Weeping Water won by a score of 21 to 6.

The Weeping Water second football team went to Nebraska City last Friday where they played the second team of that place and with the result that the game was a tie 7-7.

Noel Golden of Wabash, was a visitor in Weeping Water last week and while here made the purchase of a Maytag washer. C. E. Akins of near Nehawka has also made the purchase of one of these machines.

On Wednesday the Weeping Water high school team is to play at Adams but we do not know the score, but feel sure Weeping Water is winning as they have not been defeated yet this year and are playing pretty fast football.

Ralph Jewel who is attending a parochial school at Shelton conducted by the Menonite church, was a visitor at home in Weeping Water for a number of days the past week and on last Tuesday hitch-hiked it back to the school.

The rumor prevails that the matter of the postmastership for Weeping Water has been definitely settled and that Sterling Amick is to be the fortunate man and that the change in the office will occur on the first of the coming month.

Mrs. Ray Norris living southeast of Weeping Water, was hostess to the members of the Order of Eastern Star last Wednesday afternoon where a very appropriate program was had and a good time by the ladies which was also attended with good eats served by Mrs. Norris.

Elmer Michelsen and family were over to Walthill last Sunday where they went to visit at the home of Mr. Michelsen's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller where they enjoyed a fine time and a good trip. They have other relatives there but time did not permit of them visiting the other relatives.

Owen Runyan and family with their little one were visiting for a number of days during the past week at the home of Mrs. George Utt of Murdock, Mrs. Utt being an aunt of Mrs. Runyan. They had a very pleasant visit as Mrs. Runyan formerly resided in Murdock and knows many people there.

Stuart Rough of Nehawka, was a visitor in Weeping Water last Sunday, coming to pick up his sister, Miss Agnes Rough, they both going to Lincoln to visit at the home of a sister of Miss Agnes and Stuart, Mrs. Guy Lake and family. They returned home before the coming of the rain Sunday evening.

G. R. Binger, Spencer J. Marshall and George Spohn made a party who went to Cedar county last Saturday where they visited for the day and remained over night, getting up early to hunt pheasants. During the day they drove to Sioux City where they looked the town over and returned home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Petersen of Audubon, Iowa, arrived in Weeping Water last Sunday where they enjoyed a visit for the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Rasmussen. Mrs. Petersen was formerly Miss Viola Sogaard and a niece of Mr. Rasmussen. Mrs. Petersen's mother was a sister of Mr. Rasmussen.

Pete Miller accepted an invitation from Ray Ehlers to accompany him on a hunt for pheasants last Sunday. They started near midnight and going to near Columbus where they hunted during the early morning and until noon, but while Ray got one pheasant, all of them fought shy of Pete and he had to return without any.

Richard Cole and wife and Robert Jamison and wife departed early last Saturday morning for Oshkosh where they visited with two sisters of Richard and their families and hunted pheasants on Sunday and ducks later. They were spending a number of days in that country. Ralph Lowe was assisting at the station while Richard was away.

C. J. Schwere was out last Tuesday installing another corn elevator in a crib for one of his clients. This looks like there was going to be some corn for people do not purchase this kind of machinery where there is no use for them. The farming community is feeling pretty well satisfied with the crop of corn grown in these parts notwithstanding that it is not a bumper crop.

C. H. Miller was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Sunday morning where with the son, James and wife they departed for Shenandoah where they expected to get some of the pancakes served by the Earl May station. They were not able to get close enough to secure any of the cakes as the streets were filled with people. They had a fine visit, however, but had to hurry home during the afternoon on account of the rain.

W. T. Richards of Wabash was looking after some business matters in Weeping Water Tuesday of this week and meeting his many friends. Mr. Richards was recently over to Venice where the government is putting in the ten acre farm experiment and which farm is to be sold to the people at a stipulated price with long time terms of payment. Mr. Richards was greatly impressed with the way the places were fixed up but said he did not know on what terms the places were sold to the people.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bauer now making their home in Murdock but then residing east of Wabash was celebrated the wedding when she was united in marriage with Ray Boldan, they later making their home at Murdock but now and for a number of years making their home at Weeping Water. The wedding ceremony was performed by Judge Allen J. Beeson, now residing in California.

Their friends arranged to properly celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in an appropriate manner, and on last Sunday gathered at the Boldan home where they made a merry evening for this estimable couple. Convicts Must Pay Board Now

Prisoners in Michigan's jails and prisons will be paying their own board from now on. That is, those that can pay. According to a statute passed by the last legislature, whenever a person is admitted to a prison, the attorney general may file in the sentencing court a claim against the new inmate's estate. Upon a court order, the estate or property becomes liable to levy. Those prisoners who have small estates or dependents are exempt from this statute, however.
