40,000,000 Ducks Remnant that is Left

Figures Show That the Wild Fowl
 Life is Being Slaughtered Away and May Soon Vanish.

New York, Oct. 28.—Recent reports of waterfowl numbers this fall were said today, by John H. Baker executive director of the National Association of Audubon Societies, to be further evidence of the critical condition in which North America's wild ducks find themselves, and were pointed out as supporting the association's claims that the season should have been closed this year.

"Newspapers throughout the country have widely printed claims of More Game Birds in America, Inc., to the effect that 40,000,000 ducks will fly southward from the prairie provinces this fall," Mr. Baker said, "and there has been a general inference from the claims that this means a whale of a lot of ducks, and that this year's federal waterfowl hunting regulations are unnecessarily severe under the circumstances."

"Quite the contrary; let's analyze the figure. The last official estimate of the chief of the U. S. Biological Survey was, I believe, 27,000,000 ducks going back to the breeding grounds in the spring of 1935. Forgetting, to be on the safe side, the probable preponderance of male birds and the fact that at least some of the birds are sterile, that would mean 13,500,000 pairs.

"If each of these pairs," Mr. Baker continued, "succeeded in bringing to migrating maturity only one duckling, there would be 40,000,000 winging their way southward this fall. With roughly three such ducklings per pair, a reasonable possibility this year of ample water and breeding grounds, there would be 65,000,000.

"This may sound as though some 700,000 duck hunters in the United States (Canada and Mexican figures would be additional) would have plenty of birds to bag this year, but actually it will leave a dangerously small surplus, quite inadequate to meet the exigencies of future drought years.

"40,000,000, or 65,000,000 ducks," he continued, "are a drop in the bucket compared to the quantities existing on this continent only a few years ago. For 35 years, according to the chief of the U. S. Biological Survey, this country has been killing more wild ducks than were raised. Ducks lay about eight eggs, on the average, and biologists know this means that there is normally an annual mortality of about 80 per cent. Birds lay enough eggs to cover natural losses, but ducks didn't evolve their rate of increase to take care of a large kill by man, either for sport, or as the result of his agricultural or construction operations.

"Therefore," the statement concludes, "it behooves every true sportsman to abide by, welcome and work for such regulations as will permit taking full advantage of favorable breeding years to effect prompt restoration of the duck supply. No one berating this year's hunting regulations and the doubtful chance of their contributing to a small gain in total supply, can be said to be a conservationist, let alone a restorationist."

FIRE FIGHTERS LEAVE AREA

Los Angeles.—After more than five days battle with the Malibu hills forest fire, which was controlled over the week end, 1,500 firefighters evacuated the burned over area of approximately 100 square miles, leaving scattered patrols to guard against new blazes. The last threat, which developed in the Castro peak-Dame canyon region, was controlled Monday morning.

The $3,000,000 Malibu fire, worst in southern California history, was the largest single item in the $10,000,000 loss caused by fires and crop-damaging winds in southern California last week.

GRIEF TO LADY CAVENTISH

London.—Twin boys born to Lady Charles Cavendish and her titled husband on Saturday lived only a short time, it was announced. Lady Cavendish is the former Adele Astaire, formerly of Omaha, sister of Fred Astaire, the dancer. She and Lord Cavendish were married in May, 1932. The death of the babies was the second bereavement to visit the Cavendish home in a little more than two years. In October, 1933, their first child, a girl, died when only three hours old. Lady Cavendish's condition was reported as "very satisfactory."

TWO BUILDINGS ROPED OFF

Helena, Mont.—Two additional structures in the older part of the city's business section were roped off when an earth shock threatened them with destruction. A third, its walls bulging after a jolt several days ago, was roped off at that time.

All, it is believed, were weakened in the destructive shocks of Oct. 12 and 19 when an estimated 2 million or more dollars damage resulted in the city's business and residential sections. Monday's shock, of 2 to 3 seconds duration, came after a period of nearly ten hours quiet.

ATTEND CHURCH MEETING

A number of the local Presbyterians were at Nebraska City Monday night to attend the meetings being held there at the First Presbyterian church, where Dr. Charles S. Poling, of Phoenix, Arizona, one of the noted church leaders, as well as Dr. Paul Calhoun, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Lincoln, were the principal speakers.

Frank A. Cloldt of this city, was on the program of the evening, giving a vocal solo, "The Holy City," as part of the excellent and inspirational program of the evening.

Those attending from here were Dr. H. G. McClusky, Frank A. Cloldt, L. O. Minor and Mr. and Mrs. Allison.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

W. H. Vander Haar, of the staff of the Norfolk Packing Co., at their plant here, was operated on the past week at Sioux City, where he is at the Methodist hospital. The patient stood the operation very well and seems to be holding his own in the recuperating. Mrs. Vander Haar is at Sioux City with the husband and will remain until his case takes a definite upturn.

VISITING IN CITY

Mrs. Fred A. Murphy, of St. Louis, who for a great many years made her home in this city, is here for a visit at the home of Mrs. E. W. Cook, one of the close friends of many years ago. Mrs. Murphy will have the opportunity of meeting many of the old friends, this being her first visit in some years.

C. G. Nowacek Wins Honor for Accounting Work

Local Young Man One of Two to Receive Scholarships at University; Now Engaged in Research.

Charles G. Nowacek, Plattsmouth young man, and Charles R. Shields, of Hastings, have received scholarships from the University of Nebraska and are to be engaged in accounting research work in the practices and methods used by the Lincoln water and light companies as well as a general study of the publicly owned industries over the state.

Mr. Nowacek has been awarded the E. H. Long business research scholarship and Mr. Shields the Miller & Paine award. Scholarships are for $250 each.

Nowacek, an accountant, will confine himself to a definite study of the accounting methods employed by the city water and light department, while Shields, with the aid of reports and figures given him from publicly owned industries over the state, will review the situation with particular reference to accounting methods used and unit costs of production and distribution.

A graduate of Plattsmouth high school in 1930, Nowacek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nowacek of this city. Shields is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Shields of Hastings. Both received their B. Cs. degrees in the college of business administration this year. They are conducting these projects under Dr. T. B. Robb, chairman of the department of business research.

Rotarians Have a Fine Time at Omaha Meeting

Local Members and Their Ladies Are Entertained at Fontenelle and Stock Show.

Tuesday evening the Omaha Rotary club were hosts to some eighteen of the clubs in this territory and the members and their ladies provided with a most royal entertainment.

The visitors were first entertained at dinner, served in the ballroom of the hotel, where the appointments were most beautiful and each of the ladies was presented with a large yellow chrysanthemum as favors of the dinner.

The program of the evening was in the form of an audition with offerings from each of the visiting clubs, this feature being presided over by genial Charley Gardner, manager of the hotel, who was at his zest in the presentation of the various features of the program. For the Plattsmouth club, Frank A. Cloldt gave the charming and beautiful "Old Refrain" of Fritz Kreisler, in his usual artistic manner.

Following the dinner and program the members of the party were guests at the stock and horse show for the remainder of the evening and which served to round out a fine evening of pleasure for all of the party.

Those who were present from this city were: Mr. and Mrs. Searl S. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. P. T. Heineman, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Fred I. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. George Jaeger, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Tidball, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. McClusky, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Cloldt, Superintendent and Mrs. L. S. Devoe

Christian Science Explained by One of Church Leaders

Judge Samuel W. Green, C. S. B. to Be Speaker at Omaha Auditorium Next Tuesday Night.

What is Christian Science? This is a question often heard today which indicates the growing desire for spiritual understanding. Judge Samuel W. Green, C. S. B. of Chicago, Illinois, who has served as First Reader of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, has been authorized by the Board of Lectureship to speak with authority in answer to this question. Mary Baker Eddy is the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, and in these days of unsettled and unstable material conditions, interest has become so strong in it because it lifts mankind up and out of discord, disease, and distress, that quite often hundreds of thousands are unable to secure seats at the free lectures given on the subject. For this reason the Omaha City Auditorium has been secured for a free lecture by Judge Breene on "Christian Science: The Religion of Spiritual Light."

The practical value of Christian Science is solving the distressing problems of today, individual and world-wide, can be proven. The royal road to this accomplishment is open, and an invitation to take the first step on that road is extended to all. You are invited to occupy a free seat at this Christian Science lecture on Tuesday, November 5th, at 8 p. m., at the Omaha City Auditorium.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE

An action asking a decree of divorce has been filed in the office of the clerk of the district court by Luther Womack against Laura Womack. The petition of the plaintiff filed by his attorney, Charles E. Martin, states that the parties were married at Bolivar, Missouri, January 31, 1919. That the defendant in the past summer deserted the plaintiff and their minor son, going to Weeping Water. The plaintiff asks also for the custody of the son.

Mrs. C. R. Troop, of Plattsmouth, spent the day last Friday with Mrs. Sarah Young.

Miller Christensen and wife drove to Council Bluffs last Sunday, visiting with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ross had as their guests for dinner last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kuntz.

W. H. Kruger of the Trunkbolz Oil company was called to Lincoln to look after business matters Monday.

Lyle Kruger has opened a station for the Beatrice Creamery company in the room next door to the cafe which he operates.

James Miller, the cement worker, has been building some walks at the home of John L. Young, who resides several miles north of town.

A dance at the Nehawka Auditorium, Tuesday night, November 5th. Music by Maurine Cisney's Revellers. Admission 10 and 25c.

Clifford Trotter, auto mechanic employed at the Lundberg service station, went to Omaha Monday morning to secure some repair parts that were needed in his work.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller was brightened last Saturday by the arrival of a bouncing baby boy. This is their second son. Mother and child doing nicely, and dad, well you just can't erase that smile from his face.

Charles Davis, better known as "Chuck" Davis, of Tekamah, has accepted a position picking corn at the home of DeForest Philpot, and has joined the Billie Cisney orchestra, in which he will be featured as piano-accompanist.

Miss Mildred Young, who is teaching school, after the close of her school last week, drove to Lincoln, where she picked up her sister, Miss Marian Young, who is attending the University of Nebraska and brought her home for a week end visit.

W. O. Troop, Charles R. Troop and George Troop were sawing wood and getting in readiness for the coming of cold weather, which is just around the corner. Years ago, C. R. Troop planted the trees which are now being used to supply the winter's wood.

Mrs. Roy Pearse was hostess to a number of her lady friends at her country home southeast of Nehawka last Friday afternoon. Cards and social conversation took up much of the time, with a delightful luncheon being served before the hour of departure.

The young folks of the Nehawka schools were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Balfour Thursday evening of last week and had a very fine time. The teachers were attending the conventions at Lincoln and Omaha and did not get in on the party.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Sheldon and their daughter, Miss Ruth Ann, departed on Thursday of last week for Imperial, where they went to visit at the homes of Harold Todd and Dr. Bornemeier and other relatives residing out that way. They returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ross gave a reception for the faculty of the Nehawka schools last Wednesday evening, the day before they departed for Lincoln to attend the teachers' convention. This pleasant event was held at the Ross home and included a delicious six o'clock dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos Plunkett of Weeping Water and Albin Ehlers and wife of Manley were guests Sunday at the home of the parents of the two ladies, Mr. and Mrs. John Opp. Don and Gerald Opp returned with them, the lads having been visitors at the homes of their sisters during the preceding week.

Stuart Rough was a guest last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Deles Dernier, who live near Elmwood. He found to going pretty tough on the dirt roads, especially in the vicinity of the Deles Dernier home, where some recent grading of the road had made it very slippery in wet weather.

Mrs. Raymond C. Pollard and their daughter, Polly, drove out to North Platte the middle of last week for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Davis. Mrs. Davis was formerly Miss Virginia Pollard, prior to her marriage in the spring, when she and her husband, who is a lawyer, moved to the western part of the state to reside. They returned home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Henry Murdoch Dies

Mrs. Henry Murdoch, a sister of Mrs. G. A. Murdoch, of Nehawka, who has been visiting in the south, died there late last week, the remains being shipped to Arapahoe, which was her former home and where her husband, Henry Murdoch, died a number of years ago. They formerly resided in Nehawka, going from here to Arapahoe. After the death of the husband, Mrs. Murdoch moved to Texas, where she lived up to the time of her death. The body arrived in Lincoln Monday morning and was taken from there to Arapahoe for the funeral and burial. Besides the husband, a brother, Oliver Murdoch is also buried there.

A number of the relatives residing in this vicinity went to Arapahoe to attend the funeral. Mrs. Murdoch was formerly Miss Deede Colvin and was well known by older residents of this vicinity, where she spent her girlhood days.

Old Corn Nearly Gone

Stuart Rough, manager of the Nehawka Farmers Grain company, shipped a car of old corn to market last Saturday and another one on Monday, but reports the supply is getting very low. As there was no crop raised last year, all the corn now being sold is from the 1933 or prior years' yield. Husking will start soon (some have already begun) and most of the future corn shipments will come from the 1935 crop.

Honored Navy Day

Earl Nixon, who is a member of the United States navy, has been enjoying a furlough and visiting with his parents, W. Nixon and wife, in Nehawka. He will be here a few days longer before his time expires and he will return to the service.

The town was in gala attire Monday, with flags flying from most of the business houses in observance of Navy day, reminding all they should know more about our naval forces.

There are at present three young men from Nehawka who are members of the navy, they being Emil Nixon, Ernest Opp and Harold Kearney. In the late world war there were two from this vicinity in naval service, Robert Chapman and F. E. Woods. If you want some first-hand information about the navy, ask them.
