

Northwestern Defeats Notre Dame, 14 to 7

Notre Dame's national title hopes lay shattered on the sick bed alongside crippled Andy Pilney Saturday night, shelved there by a hard fighting Northwestern eleven that outplayed the Irish for a well earned 14 to 7 victory at Notre Dame. Picture shows Don heap, Purple star, as he shot around his own right end and slashed deep into Notre Dame territory with one of the runs which promise to make him the most talked-of young back in the Big Ten for 1935. The result proved one of the day's greatest upsets.

VISITING AT CHURCHES

Dr. H. G. McClusky of the First Presbyterian church of this city, is making a short trip for the remainder of the week at the various churches over this section of the state, accompanying one of the speakers sent into the state in the interests of the church. They will visit a number of the smaller churches of the Nebraska City presbytery.

Thanksgiving favors of all kinds now on display at the Bates Book & Stationery store.

Tecumseh in Win Over the Platters Friday

Score of 26 to 0, But Locals Show Well Against Heavy and Powerful Opponents.

The Platters Friday afternoon at Tecumseh were at the short end of a 26 to 0 score when they played the strong and powerful high school team of the Johnson county city.

Tecumseh in keeping their tradition have a big, heavy and hard hitting team that smashed the Platters repeatedly for gains, but it was not until the second quarter that the pupils of Dean Higgins were able to slip over the Platter goal to make the score 6 to 0 at the half.

The Tecumseh team then started to drive and piled up a good lead and which led to the reserves being filtered into the game and enabled the Platters to drive to the Tecumseh 10 yard line when the first team was rushed into the defense.

In the game Valley and Falk looked good in the line and Carey and Kriskey were strong factors in the backfield both on the offense and defense.

RECOVERING FROM ACCIDENT

Henry Donat, who has for the past several days been confined to his home was able Thursday to be up at his place of business, altho he is still suffering from the effects of the accident to his right foot. Mr. Donat was injured the latter part of last week while cutting some wood at his parents home in the west part of the city. He stepped on a nail protruding from a board and which penetrated through his shoe and into the foot. The wound was very painful and has kept him off his feet since that time.

WILL REOPEN INN

From Thursday's Daily
The Trojan Inn., eating house on Washington avenue is being reopened today by Ernie Rogers and Pete Toier, formerly of Nebraska City. The new proprietors will operate the place as a restaurant, specializing in short orders, sandwiches and hot and cold drinks. The new owners come to this city very highly recommended.

CORN NOT SO GOOD

Searl S. Davis who was out in the county Thursday to visit several of the farms in the central and west part of the county, reports that there is a great deal of soft corn to be found. The late planting has not fully dried out and the condition of the corn makes it a question whether this can be safely cribbed or not.

VISITS IN COUNTY

From Thursday's Daily
Searl S. Davis, well known real estate man, was a visitor in the county today, looking after some business affairs at Louisville and Elmwood for a few hours and looking over the general crop condition in that section of the county.

From Saturday's Daily:
Ward Whelan and aunt, Miss Emma DeHart, departed this morning for Creston, Iowa, where they will enjoy the week end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy James who have recently located in that city.

PURCHASES STOCK

W. G. Boedecker, well known Murray banker, was in the city Saturday for a short time, arriving here from Hyannis, Nebraska, with a load of cattle for feeding purposes.

Mr. Boedecker has had a great deal of success in the past years in handling cattle for the market on his farms near Murray and the new purchases include the white face cattle of which he has made such a success and often secured the top at the Chicago market. There were eighty head in the load and which are now located at the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Boedecker also recently paid a visit to William Woods college at Fulton, Missouri, where their daughter, Miss Jane, local high school graduate, is a freshman. Miss Boedecker is enjoying her school work very much and has proven very successful.

HAVE PLEASANT VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Beck and daughter, Charlotte, of Omaha, were in the city Saturday and while here Mr. Beck renewed his subscription to the semi-weekly edition of the Journal. They have just returned home from an outing in the northern portion of the state. They visited at Bloomfield at the Fritz Tews home. Mr. Tews being a brother of Mrs. Beck, having a most delightful time. They visited last Sunday with the George Falter family at Creighton, where Mr. Falter is engaged in business, returning to Bloomfield for a longer stay and then stopping at Brazil Mills to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Falter, old time friends of the Beck family and former residents here.

JOLLY WORKERS CLUB

Jolly Workers met on Nov. 5th at the home of Mrs. John Mielin, with Mrs. Edgar Melsinger and Mrs. John Kaffenberger associate hostesses. The leaders gave a very interesting lesson on "Christmas Happiness," showing several hand made gifts and toys which were very nice and inexpensive. After the lesson a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be on Dec. 10 at the home of Mrs. Max Valley with Mrs. Don Born and Mrs. Verne Melsinger associate hostesses.

New Gasoline Inspection System is Established

Director W. B. Banning of Department of Agriculture and Inspection Makes Announcement.

In order to serve gasoline dealers so they will be in a better position to protect the consuming public, a new system, assuring thorough inspection of gasoline and other liquid fuels, is now being established in Nebraska.

This new inspection system requires sub-laboratories to be established at various terminal points throughout the state. The chief and complete laboratory will remain in the state capitol at Lincoln. The first sub-laboratories were established last week in Omaha, Superior and Scottsbluff. Two others will be opened within the next few days at Norfolk and Falls City.

Several other points will be announced later, just as soon as it is possible to obtain the equipment and make the necessary arrangements.

Nebraska's ports of entry will be used in perfecting this new inspection system.

This new inspection set-up will be so arranged that liquid fuels entering the state can be inspected upon their arrival, as well as liquid fuels coming from dealers' tanks or pumps. This will afford an opportunity for inspections before the dealer unloads the fuel, and also after he has placed it on the market for sale to the general public.

General inspectors will continue to take samples from dealers' pumps and bulk stations. These samples will be sent to the nearest laboratory, thus insuring quick service. Any dealer who might wish a special inspection service, can contact the laboratory station closest to him and prompt and courteous service will be given without charge.

Nebraska's new gas tax collection system has already brought in several hundred thousand extra dollars. This new inspection system will be in keeping with the record already made in the collection of the gas tax, thus giving Nebraska rounded out program on collection of tax and in inspection of liquid fuels which will be second to none in the United States.

J. F. M.'s MEET

Thursday evening the J. F. M.'s met at the home of Grace Louise Wiles for the regular bi-monthly meeting. After the usual business procedure they all participated in games and singing. At an appropriate hour a plate lunch was served by the charter members after which the guests departed for their homes.
