Daniel and Loretta Ruge left last Monday afternoon by rail for Naperville, Illinois, where they will continue their college work at North-Central college after spending the Christmas season at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Ruge.

Emil Kuehn and son Gerald, of Fullerton, arrived in Murdock last Saturday, visiting with friends and relatives over Sunday and enjoying a very fine visit with their friends here. They returned to their home in the central portion of the state on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dean entertained at their home in Murdock last Sunday, having as guests for the occasion the Dean family and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Corbin, parents of Mrs. Dean, of Avoca, who were accompanied by the father of Mrs. Corbin, Marion Ross. A very fine time was had.

Harry Stock, who has been making his home near Greenwood, was a visitor over Sunday at the home of his parents, coming especially to see his father, who has been sick during the past couple of weeks. While the latter is now slightly better and can be up part of the time, he is still very poorly.

The board of trustees of the Murdock Co-Operative Credit association held a meeting at the bank building on Wednesday of last week, looking after the transaction of some business matters that will come before the annual stockholders' meeting on January 14th for final determination. A number of trustees are to be elected at this meeting.

Callahan Church Notes
F. C. Weber, Pastor

Every effort is being made to make our services uplifting. All departments are eager to do all they can to help accomplish this. The church is the pulse of national righteousness. It means hospitals, colleges, civic organizations and national government. It means better schools, cleaner politics, purer social life. It means law and order and respect for those ideals that make a people great. It means the reformation of the individual life. It is the voice of God in the midst of the people, calling them up and on. There is danger of that voice being silenced with the clatter of our materialism. Let us think of all the church has done and of all it means to us today and then give its sacred influence first place in our hearts and minds. We welcome you with a welcome strong. If you go to church you are not going wrong.

Church School Election

The recent church school election at the Murdock Evangelical church resulted in the following selections: John Schlaphof, superintendent; Elmer Miller, vice superintendent; Eldon Rosenow, secretary; L. B. Gorothy, treasurer; Violet Rosenow, pianist, and Caroline Schaefer, assistant pianist.

The class leaders elected for a term of two years at the Murdock Evangelical church are O. H. Miller and William Rikli. The office of church trustee for a term of three years fell upon O. H. Miller. The church pianist for 1936 is Miss Doretta Schlaphof and the assistant pianist is Miss Rhoda Neitzel.

Louisville Church Election

The following have been elected officers of the Louisville Evangelical church school:

Herbert Oehlerking, superintendent; Daniel Panska, vice superintendent; Marie Schweppe, secretary; William Vogt, treasurer; Irene Panska, pianist, and Malinda Lutchens, assistant pianist.

Fred Lutchens was elected as church trustee for a term of three years.

Ladies Aid Meets

The first gathering of the new year for the Ladies Aid was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Neitzel Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Leo Rikli, the new president, was delighted with the support and the interest that the new officers and members are giving here.

Christian Endeavor Elects

The annual election of the Murdock Christian Endeavor was held at the Carl Schlaphof home during the Christmas season. The officers elected to head this organization for the coming year are:

Marie Schweppe, president; Orris Rickett, vice president; Bernice Rikli, secretary, and Ezra Lutchens, treasurer.

Albert Wallinger Poorly

Albert Wallinger of Elmwood, who has been in poor health for some time past, is reported some better at this time, although he is still having his share of grief from arthritis and neuritis. He spent some two weeks visiting at the home of his brother, George Wallinger, of near South Bend, returning home Saturday of last week. George went over to see him Sunday, and found him not so well at that time. His friends are hoping he may soon be restored to better health.

Arrived Home Last Week

Dr. and Mrs. L. D. Le and their son, Larry, who have been in the west during the past couple of weeks, going to the Pacific coast for a visit with friends and while there attending the Rose Bowl game, seeing the Stanford team win from Southern Methodist's Mustangs on New Year's day, were scheduled to arrive home on Wednesday, but had not reached here up to the time the writer left. However, we are sure they arrived on time or not more than a day late at most, and are now back at home recalling the many pleasant moments of their trip and the interesting things they saw.

Mrs. W. O. Gillespie Better

Mrs. W. O. Gillespie, who has not been feeling the best during the past couple of weeks, is reported somewhat better at this time, which will be pleasing news to her many friends. During her illness she was visited by Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Blattspieker, who reside at Tobias, where the doctor is engaged in practice. Mrs. Blattspieker made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie prior to her marriage, and both she and her husband hold a very dear place in their hearts for the foster parents.

Appointed Corn Sealer

Henry A. Tool was recently appointed as sealer of cribs for the securing of corn loans from the government and provided with the required papers for closing up such negotiations at the same time the inspection is made. See his ad appearing elsewhere in this page.

L. Neitzel Much Better

L. Neitzel, who has been under the weather during the past couple of weeks, is now considerably better, although not yet restored to his usual good health, and barely able to be at the store a part of the time. He has received a letter from his friend, F. E. Lynch, of Lincoln, asking for fifteen additional copies of the booklet which Mr. Neitzel recently had published as he desired to present the same to the Bible school class which he teaches in Lincoln. Mr. Neitzel had previously presented Mr. Lynch with a number of the booklets, the title of which is "A Modern Pilgrim's Progress."

Another Wolf Story

This is the time of year when wolf stories thrive. Anyway, "Who's afraid of the big, bad wolf?"

Since the story was published of a man near Cedar Creek chasing a wolf into a culvert and there shooting it, we have been apprised of an experience that fell to J. C. Weddell, brother of our fellow townsman, W. T. Weddell. The former resides several miles north of Greenwood and like the Cedar Creek man gave chase to a wolf and ran it into a culvert where the pack of hounds could not get at it. So, Mr. Weddell took a harriet and making a noose in it, threw it over the wolf, drawing it out to such a position that he could tie it securely and then led the animal home and kept it for a few days. The neighborhood was asked to bring their hounds and engage in a chase when the wolf was turned loose. The animal was run over a large territory, when a farmer hearing a commotion in his yard ran out and seeing the wolf at bay confronted by three large hounds, took good aim and killed the wolf. So, there, you have the latest wolf story the winter has brought forth.

Had the Road Cleared

By far the heaviest snow this winter fell Tuesday night, exceeding five inches in depth. Besides, the snow was not particular where it fell and a large amount was deposited on the highways as well as in the fields, where it would do the most good.

The writer started out from Plattsmouth on his trip Wednesday morning and as soon as we arrived in Murray and started west on highway No. 1, we found that roadway cleared of snow, indicating that John Eppings, the patrolman, had been out during the small hours of the morning getting the snow pushed from the highway so that traffic might proceed with ease as soon as day broke. It was almost traveling over a dry road, and the only road we traveled that day that had been so cleared. Mr. Eppings has demonstrated many times that he not only knows how to maintain the roads in the best of shape, but is not afraid to get out in the night and buck the snow from the road so that those who desire to use it may do so when daylight comes. We have one of the very best of road men anywhere in the country, right here on highway No. 1.

PWA Project Approved

Recently application was made on behalf of the Village of Murdock for a PWA waterworks grant and loan. Under the terms of the PWA proposal the government would grant outright 45 per cent of the cost of such municipal improvements and loan the remaining 55 per cent at a low rate of interest. Alvo was another Cass county town to make such an application, while Louisville some time ago made extensive improvements and extensions to its waterworks system under a similar grant. Now, word has come that the applications of both Murdock and Alvo have been favorably acted upon and money will be made available for the work. Accordingly, an election is being planned to be held some time this month and if the required bond issue carries, work could be started in February, which is a good time of year to provide employment for those in need of work. At Alvo the bond election has already been held and the proposition carried by a nice majority, so they are ready to go ahead just as soon as the bonds can be issued.

The estimated expenditure here is $17,000.00, of which the government grant of 45 per cent amounts to $7,650.00. The amount the town will be required to furnish to get the new system is $9,350.00 and the election will be held to let the voters determine whether they desire to issue bonds at a low rate of interest for this sum in order to get the improvement. Should the bond issue fail to carry, the matter will, of course, be dropped.

One thing is quite certain, the opportunity of getting an outright grant of such a large portion of the cost will probably never be offered again, so if the voters and taxpayers really want a waterworks system, it would seem now is the time to get it at the lowest possible cost to the community. The exact date for holding the election has not been set.

Fire Department Meets

Last Tuesday evening the members of the Murdock fire department held their annual meeting at the drug store, transacting various matters of business that came before them and also holding the annual election of officers. Chester Eiseaman was chosen

Eddie Craig and Henry Amgwert were named as delegates to attend the county convention when it is held, some time in the near future.

Arthur Ostblom Very Sick

Arthur Ostblom, who with the family are residing at Ottumwa, Iowa, has been in poor health for some time and during the past week his condition became quite serious. Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Lau and Mrs. Backemeier, the latter two sisters of Mr. Ostblom, drove to Ottumwa several days ago to be with their brother in his illness and render whatever service they can to aid in bringing about his recovery.

John Eppings and family were visiting for the day in Plattsmouth last Sunday, driving over to visit with relatives for the day.

Kitten Ball Board Elected

A meeting was held last week of those who are interested in maintaining kittenball as a major sport in Murdock during the coming year, and a large and enthusiastic attendance was present. This sport has proven most popular and especially during the last year, when the field was lighted and many evening games were played, furnishing entertainment not only for the people of Murdock but from the surrounding country and nearby towns as well.

A committee or board of directors was named to look after the continuation of the games this coming summer, composed of Victor Thimgan, Carl Buck, Dr. L. D. Lee, Eddie Craig and Edward McHugh. These gentlemen are all kittenball enthusiasts and a very capable group to place in charge of kittenball arrangements the coming year, and we are looking forward to even greater interest in this popular sport as soon as spring-time arrives.

Subscription Payment Time

This is the time of year when many people pay their newspaper and magazine subscriptions. A considerable number of Journal subscribers in this part of the county have already done so, but there are others who have evidently overlooked this important matter. In order to publish a good newspaper, a continual flow of subscription money is necessary, as well as the revenue from advertisements. All those owing subscription at this time, or whose subscription expires during the present month are hereby advised that we can use the money to good advantage. Make payment either by mail or hand the money to the Journal representative, Mr. Briggs.

Will Hold Special Election.

The Village of Murdock is to have a special election on Tuesday, January 28th, when the citizens will vote on the issuance of some $9,500 in bonds of the denomination of $500 each for the building of a waterworks system for Murdock and on which project the government is to furnish 45 percent of the estimated cost of $17,000. See the notice of call for the election appearing in this issue of the Journal. The loan was granted recently from Washington, and heretofore the village has thought to not hold the election until it was certain the loan could be secured if applied for. So after the government has signified that the loan will be granted, the election is called for the remainder of the $17,000 which is the estimated cost.

An appeal to farmers of the United States to help plan for the future of agriculture and devise a plan to replace the AAA stricken out by the supreme court was made by administration leaders following a Washington conference attended, from left to right, Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture; Senator John Bankhead of Alabama, chairman of the senate agriculture committee; William Myers, governor of the federal farm credit board; Congressman Marvin Jones of Texas, chairman of the house agriculture committee; W.
