

Age Pensions in Twenty-Two States of Union

Federal Approval of Fifteen State Plans Including That of Nebraska—Four Pending.

The move to provide successful economic security for the aged has resulted in enactment of old age pension laws by at least 22 states, a survey at Washington disclosed Sunday. More than 93 thousand old persons are already receiving government checks, with tens of thousands more eligible when more funds are available and the federal government opens its purse in the program.

The survey also revealed federal approval of state pension plans has been granted to at least 15 states. In four others it was pending.

In Alabama, 6,500 persons are receiving pensions of from $10 to $12 a month. In Arizona 6,500 were pensioned, with from 15 thousand to 20 thousand more eligible.

Iowa Pays 16,300.

Colorado is meeting needs of 19,600 pensioners, paying them an average of $17.60 a month if they have been residents at least 15 years and have met all other requirements.

Connecticut is ready to pay a $7 weekly pension, beginning April 1.

The state of Iowa is sending monthly checks averaging $14.50 to 16,300 pensioners. The plan has been in operation there for a year and a half. It was estimated that more than 40 thousand approved applications for pensions were on file.

A recently enacted old age pension plan is getting under way in Illinois, while Massachusetts, which has had old age assistance since 1931, is paying $8,500,000 annually to 24,819 pensioners.

Wyoming Recognizes Need.

Approximately 15 thousand were pensioned in Michigan. Their average checks are $11 a month.

Nine thousand were certified for pensions in North Dakota under a plan which would pay them $150 annually. Ohio enacted pension legislation to conform with the social security act, with more than 85 thousand pensioners.

A state plan is in operation in Rhode Island; 4,264 were certified for pensions in Utah. In Washington 11 thousand were pensioned and enjoying monthly checks of $21, on an average.

On the statute books of Wisconsin an old age assistance law was recorded and in operation in some counties. Wyoming, too, has recognized the need for assistance to the aged.

Residence Requirements.

The survey showed residence requirements to range from five out of nine years to 10, 15 and 35 years. In New York state, where a considerable number of pensions exceed $30 a month, the residence requirement is 10 years.

Methods of financing the huge cost of the social security measure ranged from $2 and $3 head taxes to liquor taxes. Several states employed the sales tax as a means of raising money. Others chose a gross income tax. In many states counties were asked to bear a portion of the financial burden.
