

Nehawka

Mrs. George Bucholtz who has not been in the best of health, is reported as considerably improved this week.

Gilbert Edmunds, mechanic at the Hansen garage, has been just about out of the running with a severe cold and sore throat which he is bravely battling and so far has succeeded in preventing it from getting him down.

Mrs. B. E. Summers, who has been in poor health for a number of weeks past and has been confined to her home, was able to be out and down town on Tuesday of this week, which is very pleasant news for her many friends.

The Nehawka basketball team was scheduled to play at Greenwood last Friday evening, and went as far as Eagle, but found the roads so bad and the storm so severe that they turned around and started back home—none too soon, either, for they had difficulty in making it.

As soon as the roads on the main highways were opened so people could get through, Mr. and Mrs. William Kruger went to Plattsmouth by way of Union and visited there for a time at the home of Harry L. Kruger and family, as well as transacted some business matters.

Meeting Postponed for Week

The Men's Brotherhood of the Methodist church, which was to have enjoyed a gathering at the church on Wednesday, February 12th, the anniversary of the birthday of the great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, was compelled to postpone the meeting on account of the severe weather and badly blocked roads. As now planned, this meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 19, by which time it is hoped the weather will be moderated and the roads cleared. All members are urged to take note of the postponed date and be there for this important gathering.

Found No Game Monday

The basketball team of the Nehawka high school which had a date for a game with the team at Avoca for Monday evening, not hearing anything to the contrary and not desiring to disappoint their opponents, made the trip to the neighboring town, where they found there had been no school and the team was unprepared to play, so the disappointed Nehawka lads returned home.

Uncle Charles McReynolds Better

C. A. McReynolds, who makes his home near Murray, but has been a patient at the Clarkson hospital in Omaha for a number of weeks, was visited a few days ago by Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McReynolds, Mrs. Thomas E. Fulton and Postmistress Miss Lanna McReynolds. They found the patient feeling considerably better, although not fully restored to normal health. The visitors say that Uncle Charlie will have to remain in the hospital for some time yet.

There were 20 who braved the cold and climbed over drifts to get to Sunday school Sunday. We are glad for these faithful few and we hope others will follow their example of faithfulness.

Many churches have had no services for weeks. It doesn't seem to us that that's right.

Designed Snow Plow.
Granville Heebner, the implement man, who is always looking for the betterment of his customers, has designed a snow plow which he is considering manufacturing, but on mature reflection concluded a warm spell might come and melt the snow, leaving him stuck with the cost of manufacture and nothing of use to sell, has concluded not to branch out just yet.

The proposed snow plow would be mounted on the front end of a Farm-all tractor. The design has been submitted to a number of traveling men for implement houses and pronounce-ed an excellent thing. However, Mr. Heebner is content to go on just selling farm implements for the present, since the season is so much longer and more promising than that for snow plows.

Nehawka Hit by Storm

Like all other towns in the middle west, Nehawka had a severe experience with the storm which came on last Friday night and continued the following day, leaving its effects behind to plague the community for an additional several days. Sunday, the severe cold and impassable streets and roads caused the cancellation of all church services. Trains were unable to operate or hopelessly behind schedule. There was no service into Nehawka Sunday and very little on Monday. The bread which people of this community as well as elsewhere, have learned to buy at the corner grocery store, rapidly became a scarce article as marooned bread trucks were unable to cover their routes. As a result, there was many a biscuit eaten and not all of them were of the kind mother used to make either. The first bread truck was able to reach town Monday afternoon and by the following day things were beginning to assume their normal condition, although country roads were and many still are blocked high, causing farmers who live back off the main highways to walk to town or part of the way at least, to get their provisions.

Tommy Mason was able to go out on his rural route Tuesday, covering about half of the territory that day, and gradually increasing the amount since then. Robert H. Chapman, the other carrier, whose territory extends north and west of town, could not get out on his route to any great extent and even went around by Union and Murray, hoping to double in from the north, but found that also impossible. The whole territory was heavily drifted in and it will be some time before the packed snow is removed from the roads or melts. A lot of shoveling has been done, but of course that is largely confined to the main arteries of traffic that must be held open at any cost.

To make the situation worse and add to the discomfort of human beings and live stock, the temperature has ranged below zero every day for twenty-two straight days, making this truly one of the "good" old fashioned winters our elders have been wont to tell about, and from now on winters may be expected to date back to 1936, rather than 1883.

GOTHENBURG MAN DIES

Gothenburg, Neb.—J. C. Holmes, veteran newspaper man and editor of the Gothenburg Times, died at his home here Tuesday from double pneumonia. He was former owner of the Lexington Clipper. Two sons and a daughter survive.

Need of Clothing by Children of the Community

School Officials Ask Those Who Can Donate Clothing, Especially Overshoes and Mittens.

There is a great need in this extremely cold weather for additional clothing for children in the community, not adequately clothed to ace the rigors of the past three weeks and the apparent prospect that the winter will be continued over many weeks yet.

The lack of suitable clothing has made necessary many of the children remaining at home and not being able to carry on their school work, due to the danger from exposure.

Superintendent Devoe and other school workers are asking the cooperation of the community in providing clothing that even though used can be serviceable, particularly overshoes and mittens that can protect the little folks from the cold.

Those who can spare the clothing are asked to bring it to the office of Superintendent Devoe or notify his office and they will be called for.

FUNERAL OF JANET MEISINGER

From Wednesday's Daily
The funeral services for Janet Meisinger were held this morning at 10 o'clock at the St. John's Catholic church, where a large number of the friends and neighbors of the family gathered to pay their last tributes to her, whose life had been called so early from the scenes of life.

The requiem mass of the church was celebrated by the Rev. Father George Agius, bringing the last consolations of the church to the members of the bereaved family circle. The mass was sung by the sisters and the members of the St. John's parochial school choir, while John J. Clويد gave three vocal solos, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling," "Thy Will Be Done" and "There Is No Heart Like Thine." The interment was at the Catholic cemetery west of the city.

Died to Live Forever
(Dedicated to the memory of Janet Ann Meisinger, by L. W. Lorenz, Feb. 7th, 1936.)

Her life was short, her life was sweet,
But now she rests in her sound deep sleep;
God has called her to the distant other shore,
To live with Him and be happy for evermore.

He has done so on His own free accord,
That she might reap her everlasting reward;
To be with all the heavenly angels above,
Where she will be praising God with her love.

God in His own wisdom and with His love,
Will call us all to His heavenly home above;
Though we know not when, where or why,
But when our time is up, we all must die.

Whether our life will be long, or it be short,
We will be called to make our last true report;
For the good and the bad deeds we have had done,
Then God will judge us from His heavenly throne.

DISTRICT CONVENTION SOON

The convention of the twelfth district, American Legion, will be held in Lincoln Thursday, February 20th. As usual, the Legion Auxiliary holds its convention on the same date.

Several of the Auxiliary members are planning to attend, but so far no Legionnaire has indicated to the post officers his intention of going. The post is entitled to four delegates besides the commander and adjutant and those desiring to go can be made official delegates by advising one of the above officers.

The convention opens at 1:15 p. m. and includes a buffet dinner at six o'clock, followed by an evening of entertainment and dancing.

COMPLETE GOOD WORK

The force of WPA workers battled the greater part of the day Tuesday against the snow that had banked along Oak street west of the cemetery and covered the roadway so that traffic was impossible.

The men responded with good will to the task and with shovels, assisted by the road maintainer, were able to open up the road so that it is now possible to reach the cemetery with the funeral parties that have been pending the opening of the road.

USES OF WATERWAY

(From The State Journal)
PLATTSMOUTH.—In a news item of the 28th inst, it is stated that the directors of the Omaha chamber of commerce have adopted a stand for the lowest possible joint water-rail freight rates. Now we are a little unsophisticated, and would like to inquire just what all this means? We understand that we are spending millions of dollars to make the Missouri river a cheaper highway to market for our farmers' surplus products, but now it seems this is going to inter-fer with some other interests, the railroads. Now we have the problem on our hands: Can we help the farmer without hurting the railroads, and if we do will we again hear about the widows and orphans being penalized, etc?

When the railroads came they supplanted the stage coach and overland freighters, but no one tried to keep both and the one had to go. Railroad management has been woefully deficient in this generation. It does not have the business acumen and foresight it had 40 or 50 years ago, or it would have forestalled the truck and bus traffic on our highways by the reduction of freight and passenger rates and the adoption of more modern service before the trucks and buses got on the job, but nothing was done until their business began to slip away. Now it is evident they want to prevent cheaper transportation to market for the farmer via the river. It is a case of eating your cookie now and keeping it too. It can't be done.

I am wondering too, where the Omaha chamber of commerce or any other, gets its jurisdiction to determine these questions. There is a lot of territory outside the cities that ought to have something to say.

But there is another thing that is going to bother us. The Smoot-Hawley tariff law has destroyed nearly all of our foreign markets for surplus farm products, and after we get the river in shape to use it, we will be all dressed up and no place to go. It will be somewhat like our ocean going shipping that is being subsidized by our postal department, and nothing to ship.
