

Nehawka

Mrs. Lyle Kruger was a visitor at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Bucholtz, for a number of days during the past week.

In Nehawka the schools have been kept throughout the prolonged cold spell that has lasted more than a month, with sub-zero temperatures every day.

The meeting of the Brotherhood of the Methodist church, which was postponed once, was scheduled to be held Wednesday of this week, but when the writer was in town Tuesday there was great probability of it again being put off to await the coming of better weather.

Granville Heebner tells us that he has not had his car out of the garage for more than thirty days and has had no opportunity to go to Plattsmouth and get his license. So he has sent for it. But, of course, if he does not take the car out of the garage he does not need a license.

Dr. Henry W. Walters and wife went to Lincoln Tuesday, where the doctor will enter the Bryan Memorial hospital for a clinical checkup, as he has not been in the best of health for some time. His friends are hopeful that he may be able to return home soon restored in health.

Mrs. Boyd, of Elmwood, was taken ill, and Mr. Boyd, who has been conducting a cream station here, was called home to assist in caring for her. As a result he was compelled to close the station during his absence. Lyle Kruger is looking after the station here. In the meantime, Mrs. Boyd is improving and it is expected both stations will soon be back operating on schedule.

Both Carriers Working Hard
Robert H. Chapman and Tommy Mason, the two Nehawka rural mail carriers, have been working very hard the past fortnight in an effort to render their patrons service, but with blocked roads it is impossible to get entirely around the routes. In some cases, mail is left at homes of neighbors to be picked up there, and in this manner everyone has been able to receive their important mail. Patrons, realizing the unprecedented conditions that exist, are very appreciative of the efforts the boys are making to serve them.

Stayed at Farm Homes
During the storm of last Friday, tourists who were caught on the O street highway and could not get their cars through the drifts, were compelled to abandon them and seek shelter at farm homes along the way. One farm home provided refuge for thirteen of the stalled motorists.

Died at Lincoln Hospital
Fred L. Nutzman, 75 years of age, and a resident of this vicinity for nearly half a century, died at the Bryan Memorial hospital in Lincoln Monday. He had been there but a few days, but had been sick for the past several months, his condition becoming serious last week. A road was opened up to permit of his being removed to the Lincoln hospital last Thursday.

Mr. Nutzman was born in Germany in 1861 and came to America with his parents when four years of age. A more complete account of his life appears elsewhere in this issue of the semi-weekly Journal. He was a member of the I. O. O. F., having served as an officer and passed through the different chairs to the high office of noble grand of the local lodge. He was a member of the Nebraska legislature in 1911, 1915 and 1921. At the time of his death, he was president of the Nehawka State bank and one of the extensive cattle feeders of this section of the state. Besides his widow, he is survived by four children, three daughters and a son. They are Mrs. Henry Ross, Mrs. Carl Balfour, Mrs. William Ost and E. A. Nutzman, all residents of this locality. As the road to his farm home south of Nehawka had again become badly drifted following his removal to the hospital last week, a group of friends were out Monday and Tuesday clearing the way. The funeral is being held at the late home with burial at Mt. Pleasant cemetery north of Nehawka.

Model House at Convention
The annual convention of the Nebraska Lumbermen's association is being held in Lincoln Wednesday and Thursday of this week and among other things of interest on exhibition there is a model in miniature of the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McReynolds. It will be remembered that this home was recently rebuilt to conform to plans furnished by a leading farm publication of Des Moines, Iowa, and is considered the ideal country home. Mr. and Mrs. McReynolds have been invited to attend the convention and banquet on the closing day and to explain the arrangement of the home and the many conveniences it affords, but at the time this was written were not sure whether they would be able to go or not, due to the weather and the bad roads.

COMMENTS LOCAL WORK
Otto Stuve, of Lincoln, field representative of the state assistance committee, was in the city Tuesday afternoon for a few hours looking over the work of the local office. Mr. Stuve was much pleased with the fine manner in which Paul Vandervoort, county assistance director, was getting his work lined up and the manner in which the applications are being handled. Mr. Stuve will be at Nebraska City today and then will go on to Auburn, Falls City and other county seats in the southeastern section of the state to inspect the work.

MAKING RAPID PROGRESS
Organization of the new "Community Building Club," sponsored by the local American Legion post, is proceeding so rapidly it is quite probable the first election of a president will be held Wednesday evening, February 26, Legion officials stated today. The club is being organized as a source of revenue to help pay outstanding indebtedness on the community building and to aid the support of Legion sponsored activities, which include Boy Scout troop No. 264, the Junior Drum and Bugle corps (now badly in need of additional equipment to accommodate the additional boys being rehearsed each week for future membership as soon as instruments can be procured) and the Junior baseball team that was first organized last year and made a good showing against stiff competition from more mature teams. Membership dues in the club are ten cents per week, and any man, woman or child residing in the Plattsmouth trade territory is eligible to join.

WILL HOLD SALE
Lee Watson, Jr., of near Fort Crook, was in the city Monday to arrange for the advertising of the large farm sale that will be held by his mother at her farm home on Monday, February 24. The Watson farm is located near the military reservation at Fort Crook, on the Bellevue road east of the fort. This is one of the large farms in that section and a large amount of stock, machinery and other articles will be offered for sale at this time.

GIVE FAREWELL DINNER
A farewell dinner for Miss Wilma Vernon was given by her aunt, Mrs. Lena Geise Tuesday evening. The guests invited included those whom she had the pleasure of working with and also a few close friends including Mr. and Mrs. Freetz of Nebraska City and Mr. and Mrs. Katherine of Geneva, who are now in charge of Adolph's Tavern. After dinner the evening was spent in visiting and dancing.

Classic Play by Shaw Adds To Laurels Won by Cornell

Broadway Favorite Hailed as American Theater's Leading Lady

Miss Katharine Cornell

By JEAN ALLEN
International Illustrated News
Feature Writer

NEW YORK—An ambition born 13 years ago is fulfilled this month for Katharine Cornell with her debut in "Saint Joan," an event which adds one more achievement to the illustrious career of one who probably best qualifies for the title of "leading lady" of the American stage.

This powerful drama from the pen of George Bernard Shaw has long been a favorite vehicle for actresses here and abroad. Built around the dramatic life of the Maid of Orleans, the play offers the star opportunities seldom equalled.

Sybil Thorndike portrayed Joan in England; Mme. Piteoff did it in Paris; Elizabeth Bergner won acclaim for her interpretation of the part in Germany, and Julie Arthur and Winifred Lenihan helped to create the part in United States.

Hollywood Offers Spurred
So insistent has Miss Cornell been in following her own dictates that she risked time and money on such a venture as "Lucrece," admittedly an artistic triumph but one which failed to make the turnstiles click. She has done Shaw, Ibsen, Shakespeare, Strindberg and others, bringing to the "provinces" the best the-theater affords year after year. Despite repeated attractive offers from Hollywood, Miss Cornell has refused to desert the stage and is one of the few stars of the legitimate theater who have not been drafted by the film moguls. She also has the distinction of being the only first-rank star to take shows on the road every season, regardless of the fate others have had in "the sticks." Her loyalty to "the road" has been one of the major factors in keeping the theater alive outside New York.

Married Her Director
Miss Cornell does her roles with a smouldering intensity which is coupled with intelligence and rare taste. She has the genius to create a mood or suggest an incident without drawing a blue print about it. Her work is not of the sensational showy type, but reflects her long years of sound training and an admirable knowledge of the theater.

A native of Buffalo, Miss Cornell is married to Guthrie McClintic, the man who so ably directs her productions. Together, they make one of the most efficient teams in the theater and are comparable only to the other pair of stage notables, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne. In the present production of "Saint Joan" Miss Cornell is supported by Arthur Byron, Brian Aherne and Charles Waldron.
