WPA Workers Held Back from

Those Who Left Work on 6th Street Wednesday Must Await Arrival of Directing Officials.

From Thursday's Daily

Mark Kerns, of Nebraska City, Cass-Otoc WPA director, arrived here this afternoon, just as the Journal goes to press, with the pay checks of WPA workers here. non-arrival of which precipitated a strike yesterday. The ruling of WPA officials was that men who walked off the job yesterday can return to work tomorrow morning if they wish, but will be docked a total of ten hours time, amounting to around $3 to $4 per man. Thus ends the biggest strike staged in this vicinity since the Burlington shop walk-out July 1, 1922.

The walkout of men employed on the WPA project on Sixth street Wednesday afternoon resulted in the train order received by Harry Metcalfe, supervisor on the job, that the men
