Garden Club Plans Opening of Spring Season

Better Yards and Garden Contest Will Be One of Early Activities of Organization.

From Thursday's Daily
The Plattsmouth Garden club met last evening at the auditorium of the Central school building, the purpose being to arrange for the annual Better Yards and Garden contest, sponsored by the organization.

Mr. A. L. Tidd presided as chairman of the meeting and which completed many of the plans for the coming contests.

Rev. G. A. Pahl was named as the general chairman of the 1936 yard and garden contest and will have supervision of the carrying out of the various plans.

The organization will have chairmen in each ward and in turn the wards will be divided into smaller groups that each neighborhood will be well covered. The various ward chairmen will be, Mrs. P. T. Heinemann, first ward; Frank A. Cloidt, second ward; Miss Julia Svoboda, third ward; Mrs. George Lushinsky, fourth ward; J. A. Pitz, fifth ward. The chairmen will take up the neighborhood organization that will cover the city in a very fine manner and permit the securing of a large number of entries.

Other committee chairman selected were: Judge A. H. Duxbury, donations; Mrs. L. L. Wiles, publicity; Mrs. E. H. Wescott, judging; Mrs. Lillian Freeman, planting information; Mrs. L. W. Egenberger, awards.

It is hoped that many of the groups and organizations of the city will get back of the movement and prepare to assist in getting as many as possible into the contest. Classification will be made of the various entries so that they may be divided on an equal basis.

It is also planned to have a club emblem placed in the windows of the home where the owners are participating in the yard and garden contest.

For the Junior department, Supt. L. S. Devoe was selected as general chairman.

'She Wasn't Nude'

Tanya Cubitt

Hundreds of spectators waiting the arrival of Miss Tanya Cubitt at Newark, N. J., airport, were disappointed when the young lady, billed as the "Lady Godiva of the Airways," arrived fully clothed. She explained that airline officials had "embarrassed" her by ordering her to wear clothes. She's a candidate for a job as nudist queen of the San Diego exposition this summer.

HERE FROM GREENWOOD

John Mick, J. C. Hoenshell and William A. Stewart, of Greenwood, were in the city Wednesday afternoon, looking after some matters at the court house. They were callers at the office of Paul Vandervoort, county assistance director.

RIVERS REPORTED FALLING

Boston, March 14. (UP)—The rivers of New England that have been swollen by floods, doing millions of dollars worth of damage and making thousands homeless, were reported falling. The Merrimack river which has isolated the city of Concord, New Hampshire, was reported falling. The river has forced 4,000 families to seek higher ground as the river spread over the valley.

It is estimated that 75,000 workers are idle as the result of the floods damaging mills and factories in the lowlands.

Mission Study Class is Held Wednesday

Fellowship Room of First Presbyterian Church Scene of Most Interesting Gathering.

The Relay Mission Study class, held yesterday in the Presbyterian church Fellowship room, was an inspiration to the many who attended. Mrs. Wylie Sigler who presided over the class, kept her plans well in hand, allowing no one to go over time, and providing for song, scripture, and prayer throughout the session.

The class was called at 11:15 a. m. at which session Mrs. Karl Kell presented lantern slide pictures of South America. These were greatly enjoyed and furnished a splendid background for the study which followed.

The book used as a basis of study was, "Women Under the Southern Cross," one of the interdenominational study books for the year. The reviews were splendidly given by Mesdames W. A. Robertson, Louis Lohnes, Ernest Giles, L. O. Minor, P. T. Heineman and H. G. McClusky. Each speaker showed careful and thorough preparation. Mrs. Russell Reeder rendered a beautiful solo and led all the periods of song, Mrs. H. F. Goos presiding at the piano.

The pastor, Dr. H. G. McClusky, led the women in a period of worship at the noonday, following which Circle No. 5 of the Federation, Mrs. L. O. Minor, circle chairman, served a most delicious luncheon, the St. Patrick colors being used in table decoration. The social hour following the luncheon was restful and pleasant for all. The class resumed the further duties at 1:30 and closed at 3:15.

Inflated or ordinary dollars—either kind will still buy most if expended in your home community, where a part is retained to help meet the tax burden and other community obligations.

MARRIED AT MURDOCK

On Thursday afternoon at 4:30 at the Callahan Evangelical church Miss Della Neben of Murdock became the bride of Raymond Elkerman of Greenwood. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. C. Weber in the presence of relatives and friends.

The bride wore a blue chiffon dress and carried a bouquet of white Victoria roses. Ruth Neben, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She wore a pink spider weave net and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Emil Rieke attended the groom. Flower girls were Crystal Lenz of Elmwood, who wore pink organdy and Marjorie Neben who wore a blue organdy.

After the wedding the reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Murdock.

HAS A FINE SON

William Bond, supervisor of the Omaha Baking Co., in the southeast Nebraska territory, was in the city Friday afternoon to look after the business of his company and meeting the old friends. Bill is very happy over the fact that his home was made happy on Monday by the arrival of a fine little son and heir. The many friends here will wish the young man many years of happiness and success.

VERY HAPPY EVENT

From Friday's Daily—
This morning Mr. and Mrs. John Lamphere, residing on west Locust street, rejoiced in the arrival of a fine ten pound son, who has come to have their home in the future. The event has brought a great deal of happiness to all of the members of the family circle.

VARIETY Marks Spring STYLES

Capes Provide Swagger Touch for Severely-Tailored Suits; Rakish Hats, Fancy Blouses Are Also in Vogue

HOLLYWOOD—When the Easter parade goes on promenade in full swing, the smartly garbed ladies will display a greater variety of styles, both in design and fabric, than has been seen in recent seasons.

Many of the smartest suits will be severely tailored, their effect depending upon simplicity of line and quality of material. While all colors will be worn, black and white, as ever, will be popular and plaids will be in favor among many.

Blouses worn with suits will be fancier than ever. Design of sleeves is important and shoulders are accented with built-up effects which add a military touch. Trick necklines, jabots and fancy fronts are common to the new blouses.

Cape Combinations Smart
And those who seek a swagger note for their ensemble will probably go in for the suit-and-cape combination. Many of the most fetching capes are lined with the same material as the suiting and caught at the throat with a jeweled clip. Hats are on decidedly rakish lines. The sweeping chapeau which curves down over one eyebrow has made its appearance at smart winter resorts and will be selected by many for their spring bonnet.

Carole Lombard, recognized as one of the best-dressed of Hollywood celebrities, has in her wardrobe a fetching outfit of large checkerboard plaid in black and white silk serge, made in one piece and belted with a scarf of the material lined with white.

Her hip-length cape of white pique is lined with the plaid and fastened at the throat by an ascot scarf held by a clip. Her cowboy hat of white bako straw is trimmed with wool crochet ornaments in black, gray and white, the end of which are braided and tied about the crown. Shoes and accessories of white complete the ensemble.

Hats Built on Rakish Lines
Another smart suit is worn by Eleanore Whitney, a starlet who is
