Group Achievements

"Laundry Equipment and Methods" will be the main feature of group achievement programs to be held within the county in the next two weeks.

Following is the schedule of meetings as planned by the Home Economic Council.

- April 21—Louisville, Town Hall. April 23—Elmwood Community Bldg. April 23—Nehawka Community Bldg. April 24—Murdock Hall. April 28—Plattsmouth Methodist church. April 29—Weeping Water Congregational church. April 30—Eagle Methodist church.

Clyde Althouse County 4-H Farm Account Champion

Clyde Althouse, of Eagle, is the Cass county 1935 4-H account champion. He was a $10 International Harvester merchandise certificate and also competed in the state championships.

The Cass county champion lives on a farm two miles northwest of Eagle. There during the year, he kept accurate account of the farm business. All expenditures and receipts were recorded, inventories taken at the beginning and end of the year and an analysis of the farm business completed.

Triennial Conference

Nebraska farm women have been invited to attend the third Triennial conference of Associated Country Women of the World to be held in Washington, May 31-June 6.

Miss Mary-Ellen Brown, in charge of women's extension work in Nebraska, has just announced tentative plans for sending a Nebraska delegation to the conference which will be attended by rural women from 49 different nations of the world.

A varied program will greet those in attendance. It includes an address by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and greetings from Lady Aberdeen from Scotland. President and Mrs. Roosevelt will receive the delegates at a garden party at the White House, also.

Among the general topics scheduled for discussion by delegates at the conference are: Safer motherhood, how rural women are meeting their economic problems, cultural interests of rural homemakers and international relations as they affect the rural home.

Cass county women can get detailed information regarding the conference from the Home Demonstration Agent.

4-H Club Organizations Being Completed

Awakened interest in 4-H clubs has been evident the past week when three boys clubs and three girls clubs were organized. Plans have been made for organizing several other clubs within the next few days.

James Schafer of Nehawka reports 14 members in his "Blue Ribbon Baby Beef Club." All of these boys have their calves on feed and they are doing very well.

members. This group have sows and litters for their project. A dairy calf club led by Wm. Ruffner, near Myrand, organized with five members. They have named their club the Daisy Dairy Club.

Two of the girls clubs were organized in the Elmwood community, the members enrolling in the girls room project. Miss Merle Eveland will lead the group of younger girls, while the leadership of the other group is undecided.

Mrs. Forrest Leonard of Plattsmouth is leader of the club in her community. She has ten girls interested in "The Room a Place to Live," which is a girls room project.

Cass County Farmers Enter Pasture Contest

Six farmers in Cass county have filled out entry blanks for the pasture contest. Others interested in doing so are urged to file their entries at once. Entries close May 1st.

Several hundred Nebraska farmers have now entered the second annual state-wide pasture improvement contest which is designed to improve grazing land management. Farmers intending to qualify for "grants" in the Soil Conservation program have shown special interest in the contest which fits in well with the farm program. Many intend to seed down areas or improve their grazing land by other means and are entering the pasture contest. A total of $1500 in prizes goes to the winners.

New Brome Grass and Grain Sorghum Circulars Available

Two new popular circulars and bulletins have just been published at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and are now available to all Cass county farmers. They concern brome grass and grain forage sorghums.

P. H. Stewart, E. F. Frolk, and A. W. Peterson, all of the extension agronomy staff at the college, are authors of the brome grass mimeographed circular (Extension Circular 141) which is especially timely now. This circular describes brome in detail and gives suggestions for seeding and other cultural practices.

L. I. Zook, superintendent of the North Platte Sub-Station, is author of the grain and forage sorghum variety bulletin (No. 297) which has just been published. Zook describes 18 varieties of grain sorghums tested under dry-land conditions at North Platte. Copies of these bulletins are available at the office of the Agricultural Agent.

Co-operative Meetings

Nebraska farmers will gather in five district points for a series of co-operative meetings the latter part of this month. It was announced from the Nebraska College of Agriculture this week. The dates and places are: Wilber, Monday, April 27; Columbus, Tuesday, April 28; Aurora, Wednesday, April 29; Minden, Thursday, April 30; and Sidney, Friday, May 1.

Scheduled in the interests of co-operative marketing, all Cass county farmers have been invited to attend. The sessions are being sponsored by the Farmers Elevator Association of Nebraska, the Elevator Managers' Association of Nebraska, the Omaha Bank of Co-operatives, the Extension Service at the College of Agriculture, Farmers' National Grain Corporation and Farmers' West-Central Grain company.

County agricultural agents thru-out the state are co-operating in these meetings which will attract some outstanding authorities in co-operative marketing. The gatherings are being held to build up the morale and interest of farmers in co-operative associations and to develop better business practices in the operation of such associations. There will be much of interest to all kinds of farmer co-operatives.

Suggestions for Plays, Stunts and Dialogs

A new type of circular has just been made available by the Extension Service, the purpose of which is to give suggestions for plays, stunts and dialogs. Through a play loan service copies of from one to five plays may be secured for reading purposes. Information containing this service is included in the circular together with lists of one, two and three act royalty and non-royalty plays and other information of interest to those planning this type of entertainment. Ask for Rural Program Service 1 if you wish to have this circular.

HOLD BOYS FOR BRANDING

Jerseyville, Ill.—Two boys, one 14 years old and the other 13, were held by authorities for the branding of 4-year-old Joseph Hagen. The little boy said he was lured to an empty barn near his home and burned with pieces of wire heated with matches. He had 20 or 40 burn marks, none of them serious, about his face, forearms and chest.

Carl M. Aldrich, of Nebraska City, is Dead

Well Known Packer Once President of State Manufacturers—Suffers Heart Attack

Nebraska City.—C. M. Aldrich, 75, for many years head of the Morton-Gregson packing company here, and one of Nebraska City's leading citizens, was found dead in bed at his home here Monday morning. Aldrich had been in good health, relatives said.

Aldrich was born in Goe county, south of Nebraska City, Aug. 26, 1860, the son of John and Mary Jane Aldrich.

A heart attack was the cause of death. He was found dead at 6:30 a. m. by his son, Glenn, who had talked to his father shortly after midnight. A contributing cause to Aldrich's death was believed to have been a walk thru heavy snow to the packing plant outside Nebraska City during last winter's heavy snowfall, which aggravated his heart condition.

Aldrich, who was prominent in Nebraska Masonic circles had a long and varied career in the packing industry. Starting at Cedar Rapids, Ia., 60 years ago, he worked in packing plants in Chicago, Peoria, St. Paul, Minn., and Winnipeg, Man. From the latter point he came to Nebraska City in 1907 to take over management of the Morton-Gregson plant.

Aldrich was married at Shelbyville, Ill., in 1885, to Corinne May Tackett, who survives. Other survivors are five children: Glenn, of Nebraska City; C. M. Jr., of Lincoln; Ralf J., Ft. William, Ont.; Mrs. Frances Parsley and Betty, of Chicago. A brother, John, lives in Kansas City. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

ADVANCE IN ANESTHETICS

Kansas City.—Fresh advances thru chemical laboratories toward safer and more efficient anesthetics for operations were reported to the American Chemical society. Achievements listed by Dr. John S. Lundy included: Metycaine, both antiseptic and injectable, coming "the closest to giving the clinician a good all around preparation of any that I have yet seen." Diethane, a surface anesthetic for diseases of the urinary tract. Revival of vein-injecting anesthetics by the recent appearance of two short-acting barbiturate compounds. Coramine, a stimulant guarding against undue respiration depression.

Doctor Lundy explained how a butterfly of cotton now is fastened to a patient's upper lip just below his nostrils, adding to the safety of administering anesthetic. The anesthetist watches the motion of the cotton as he works.

EXPECTS PROBE SENSATIONS

Los Angeles.—A congressional inquiry into Southern California activities of the Townsend old age pension movement "very likely will result in some startling developments," James R. Sullivan, special counsel for the investigating committee said. Sullivan said the committee had received information in Washington "so sensational the committee decided to send representatives out here to try to verify it."

If the information can be verified thru private interviews with witnesses, the committee will hold no public hearings in Los Angeles, but if difficulties are encountered, hearings will be held and witnesses subpoenaed, Sullivan asserted.

FOUND DEAD IN CAR

North Bend, Neb.—Apparently the victim of a heart attack, Conrad Karsk, 72, farmer northwest of here, was found in his wrecked automobile early Monday. Authorities believed Karsk was stricken while he was driving home. The car went into a ditch but did not tip over. His body was found by Leo Curran, a neighbor. Karsk had lived alone. He had been a resident of this section for many years. A brother, John Karsk, lives in North Bend.

CHECKS 17TH INFANTRY

Omaha.—The 17th Infantry Monday underwent a full field inspection at Fort Crook by Maj. Gen. Edward Croft of Washington, chief of infantry of the army. General Croft Tuesday will observe the regiment in field exercises, including a sham battle and military tactics practice in both offense and defense.

Road surfacing of farm to market roads as WPA projects offers as fine a method of expending relief funds as could be devised.

RIVERVIEW CLUB NOTES

Mrs. Betty Patterson entertained the Riverview club March 28 with Mrs. Grace Bell assistant hostess. The meeting was called to order by President Slung. The song of the month was sung, led by Mrs. Hull with Mrs. church at the piano. Election of officers was held. Mrs. Betty Patterson, president; Mrs. Grace Bell vice president; Mrs. Ester Lewis secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Georgia Creamer and Mrs. F. G. Hull, leaders; Mrs. Merle Sack, social leader; Mrs. Rose Hull, reporter.

The minutes were read and approved. Some bills were paid. Plans were made for our achievement to be held at the next club meeting. Money was allowed to make a new banner as the club colors were changed from orange and black to purple and gold. Most every member was present and some visitors.

The meeting was then turned over to the leaders which was very interesting, on "Flowers for Every Yard," and "1936 Farm Family Living Outlook."

The meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Joe Campbell and Josephine on April 21. A delicious lunch was served by our hostesses.

RECEIVES PRUNE SHIPMENT

Richard Edwards, county distributing agent, working in the relief department of the county, today received a consignment of 704 pounds of dried prunes, which will be distributed from his department.

TVA is Urged for Midwest

Missouri Valley Plan Asked as Means to Cut Power Rates in Nine Midwestern States

Washington, April 14.—An assertion that a Missouri river valley authority, modeled after TVA, would reduce by $75,548,000 a year electric bills in nine northwest states was made today by Representative Burdick (rep., N. D.).

In a statement advocating passage of his bill to create a vast flood control, conservation and electrification area in Missouri valley, Burdick also proposed a nine-foot channel from Yankton, S. D., to St. Louis, to cost about 170 million dollars. He said such a channel would be paid for in 28 months by electricity users if rates were reduced to those of the Tennessee valley area.

Burdick estimated the yearly electric savings by states as follows: Kansas, $9,170,000; Iowa, $12,480,000; Minnesota, $14,460,000; Missouri, $21,968,000; North Dakota, $2,184,000; South Dakota, $2,480,000; Nebraska, $7,150,000; Montana-Utah, $6,548,000.

Burdick said substitution of cheap water transportation would bring great savings to shippers.

See the goods you buy. Catalog descriptions are flowery enough, but how about the goods when you get them?

PAUL WENDEL IS ISOLATED

Trenton, N. J.—Paul H. Wendel, held in the Mercer county jail on a charge of murdering Charles A. Lindbergh, jr., was isolated in a hospital wing. Sheriff Herbert W. Bradley said Wendel was transferred from the east wing of the jail, where there are many prisoners, to the hospital wing so he would be where it was more private. Wendel, who said he was abducted in Brooklyn, and forced to confess the Lindbergh kidnap-murder, has identified photographs of two men he said were participants in the abduction. Investigators were reported inclined to believe their conversations with Wendel might be overheard by other prisoners and related by them to visitors. The Mercer county grand jury, which is investigating the Wendel case, will meet Tuesday and Wednesday.

INJURED DOG RECOVERING

Fairbury, Neb.—Duke, large St. Bernard dog, stabbed while playing with a little dog in front of a Fairbury drug store Tuesday, was reported by his master, Frank M. Rain, as out of danger Saturday. He is still under the care of a veterinarian, however, and a tube is draining from the four inch knife wound in his neck to prevent infection.

Duke's assailant, a man who inflicted the wound with his pocket knife, received the maximum penalty of $50 and costs for cruelty to animals. Unable to pay, he was committed to the county jail to serve out the fine. He likely will remain for twenty days. Although only two years old, Duke is a town favorite with all the children. He was the mascot at the Fairbury-Grand Island football game last fall, and is a frequent visitor at the school playgrounds.

MANY DIESELS ORDERED

La Grange, Ill.—L. H. Hamilton, president of the Electro-Motive corporation, said the La Grange plant faced $3,500,000 in orders for diesel powered railroad locomotives and had been placed on a full production schedule. Work on the plant was started March 27, 1935. It was designed to turn out passengers and freight locomotives which run 100 miles per hour on electricity generated by the operation of diesel engines. Officials of the company described the La Grange plant as the first in the world devoted exclusively to the production of such locomotives.

IS OPTIMISTIC OVER CROPS

Omaha.—President Budd of the Burlington said here there are "indications" that Nebraska is entering a "more normal weather and crop period."

"And that," he added, "is just about the most optimistic thing on the horizon now, I believe. By the law of averages we should be coming into a period of normal precipitation again. The territory we serve in eastern Nebraska and Kansas appears to be in fine condition. Reports indicate there will be much nearer normal crop yields in this territory this year."
