City Council Reorganizes for Coming Year

Present Staff of Officials Named to Carry on the Work of City Last Evening.

From Tuesday's Daily: The city council had a double header last evening when the old council spent some time in the discussion of the city tax property and the legal status of several of these cases, as well as the parking on Vine street near the Coronado apartment. The new council organized later and started out a new year of work.

There was a full attendance of the councilmen as well as a number of high school students and citizens present when the meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by Mayor Lushinsky.

A communication was received from a group of the residents on South 9th street asking for the location of a hydrant on that street, west of the Columbian school. This was referred to the fire and water committee, altho Mayor Lushinsky warned that the city had already 101 hydrants that cost $50 per year to maintain and that the cost at this time was such that he did not think it advisable to create additional expense.

Police Judge Charles L. Graves reported for the week of April 16th there had been one arrest and fines and costs of $7.25, for the week of April 22nd five arrests and no cash collected.

Chairman Puls of the judiciary committee asked for more time on the preparation of the ordinance for the government of the cemetery. This was granted and Mayor Lushinsky stated that the ordinance proposed the creation of a board composed of persons not members of the council, who would have the work of administering and carrying on the conduct of the cemetery in every way, hiring their employees and collecting and disbursing the funds and making a yearly report to the council. There would be no more cemetery committee of the city council, he stated.

Councilman Webb of the claims committee took up the matter of the city tax title property, stating that a group of boys provided by Superintendent Devoe had been used in cleaning up the Smith lots on South 3rd street. The committee was authorized to have the excavations of the lots filled up.

The status of several of the places owned by the city was discussed by Mr. Webb and it was voted to have the rear and one side of the Peterson building stuccoed by Roy Taylor in return for the rental of the building, the city to furnish the material.

There was more or less discussion of the matter of the appeals of the city in the cases involving tax title property of John Bauer and the Standard Savings & Loan association and in these matters the council decided to perfect their appeal. In the Bauer case Mr. Webb stated that the matter might be settled without further litigation, but in the building and loan case he favored the appeal owing to the principle involved.

Chairman Tippens of the streets, alleys and bridges committee, stated that the work ordered at the previous session of the council had been looked after and cared for.

The matter of the parking regulation on Vine street was brought up by a group of the residents of the Coronado apartment, who objected to the marking as making it impossible for them to park there satisfactorily. In this George Jaeger, Mrs. J. A. Donelan and E. J. Delaney, the owner of the apartment were all heard. Mayor Lushinsky suggested that to relieve the condition of the heavy parking in that section that the lot to the rear of the old Plattsmouth hotel be arranged by the city and placed as the disposal of the residents of the apartment and relieve the congestion on Vine street. The matter of the original resolution was taken up and allowed to stand as it is, the mayor promising that the matter would be taken up later when the new traffic ordinance is to be considered. Councilman Tippens sought to have the record on the resolution changed but this was ruled out.

The application of George Conis for an on and off sale beer license was received and with the approval of the council was sent to Lincoln to the state liquor commission for the license.

The lighting committee through Chairman Palmer recommended that no action be taken in the matter of changing a light in the south part of the city. The residents there could not agree on where the light was desired and accordingly it will remain where it is.

Chairman Bester of the WPA committee reported that the repaving work on North Sixth street was getting along nicely, but that the property owners in the two blocks were not getting lined up on the sidewalk proposition as had been hoped, holding up this work which could now be performed with WPA labor at only the material cost to the owner. The city clerk was also notified to see the property owners that had not as yet paid their pledges on the paving.

The members of the council then approved the bonds of the officers elected at the spring election and then adjourned as the new council came forward to be sworn in.

The Second Round

Mayor Lushinsky administered the oath of office to City Clerk Albert Olson, City Treasurer M. D. Brown, Police Judge C. L. Graves and Councilmen Webb, Hall, Rebal, Schutz and Brittain. George Hall of the second ward being the only new official to be sworn in.

The new council was then organized by the naming of E. A. Webb of the first ward as the president of the city council for the next year, by a unanimous vote.

Mayor Lushinsky took a few moments to thank Don Seiver, retiring councilman from the second ward for his services in the past two years and the fine co-operation that all of the members had shown in working for the best interests of the city. Mr. Seiver responded by stating that he had enjoyed his service and found the associations very pleasant in the two years that he had served.

The matter of the appointment of a number of the city officials was then taken up and Mayor Lushinsky presented the name of J. Howard Davis for city attorney, this being confirmed unanimously.

Dr. L. S. Pucelik, city physician, was approved by the unanimous vote of the city council.

Mayor Lushinsky presented the name of Joseph Libershal as chief of police and which was confirmed by the unanimous vote of the council. For the position of assistant chief, the mayor named David Pickrel, present member of the force and who received the unanimous vote of the council.

For merchants police, Roy Stewart, present officer was presented for confirmation by a vote of eight to two, Councilmen Vroman and Brittain voting no.

The matter of the park board appointments was laid over to a later date.

Mayor Lushinsky then read the list of the committees of the council, the first named being the chairman of the committee:

Finance—Bester, Webb, Puls.
Judiciary—Puls, Webb, Vroman.
Fire and Water—Schutz, Hall, Bester.
Claims—Webb, Vroman, Rebal.
License—Rebal, Tippens, Schutz.
Streets, Alleys and Bridges—Tippens, Hall, Puls.

Police—Vroman, Brittain, Palmer.
Lighting—Palmer, Bester, Rebal.
Parks and Improvements—Brittain, Schutz, Palmer.

Mayor Lushinsky announced that it was expected to add a city planning committee later to the council, the old cemetery committee being dropped under the new plans for a cemetery board.

Mayor Lushinsky urged that the members of the police force be courteous and at the same time firm in dealing with the public. As the head of the police department he was responsible for the police and urged that they give all possible co-operation.

Heavy Hail and Rain Storm Over South of County

Vicinity of Nehawka, Union and Elmwood Visited by Heavy Down-pour Tuesday Afternoon.

The southern portion of Cass county was swept by a very heavy rain and hail storm Tuesday afternoon, the rain bringing a much needed moisture to the farms and gardens, altho some hail damage is reported.

The storm was very heavy near Elmwood where the mixed rain and hail fell in sheets and the dense clouds made the day turn into dusk that required the use of lights on cars as the motorists raced for shelter in the downpour. In several places debris was washed over paving and gravel by the force of the water sweeping along the roadsides.

In Nehawka there was reported hail damage from broken windows as the storm lashed by a stiff wind drove the hail and a number of business houses suffered the loss of windows. Some wheat and early flowers were reported as being damaged in that vicinity as they were beaten into the ground by the hail.

In Union and vicinity the hail was unusually heavy and many reported finding hailstones as large as small eggs lying on the fields and roads to a considerable depth as the storm ceased. On some sections of highway No. 75, it was necessary to have the paving cleared of debris that had washed on there by the heavy rain.

It was expected that the crop damage from hail would not be great as the wheat is expected to recover from the pounding.

In this vicinity and in the city only a light rain fell that was very helpful to the gardens that have suffered from lack of moisture and here the hail storm seemed to have skipped, altho in the late afternoon the heavy clouds protended a heavy storm that however failed to strike here.

The storm seemed heaviest over the southern portion of the state from the Missouri river west, gradually losing its force as it progressed north through the state.

Reports from Lincoln state that $3,000 damage was done by hail to the buildings at the Burlington shops at Havelock, altho little hail was experienced in the main part of Lincoln.

Reports received here this morning state that twenty-eight windows were broken in the Murdock high school building during the storm.

Hail in some sections of the central part of the county are reported to the depth of six inches on the level.
