Greenwood

Mrs. Harold Mason was a Lincoln visitor Thursday.

E. F. Smith was in Ashland Wednesday on business.

Madeline Smith and Lucile Bauers were in Lincoln Thursday.

Work on the new school building is progressing very nicely.

J. E. Gribble's mother, Mrs. Edith Gribble, of Seward, is visiting here this week.

Mrs. G. W. Holt was a Lincoln visitor last Thursday, making the trip via bus.

Lottie Rosencrans, of Plattsmouth, was transacting business in Greenwood Thursday.

Mother Axmaker has returned home from a month's visit at the E. M. Church home on Omaha.

Urban Kyles and wife, of Lincoln, attended the commencement exercises here Thursday night.

G. W. Holt and wife motored to Fairbury last week end. Walter reports conditions very good in that vicinity.

Louis and Henry Meyers, accompanied by Arthur Wiedeman, made a business trip to Nebraska City last Thursday.

Robert Matthews has disposed of his wrecker to a motor company at Ashland. He is closing his garage here Saturday.

The C. B. & Q. has the new switch here completed and has started laying new 112 pound rails from Greenwood to Waverly.

School is out for this term and the children are entering on their vacation period most joyfully. There was a picnic Friday to wind up the year.

Virginia Newkirk is in Murdock this week at Dr. Lees while the Doctor and Mrs. Lee are attending a medical convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

Fred W. Eltheredge has been suffering for the past two weeks from a very grievous attack of shingles which has made it difficult for him to get his work done as mail messenger.

The dance sponsored by Everett Reece and Ramon Newkirk was well attended. A number of young folks were present from Alvo, Ashland and Lincoln. Music was furnished by a girls' dance band, of Lincoln.

The first of regular free moving picture shows on Wednesday nights was well attended last week, more than 200 being present. The new talking picture equipment of Ramon Newkirk certainly does a first class job of entertaining the audience.

J. J. Ellwood, our genial school traffic cop, whose duty it is to guide the children safely over two dangerous rail and auto crossings on their way to and from school, can take it easy until school starts again this

District Degree of Honor Convention Thursday

Large Number of Ladies From Lodges in Eastern Nebraska are Here for Sessions.

The district convention of the Degree of Honor was held on Thursday afternoon and evening at the Knights of Columbus hall in this city and brought over 200 of the members from this section of the state to participate in the sessions.

The convention opened at 1:30 in the afternoon and the address of welcome was given by Mrs. Nannie Burkle of this city, a past president of the order, to which the response was given by Florence D. Owen, grand president of the D. of H.

In the afternoon session there were two very interesting talks given, one by Lena Herre, state juvenile organizer of the order who discussed the junior work, and Miss Teresa Hemple, grand secretary, who talked on the rates of insurance.

The juvenile work was also showed during the afternoon and was followed with much interest by the members.

Evening Session

In the evening session the drill team of Omaha lodge No. 2, under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Thurion, state captain, gave a drill and instructed new members in the work of the drill and initiation. This is the team that won first prize at the national convention held in St. Paul.

In the evening a short program was given in addition to the regular business. Betty Haight, of Omaha, giving a vocal number, Jimmie Sandin, a reading, Irene and Junior Lahota in a tap dance and the Knickerbocker quartet in several fine numbers.

The evening was closed with the serving of punch and wafers.

State officers who were here for the sessions were Florence D. Owen, grand president, of York; Teresa Hemple, grand secretary, Plattsmouth; Lena Herre, juvenile director, Fremont; Erma Jensen, past grand president, Fairfield.

MAY DAY PARTY

Following the regular meeting of Chapter P. E. O. Friday afternoon a May Fete was held on the beautiful lawn of Dr. and Mrs. P. T. Heineman. Baskets of yellow and white flowers, the P. E. O. colors, against the shrubbery formed the setting for the throne.

Harriet Goos heralded the coming of the queen by singing "A May Morning." The procession followed a piano and flute duet played by Mrs. Pearl Cole and Mrs. Olga Wiles. The attendants, attired in gowns of lovely pastel shades, followed by six little flower girls, dressed in yellow and white and carrying yellow baskets of white daisies preceded the crown bearer, maid-of-honor and queen. After the queen, Mrs. Marjory Lohnes, gowned in white satin and gold, reached the throne she was approached by the tiny crown bearer, Clementine Woster, and was crowned by the maid of honor, Mrs. Alice Woster, both in pale blue organdy. The attendants were Eleanor Minor, Harriet Goos, Rachel Robertson, Mary Katherine and Elizabeth Wiles.

The flower girls, Elizabeth Davis, Marjory Devoe, Elizabeth Perry, Eloise Cole, Margaret Heineman and Mary Margaret Cole, wound the Maypole with its yellow and white streams following the coronation. The subjects of the queen were then invited by the hostess to partake of the dainties of the tea table.

CLUB HOLDS SHOWER

From Friday's Daily
Last evening the members of the sewing club of which Miss Helen Koubek has been a member, was entertained at the home of Misses Mary and Eleanor Swatek where a most delightful time was enjoyed by all of the party.

The home was arranged in a color scheme of pink and white, carried out in the floral decorations and in the clever arrangements for the gift presentation.

The evening was spent in the plying of the busy needles as well as a very pleasant visit among the members until an appropriate hour when the guest of honor was requested to open the gifts that had been presented by the club friends.

The evening was closed by the serving of refreshments and the well wishes to the bride-to-be.

Those attending were Rose Janda, Mrs. Ernest Janda, Mary and Eleanor Swatek, Anna Zitka, Lorene Urish, Dorothy Srobooda, Lillian and Antonette Koubek and the guest of honor, Miss Helen Koubek.

Proof that the Blue Grass country is noted for something more than its fast horses was evident in selection of Miss Lillian Holmes of Lexington, Ky., as May Queen at University of Kentucky.

Auxiliary Ladies to Aid Decoration Day

American Legion Auxiliary to Take Up Task of Flaging All Graves of Soldier, Sailor Dead.

The American Legion Auxiliary met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry G. Soennichsen on high school hill, a very pleasing number being in attendance and a great deal of interest shown in the business session. Mrs. H. L. Gayer, Mrs. Fred Hebrster and Mrs. L. S. Devoe were the associate hostesses.

The Auxiliary voted to take up the work of flagging the graves of all of the soldier and sailor dead as well as the members of the W. R. C. and Auxiliary. For fifty years the ladies of the W. R. C. each year have flagged the graves of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. dead, but time has taken its toll of their membership so that but few are left for the task and accordingly the Legion ladies with the W. R. C. members able to be out, will carry on the work. The Auxiliary committee is headed by Mrs. R. B. Will as chairman.

It was voted to have Saturday, May 23rd, as Poppy day in this city when the memorial poppies will be sold by the Auxiliary members and their families as well as the Boy Scouts.

The program of the day embraced a discussion of "Child Welfare" and which was made very interesting with talks by Mrs. Edgar Creamer and Mrs. James B. Farnham. Other features on the program were piano numbers by James Mauzy, Jr., a vocal selection by Billie Knorr and a very clever reading by James Sandin, youthful entertainer.

The Auxiliary also voted to hold a picnic in conjunction with the Legion within the next two weeks, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. James B. Farnham and family who are leaving for Lincoln to make their home.

LOOK OVER CAMP HERE

John McPherson, of Omaha, who is director of the various transient camps in the state, including those at Chadron, Carter Lake and this city, was here Friday to spend the day at the camp and also conferring with local authorities.

The camp authorities have had more or less trouble with a group of the residents and it has been found necessary to have several fired out of the camp and others who have been causing trouble here in the city and got themselves in the hands of the law, have also been taken care of.

Mr. McPherson was of the opinion that a large number of the men here would probably be transferred west to Chadron where there are more forestry projects to be taken care of, making possible that the camp here might be discontinued in the near future unless some active projects are started in this section.

Psst! Son, Know What? Fishing Season Is On!
And 12,000,000 Izaak Waltons Are Engaging in the Sport

Nice going, son.
Women are enthusiasts, too.
Reel away, gentlemen.
Now you tell one!

By WALTER L. JOHNS
International Illustrated News
Feature Writer
NEW YORK—Hey, you anglers, the season is on! As if you didn't know it.

Yes, the fishing season is in full swing. Here, there and everywhere contemporary Izaak Waltons are hanging on the edges of river banks, dropping their lines into the water and say, are the fish stories piling up. You're telling me!

America may be a meat-eating country and probably the last on the list in fish consumption per capita, but when it comes to sport, fishing is one of the most popular in America. Surely you wouldn't say 6,000,000 Americans could be wrong. That's the figure the U. S. government puts on those taking out fishing licenses, annually. It is probable, also, that a similar number indulge in fishing in the lakes, rivers and oceans without a license. There you are, one-fourth the adult population of the United States! Surely they couldn't be wrong.

Holidays for Season's Opening
To show you how fishing is regarded in this country, we cite two examples from different sections of the country of how fishing has a place in community life. At Seymour, Tex., an official holiday was declared by the mayor for the opening of the fishing season at Lake

Wey. William Lightower of Oregon City, Ore., fell into the Sandy river and came up with his pockets full of smelt. Perhaps he just illustrating how easy it is to catch smelt when the funny tribe makes its annual spring run.

Famous Film Family at Home

Mr. and Mrs. Franchot Tone

The title once enjoyed by Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, who were recognized as "the first family of filmdom", appears slated to become attached to Mr. and Mrs. Franchot Tone, whom Hollywood points out as one of its happiest couples since Joan Crawford, the former wife of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Tone middle-aided it.
