Popular Young People Wedded in Church Ceremony

Miss Helen Koubek and Mr. John V. Svoboda Married at Holy Rosary Church at 8:30 Today.

From Wednesday's Daily

This morning at 8:30 o'clock at the Holy Rosary church of this city, two of the well known people of this community, Miss Helen Koubek and Mr. John V. Svoboda were united in marriage by the Rev. J. J. Kaczmarek, pastor of this parish, who performed the double ring service.

The bridal party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Dorothy Svoboda, sister of the groom, who also played beautifully during the mass.

The bride was dressed in an all over embroidered lace gown fashioned completely of ruffles with which she wore a veil, the cap shape head-dress surrounded by tiny pearls being held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of Angela roses and Lilies of the Valley.

The bride was attended by her two sisters, Lillian and Antonette, they being dressed exactly alike in dresses of mousseline-de-soie in pink and blue respectively and wearing crepe hats of matching color. They carried arm bouquets of pink Columbian roses and forget-me-nots.

The groom was attended by his brother, Theodore Svoboda. Both the groom and best-man were attired in the conventional dark suits.

During the mass, Miss Ruth Janda, cousin of the groom, sang several very fitting numbers which added to the impressiveness of the ceremony.

After a short honeymoon to Denver the newlyweds will live at 1501 Vine street in the home which the groom has purchased and where they will be at home to their friends.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph J. Koubek of this city, where she has grown to womanhood and received her education in the Plattsmouth schools, later attending Peru State Teachers college, at Peru, Nebraska. She has been employed in the offices of the Norfolk Packing company.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Hermie Svoboda of this city and has also received his education in the Plattsmouth schools. He is at the present time employed as clerk in the Plattsmouth State bank.

The many friends of this estimable couple join in wishing them much success and happiness in the years to come.

A wedding dinner was served by Mrs. A. J. Koubek, mother of the bride, who was assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank Koubek, Mrs. Joe Wooster and Mrs. Hermie Svoboda, mother of the groom.

The color scheme of pink and blue was carried out in the table decorations, the huge wedding cake which was made by the sisters of the bride.

Blind Students Present Program at the Rotary

Students From Nebraska School with Superintendent N. C. Abbott, Give Interesting Facts.

A program that was unusually interesting was made a feature of the Rotary club luncheon on Tuesday, when Superintendent Ned C. Abbott of the Nebraska School for the Blind, with two students, Ewald Warnsholtz and Charles Borden, came up from Nebraska City to give a demonstration of their work.

The meeting was under the leadership of Fred I. Rea who presented Mr. Abbott, himself a veteran Rotarian, to the club and who in turn presented the two young men who have been trained at the school to overcome the handicap that has been their lot.

The story of their training, their impressions of the schooling and the growth of their education was presented through a series of questions by Mr. Abbott as to their reactions and the answers by the students which were absorbingly interesting to the club as opening a vision of a field of educational work in which they had learned but little, but which in the answers of the students showed the splendid service that is being given in Nebraska by the state school for the blind.

The Braille alphabet was explained by Mr. Abbott and the students and the two young men gave a very interesting demonstration of the reading and writing of the Braille system. One very interesting demonstration was the writing of a message by one of the young men from dictation by Mr. Abbott and which was rapidly read off by the other student.

Charles Borden, who comes from the west part of Nebraska, has been a student at Nebraska City for the past twelve years while Ewald Warnsholtz, whose home is at Garland, Nebraska, has been a student at the school for the past eight years.

The members of the club also had interesting reports of the district conference which has just closed at Aberdeen, South Dakota, these being given by Frank A. Cloidt and Searl S. Davis, who represented the local club at the meeting.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS ENTERTAIN

From Wednesday's Daily

Last evening the members of the local Bethel of Job's Daughters were hostesses at a most delightful 6:30 dinner at the Masonic building. The girls had planned the event in honor of the mothers and the dads also were invited in to enjoy the delightful occasion.

The dining room was artistically arranged in the color scheme of purple and white, the stately stocks being used as the decorative features and which made a very pretty setting. There were some seventy-one to enjoy the dinner party. The group singing was led by Mrs. J. R. Reeder.

After the dinner the members adjourned to the Bethel where the officers of the Bethel conducted their regular work in a very impressive manner, and here Miss Alice Jane Hirz, queen, presented the parents with a rose as a token of love from the members of the group.

The occasion was one that all will long remember with pleasure and reflected the greatest credit on the girls of the order and their officers and guardian in arranging the delightful event.

Calling Roosters from Farmyards of Cass County

Merchants and Produce Dealers Co-operating to Pay Premium Price Next Three Days

Friday, Saturday and Monday will be Rooster-Booster Days in Plattsmouth. On these three days, not only will roosters command a premium price, but those who sell their roosters and others in search of bargains will be able to find them a plenty.

In this first big co-operative trade event of the present year participated in by the Plattsmouth Business Men's Ad club, the price of roosters delivered to local produce dealers will be several cents higher than the current market quotations which began falling rapidly as the end of the season draws near. With a good market outlet for unlimited quantities and the co-operation of local business houses, which are absorbing part of the premium price, it has been possible to pay more for roosters this year than in any of the former Rooster-Booster days of past years.

There are more firms co-operating and more interest taken in the project than ever before. The poultry dealers in co-operation with the Ad club are exerting themselves to pay the extra bonus price. This is the logical time to cash in on those old roosters.

The premium price will be paid in trading scrip, redeemable 100 cents on the dollar at nearly two score business houses of the city. Besides this saving, merchants are offering outstanding values in seasonable merchandise.

You will find in each co-operating store a big rooster in the window, at which you may buy the special bargains offered, with your rooster scrip at 100c on the dollar. A prize will be offered by each store for the one guessing nearest to the weight of the largest load of roosters brought to Plattsmouth during Rooster-Booster days, Friday, Saturday and Monday, May 22, 23 and 25. There will also be a $2 prize given to the person coming the longest distance and for the person bringing the largest rooster to town. These prizes payable in scrip.

Rooster-Booster Days have come to be a traditional "institution" in Plattsmouth. For the past several years, produce dealers and merchants have joined hands in a co-operative effort to give the farmer more for his roosters than he could realize anywhere else. Not only will a high price prevail for roosters these days, but local dealers will be found paying top-notch cash prices for other poultry and farm produce, including eggs and cream.

"See it before you buy it."

The baccalaureate services of the class of 1936 of the Plattsmouth high school was held Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian church where a large congregation of the relatives and friends of the class had gathered to enjoy the fine service that had been arranged.

The Rev. Canon W. J. H. Pettey of the St. Luke's Episcopal church presided and as the processional march was sounded the members of the class entered the church to occupy the seats at the front that had been reserved for them.

Taking part in the services were representatives of the protestant churches of the city, the invocation being offered by the Rev. R. F. Allen of the First Christian church, the responsive reading by the Rev. G. A. Pahl of the St. Paul's Evangelical church, the scripture reading by Rev. H. A. McKelvey of the United Brethren church of Mynard and the prayer by Rev. V. C. Wright of the First Methodist church.

The choir of the church had arranged a very beautiful anthem for this service, "Holy Art Thou," with the hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers" as a fitting touch of the impressive service.

The ladies quartet, composed of Mrs. J. R. Reeder, Miss Dorothy Downey, Mrs. Carl Keil and Miss Miriam Tritsch, gave a very beautiful selection, "Content."

Dr. H. G. McClusky gave the class sermon from the subject, "The Key to Knowledge," in which he carried a real message to the young men and women who are leaving their high school life to take up their activities in other lines and to prepare their future lives. He urged the necessity and the force of the Christian teachings in the life of the man and woman if they are to attain the true measurement of success. The address was one of the best that has been given in the graduating services and will long be remembered by the young people of the class.

CAR IS OVERTURNED

Motorists on highway No. 75 south of this city Sunday reported a car bearing an Omaha license, was being driven in a very reckless manner, the driver apparently having trouble to control the car and zigzagging from one side of the pavement to the other, endangering the other cars and their occupants. The car made a final swing that caused it to turn over as it ran into a field near the Alvin Range farm and rolled on its side. Several motorists passed and the car was finally righted and the occupants were able to be on their way. The driver of the car had apparently been drinking as when they were extricated from the car a bottle was thrown away by the driver of the machine.
